John Charles Thomas in Winnetka Oct. 22

The varied career of John Charles Thomas reveals a continuous succession of artistic triumphs and notable achievements in the several fields of musical art which is without parallel, and today, this native American baritone stands preeminent among the greatest singers of the world.

Because of the widespread demand for the recitals of this popular artist, and his own great interest in the wealth of the concert repertoire, Mr. Thomas will again make a transcontinental tour during the 1933-'34 season and it has been the good fortune of the Winnetka Music Club to secure him for the evening of Oct. 22.

All subscribers to this annual series of artist recitals are looking forward to Mr. Thomas' recital as a high light of the east—to hear him once is to hear him every opportunity.

Subscription tickets are still available by applying to Mrs. Bessie Lunt, Winnetka State Bank, and single tickets for this recital, and the others of the series may be procured, as long as they last, but there is limited number as most of seats are taken by bank subscribers. There are to be five concerts by world famous artists.
