Highland Park Man Is Killed At Lake Bluff Last Monday Evening

John Carona, 55 years old, of 129 N. Second Street, Highland Park, was killed almost instantly shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night, when he was hit by a "hit and run" auto as he walked north on Sheridan Road on his way to Waukegan. The fatal accident occurred in Lake Bluff about two blocks south of Sheridan Place.

Chief of Police Eugene Spaid of Lake Bluff said that as far as he has been able to learn there were no witnesses to the accident and that police are without a lead that might bring identification of the motorist.

Mr. Carona was found a short time after he was struck, as he lay unconscious on the roadside. He was rushed to the Alice Home Hospital in Lake Forest but was dead upon arrival.

The body of the man, who was unemployed, was removed to the Waukegan Funeral Home in Lake Forest, where an inquest was held Tuesday afternoon.

All-Day Meeting At Woman's Club To Be Held Tuesday, Nov. 6

The Highland Park Woman's Club wishes to call the attention of the members to the all-day meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

At 11 a.m. the Garden Clubs will hold an open meeting at the club house. At this time Robert T. Van Tress of the Garfield Park Conservatory will speak on the subject of "Noteworthy Trees, Shrubs and Perennials for the Chicago Area."

At 12 o'clock luncheon will be served by the Social Service department under the auspices of the Home and Education department with Mrs. Leonard Keaster in charge.

At 2 p.m. the regular club meeting will be held. After brief reports and announcements Dr. Percy Boynton will speak on "Books of the Year."

Professor Boynton is professor of English at the University of Chicago and works in the special field of American literature. During his long residence at the university he has been instrumental in building up a wide set of courses and the largest library in American Literature west of the Alleghenies, with the natural result that he and his associates have become one of the leading centers for study and research in his subject.

Professor Boynton has written histories of American Literature for school and college use and compiled accompanying books of selected readings. In recent years he has focused largely on contemporary literature and has published four volumes of criticism.

Aside from more scholastic work, Mr. Boynton has become known to an increasing number of radio listeners in connection with courses broadcast from the classroom, and during the past two winters with the Sunday afternoon Round Table discussions on contemporary affairs, in which he has been the leading participant.

Opening Lecture By Clifton Utley Nov. 6 at Parish Guild Hall

To quote from an article in one of the leading Chicago daily papers during the past week, "The fall frenzy for knowledge of what is going on in the world is now nearing its peak. For several weeks, meetings of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations have barely escaped being mobbed by members thirsting for information."

In line with this universally increasing interest manifested by practically every one in all world affairs today, will be the talks on alternate Tuesday evenings, beginning Nov. 6, at 8:30 o'clock, by Clifton Utley, who is director of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, editor of "Foreign Notes," and a lecturer of considerable note. He will discuss current events, national and international. These talks are being sponsored by the Rector's Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church, and will be given at the parish house guild hall on Laurel avenue.

Reports of the committee in charge are to the effect that a keenly interested group will meet with Mr. Utley. The opportunity of hearing someone who is an acknowledged authority on affairs of the day has apparently made its appeal to the thinking men and women of Highland Park and other North Shore suburbs, as a goodly number have already availed themselves of season tickets and others, unable to attend all four lectures, have asked the privilege of obtaining single admissions.

Mrs. Julian Smith is president of the Rector's Guild, and Mrs. H. L. Wessel is chairman of the course.

As stated in previous announcements these lectures are open to the public at a nominal sum.

For further information or tickets, phone any member of the following committee: general chairman, Mrs. H. L. Wessel, H.P. 3929; ticket chairman, Mrs. John G. Mathias, H. P. 3114; Mrs. Clarence A. Parliament, 1594; Mrs. Alfred S. Trude Jr., 2992; Mrs. Harry J. Van Arnum, 4047; Mrs. P. M. Murray, 2687; Mrs. Harold L. Brown, Deerfield 438.

Tickets are also on sale at Smith's Dry Good store, on South St. Johns avenue.—Contributed.

ACTIVITIES OF THE Y.W.C.A. EXPLAINED

Local Association Organized 23 Years Ago; Fall Program Given

Today, in almost every community of any size in the United States, there is a Blue Triangle on Main Street or so close to that location that no girl or woman can help seeing it. What is it back of these symbols which gives them meaning and binds the several parts of the world into one whole or general understanding?

The Blue Triangle came to Main Street because an influential group of women were interested in girls and felt that girls and women needed these special opportunities for character development which this organization (the Y. W. C. A.) brings with it.

There are two parts to every association. One part you see—the buildings, the members, the activities, the board. The second part, the work with the individual with some of its home problems, working conditions, love, business and child problems.

The Y.W.C.A. has a legislative program which includes, minimum wage; limitation of hours of work; ratification of Child Labor amendment (carried in Illinois, June 1933) employment insurance; health and sickness insurance; old age pensions; liquor control.

This legislative program is handled by the public affairs committee who represent our Y.W.C.A.

The Highland Park Y.W.C.A. was organized 23 years ago. The local programs have been and are the developments of the particular need and requests in the community. This fall's program is so diversified it may meet the need of all. The parking of cars and bicycles, the coming and going of both children and adults, is proof of "it's a busy place; what are they doing?"

Here's the answer: The social education program for children includes: A symphony orchestra conducted by Charles Tysar. Creative dramatics under the direction of Katharine Imig. A tap dancing class instructed by Agnes Daly. Ballet, acrobatic tap and modern German classes under the direction of Miss O'Neil of the Abbott School of Dance in Chicago.

Another class is being organized, to begin Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7, under the direction of Geraldine L. Metzler.

Besides these classes there are two grade clubs, one for 5th and 6th grade girls and other for 7th and 8th grade, which meet each week at the Y.W.C.A. These clubs are under the leadership of Ethel Skidmore. The membership of both clubs are open to all girls of these grades.

The Y.W.C.A. not only offers a program to children but the following classes and clubs are offered to adults:

Miss O'Neil offers a morning class in limbering, stretching and musical comedy for ladies.

Mrs. Maxine C. Miner has a contract bridge class on Wednesday evening for both men and women.

Beginning on Monday, Nov. 12, a 14 weeks combination tap and gymnasium class will be offered.

Beginning Thursday, Nov. 8, at 2:30 o'clock Helen Keith Sadler, physical culturist from the Highland Park Health Studio on North Sheridan Road, offers a 10 weeks course in calisthenics and systematic building at a nominal fee.

Night classes in public speaking under the able direction of Katharine Imig is offered. These classes will begin Wednesday evening, Nov. 7.

Further information will be gladly given on any of the above classes by calling H. P. 675.

On Dec. 6 and 7, the Highland Park Presbyterian Church will be the scene of a "merry-go-round" or Christmas festival, where there will be fun for old and young.

The Ladies Aid will have their "Church Fair" next door. Christmas gifts may be selected there.

Hand made Christmas cards, tallies, fancy blotters, framed prints as well as used books, will attract you when you call at the "Parisian Book Store" on the "left bank."

"Everyone will want to see Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in their shop filled with toys and children's wear. As you leave get a cone at the ice cream bar," we are told.

"After a couple hours shopping a cup of tea served by Tuxis at the Tiny Tea Terrace will be refreshing and you may take a box of home made candy with you when you leave."

"The Colonial Dames will have a fine selection of braided, hooked, and crocheted rugs, effective luncheon sets and other articles on sale."

A "Merry-Go-Round" To Be Held At The Presbyterian Church

FALL ELECTION TUESDAY, NOV. 6

Candidates of 6 Parties Are Campaigning For Offices

Next Tuesday, Nov. 6, is election day. All good citizens are urged to go to the polls that day and cast their ballots for the county, state and congressional candidates whom they believe to be best qualified for the office for which they aspire.

All good citizens are being urged to vote yes on the proposition, to be found on a separate ballot, to call a convention to prepare a revision, alteration or amendments of the constitution of the State of Illinois.

Candidates of six parties appear on the ballot for Tuesday's election, as follows: Republican, Democratic, National Progressive, Prohibition, Socialist Labor and Socialist. Only the Republican and Democratic parties have candidates for county and congressional offices, as well as for state offices.

Candidates for county offices in Lake County are waging one of the most spirited battles in the history of the county, and because of the interest being aroused it is predicted by party leaders that a record vote for an "off-year" election will be cast. The principal battle in the county seems to be for the office of sheriff.

Both major parties are claiming victory. If even one Democrat would be elected to a county office, it would "make history," as the last Democrat to hold a Lake County office completed his term 42 years ago, in 1892.

There were no candidates for county office on the Democratic ticket in Lake County between the years 1908 and 1930, during that period the county being known as the banner Republican district of Illinois. In 1930 the Democrats had a partial ticket in the field, and in that year James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic candidate for United States senator, carried the county over the Republican candidate, Ruth Hanna McCormick, by a vote of 17,037 to 9497.

It was the Lewis victory in Lake County which gave the Democrats a new lease on life, and in 1932 there was a full Democratic county ticket in the field. None of the Democrats was successful, but one lost out by only 212 votes.

In that election Hoover carried the county over Roosevelt by a vote of 23,994 to 21,139, a small victory for a Republican presidential candidate in this county.

Horner won out in Lake County over Small by a vote of 26,667 to 17,990, this victory making history for the Democratic party in this county.

Candidates Presented To Voters In Ravinia

The meeting at the Ravinia Village House at which candidates for state and county offices were to present their qualifications for office, was presided over by the president of the Highland Park League of Women Voters, Mrs. Jay Glidden.

Mrs. Glidden introduced Mrs. Marc Law who spoke briefly on the Illinois Emergency Relief Bond Issue, Harry Sellery, who spoke on the importance of voting "Yes" on the question of calling a constitutional convention to amend the present state constitution, and Mrs. Clarence Balke and Mrs. George Gaidzik, who asked the candidates present to reply to a prepared questionnaire. The replies were clearly stated so as to enable the voters to cast an intelligent vote at the coming election.

Mrs. Glidden asked the members of the audience to spread the news that on Saturday, Nov. 3, from 9 to 4, information booths will be erected at the Walgreen Drug Store corner in Highland Park, and at the Geell Drug Store corner in Ravinia. Sample ballots will be distributed, and the election number of "The Illinois Voter" will be on sale. The Voter contains non partisan information about all of the candidates for election. It is hoped that all citizens will register their vote at the polls election day, Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Ravinia Book Fair To Be Held On Nov. 19-23

The book fair committee is working on the sale to be held Nov. 19-23 at the Ravinia School.

The second in the course of seven programs to be given by Mrs. Lloyd Faxon will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. A. J. Metzger on Sycamore Place.

"It is well to take advantage of these delightful programs at once as there were many regrets last year that the course was over before the realization of what a rare treat it is to have Mrs. Faxon each month." "She has chosen a very interesting story of family life and home folks which is attracting attention at this time, and any women interested are urged to come, and will be very welcome. Course tickets may be shared by several persons, and single tickets may be obtained at the door."
