

Young Mens Club to Play Chicago Tigers Again Next Sunday

secured for this occasion than the Tigers (formerly the Shamrocks), Highland Park's notorious grid rivals of the grand and glorious 1933 season. It is hoped that the weather man will be a little more merciful next Sunday when both teams play off the tie game.

In spite of the weather last Sunday, both teams playing exceedingly well. There were many fumbles and errors which proved costly on both sides. Nevertheless, there were flashes of sparkling play now and then that thrilled the fans to heights of ecstasy. Just what would have happened under more favorable weather conditions and a drier field remains to be seen. Anyhow, it will be well worth the price of an admission to witness the contest next Sunday.

Highland Park got away to a flying start in the game last Sunday scoring a touchdown during the first quarter as a result of a blocked punt by Art Bock. Art neatly blocked a Tiger punt on the Tiger 25-yard line and "Deer" Stipe picked up the ball and went over for a touchdown. Olson converted for the extra point. The Tiger touchdown, also secured during the first quarter, was due solely to the pass catching ability of Condon, the Tiger right end. With Westray throwing, the Tigers made three consecutive first downs and scored when Condon caught the ball in Highland Park's end zone.

Highland Park's second touchdown during the second quarter resulted from a Tiger fumble. Condon tossed a pass to Opack for the score after a series of drives by Patrick and Banas had carried the ball inside the Tiger 5-yard line.

During the third quarter the Tigers resumed their passing attack and scored again on a pass to Condon over the end zone. For the remainder of the game neither team threatened.

Particular mention should be made of the Tiger's star performer, Condon, whose handling of the ball in the heavy rain was spectacular. This man bears watching next Sunday. Foreman, Gansberg, Bodman and Hills played well in the line for Highland Park while Patrick did stellar work in the backfield. Olson's kicking was exceptionally good in the rain but "Oley" does his best on a dry field.

Important! As announced last week the Thanksgiving Day game this year will be played at Evanston between the Highland Park Young Men's Club and the Evanston V.F.W. The game will be played at 11 a.m. in the morning at the Evanston High School field. Final arrangements were completed on Tuesday for the game to be played on Thanksgiving day morning instead of the afternoon as originally announced.

The Evanston team is particularly desirous of securing revenge for the 13-6 defeat handed to them by the local team several weeks ago. According to rumors emanating from Evanston the V.F.W. team is being groomed to win this game above anything else.

Concert Tonight At Bethlehem Church

The Novelty Quintet will present a public concert tonight at Bethlehem Church, Deerfield, at 8 o'clock. A small admission charge will be made and the community is invited.

Personnel of the quintet: Leslie Christensen and Harold Vant, as trombonists; Orin Spalding and Elmer Hecketsweiler, cornetists; and David Stryker, pianist.

Guest artists on the program will be Margaret Esmiz of Highland Park, violinist; Helen Fisher of the Lake Forest College, dramatic reader; Retta Ree Hipsley West of Northbrook, tuba soloist; Peter Grimson of Highland Park, xylophone player; a male quartet of the Highland Park Bethany Church composed of Jacob Hecketsweiler, George Bray, Carl Hansen, and Dr. Earl Fritsch; and Deerfield's radio balladier, Miss Barbara Huehl, soprano soloist.

The proceeds of this variety concert will be used for the purchase of hymnals for the Bethlehem Evangelical Church.

Bethlehem Youths Edit Little Paper

Young people of Bethlehem Evangelical Church, Deerfield, have begun a little newspaper whose initial title is "U-Name-Me." A prize is being offered for the most suitable name.

The staff includes: editor, Dorothy Vetter; business manager, Olive Frantz; publisher, Ruth Giss; special contributors, Clinton Ritter and David Stryker.

The paper contains activities of the church and persons about its members and friends. It also contains a birthday column and those whose names appear in this first edition are Vernon Giss, Clifford Stahger, Edna Fritsch, Mr. and Mrs. John Vetter and Mrs. Peter Perry.

The first issue, dated Nov. 17, 1934 contains three large mimeographed pages of interesting news.

Auxiliary Meets At Mrs. Pottersons, Monday

The regular meeting of the Deerfield American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Potterson on Monday evening, Nov. 19.

The meeting was well attended and many important matters decided upon:

A pledge of $2.50 per month for the educational fund for world war orphans was renewed for another year. The United voted to send two bushels of apples to Dorcas home for Thanksgiving. Each child at Dorcas Home will be remembered with a gift at Christmas time. (The Dumaresq Spencer Unit of Highland Park has always given Deerfield assistance in treats that the unit gives for the whole of Dorcas Home.)

The cigaret fund for veterans in hospital was renewed for another year.

The Junior girls are making plans for an entertainment for the Legion and Auxiliary Christmas party.

A number of the Unit officers attended the district school of instruction held at Waukegan on Tuesday, Nov. 20.

Mrs. Mary Welsh, unit community service chairman, reported the distribution of 201 articles of clothing to needy persons in the community.

The child welfare chairman, Mrs. Erma Haggi reported the giving of two layettes and several diapers which were hemmed by the ladies of the Woman's Club.

A detailed report of the Eighth District meeting was read by the president, Mrs. Gladys Jacobs.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned and refreshments served by the hostess.—Contributed.

Painting by Mrs. Miles Displayed at Picchietti's

A painting displayed in the Picchietti Brothers grocery, on Central Avenue, is attracting much attention in Highland Park.

It is a view of Rio Grande City, Tex., by Mrs. Maude Maple Miles, mother of Mrs. Mildred Miles Roberts, of 347 Central Avenue.

Many admirers of the painting have expressed surprise when told it is an American scene, for it is "typically" Italian, they say. It was painted from a sketch from nature, in the little town on the Rio Grande not far above Brownsville, Tex., in the citrus country.

Central Cleaners and Dyers Will Move Soon

The Central Cleaners and Dyers, of 390 Central Avenue, will move to new, larger quarters next week, at 384 Central Avenue.

The new quarters are three doors east of the present location of the firm.

Holy Name Society to Have Card Party

The Holy Name Society of the St. James parish in Highwood will sponsor a card party Thursday evening, Nov. 22, at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

There will be a door prize given away and in addition everyone will have the opportunity of winning a turkey. Refreshments will be served.

D.A.R. Better Films Committee Review

"Life of Virgie Winters" will be on the screen Thursday, Nov. 22. From a novel by Louis Bromfield. Presented by circumstances from a marriage with the man she loves, a young woman gives a life of devotion and sacrifice to him, accepting an unconventional life rather than hamper his political career. Adults. "Gas Van & His Neighbors," mildly entertaining singing by Gus Van and a common-place burlesque type of Mexican song and dance artist.

"Scrap's Toy Shop," an animated cartoon in which the toys in Scrapy's shop come to life. Not recommended.

"Cat's Paw" with Harold Lloyd and Una Merkel Nov. 23, 24, Friday, Saturday. The trusting son of a missionary in China comes to America and becomes innocently involved with crooked politicians and racketeers. Clever, suspenseful, highly amusing farical situations with hero turning tables on crooks in hilarious, though grim climax. Some strong scare scenes. Family. "Viva Willie," Willie Whopper as the rescuing hero. Inferior.

Saturday matinee only "Burn 'Em Up Barnes" with Frankie Daro. "Crime Without Passion" featuring Claude Rains Nov. 25, 26, Sunday, Monday, "Ben Hecht and Charles Mac Arthur" co-authors of several strongly dramatic screen stories, have written, produced and directed a powerfully absorbing, realistic and somber study of a lawyer who uses his clever brain to champion the guilty and mock accepted social laws, but who is finally undone by his own genius. The brilliant acting of "Rains" supported by a fine cast. The remarkable photography and vigorous direction make this an unusual picture. Adult.

Nov. 27, 28 "The World Moves On" with Madelein Carroll, Franchot Tone. This film suggests "Cavalcade" with an American family as the center. Exceptionally well made, clean and suitable for family.

Nov. 29, 30 Thursday, and Friday "Richest Girl in the World" Miriam Hopkins, Joel McCrea. The heiress to the Hunter millions, fearful that she will be loved for her money alone, tests a young man masquerading as his secretary to prove his worth. A light, frothy and highly improbable story is made charming and delightful by its good cast, expert direction, modern and well-developed interior, fine photography and clever lines. Adults.

Deerfield's Fireproof Vault Is Completed

Work has been completed on the new fireproof vault for the Deerfield village records. The vault has been built on the south side of the Masonic Temple building at the west corner. It has a double fireproof door opening into the village offices in the basement of the Temple. Edv. Segert was the contractor. Concrete and brick work was done by Thib. Toll and his son Walter. The plastering by Sebald Rebling. All are local men.

How much easier our work would be if we put forth as much effort trying to improve the quality of it as most of us do trying to find excuses for not properly attending to it.—George W. Ballinger.
