Highland Park Must Vote Wet or Dry

alcoholic liquor, "any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume."
 It has been stated that the fact that the question is to be put on the ballot, does not necessarily mean that it will be settled, or unless a majority of the people who cast a vote for the mayor and the four commissioners, also vote on the liquor question, the vote would not be valid and the city will be in the position of not having voted at all, which entails a "wet" period of four years.
 However, according to the law on this point a majority of the votes cast on the question will decide the proposition, the provision mentioned being applicable only in the case of a constitutional amendment.
 The vote in April will settle a two-year controversy as to the status of liquor in Highland Park. In April, 1935, when the 3.2 beer was legalized, its sale here was prohibited on the authority of the town's original charter and several arrests were made for its violation.
 In its issue of April 13, 1933, the Highland Park Press reported: Following a week of controversy, and several arrests, over the question of the legality of selling the new "non-intoxicating" 3.2 per cent beer in Highland Park, local residents who want it are having their beverage, but are buying it elsewhere. Beer may be delivered to Highland Park homes by "outside" firms, but may not be sold, legally, in this city.
 However, due to the fact that no municipality was certain as to its rights under the new law, the matter was not pressed and the sale of "3.2" continued. During the first few months of its sale, it was dispensed in bottles only, but in July and August bars began to make their appearance here and have been in operation since.
 Since the repeal of prohibition, Highland Park has been without any regulation whatsoever as to the sale of any sort of alcoholic liquors. In an effort to remedy this situation the City Council in May 1934, proposed an ordinance providing for the licensing of its sale in Highland Park. The ordinance, which was received with a storm of protest provided for the four following licenses: A.—A yearly license of $750 for the sale of liquor by clubs to bona-fide members; B.—A yearly license of $750 for the sale of liquor by package only, in drug stores, grocery stores, etc.; C.—A yearly license of $750 for the sale of liquor in restaurants, hotels, cafes, etc., to be part of a regularly served meal; D.—A yearly license of $7,500 for its sale "in any other manner than prescribed by this ordinance."
 Opponents of the ordinance, including local hotel owners, golf clubs, restaurant owners, etc., declared it to be "prohibitive and confiscatory." As the ordinance was never revised or passed in its original form, Highland Park has since had the sale of beer only under a sort of "honor system," with no license fees accruing to the city treasury for its sale.
 Due to the fact that as the state liquor law forbids prohibitive or confiscatory licenses or regulations, it is pointed out that although the city could put restrictions on them, taverns could not be excluded from Highland Park, in the event that the city voted wet in the coming election.

Auxiliary to Sponsor Oratorical Contest

 The unit will also sponsor the poppy poster contest in the local schools, and a medal award given the winner.
 Mrs. Dunham, rehabilitation chairman, reported the patient's dance given by our unit at the U. S. V. B. hospital No. 105 to be well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. A letter of thanks from the hospital for our assortment of magazines was read.
 The auxiliary clothing room at the Grammar school is open all day Wednesday of each week at which time articles of used clothing may be brought in for redistribution. Many needy families have benefited through this agency.

 Members of the junior group sent valentines to our adopted orphans at Dorcas Home. This group will have its next meeting at the home of Jean and Margaret Crickshank on Forest avenue, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 23.
 As this year of 1936 is the centennial of the first white settlers coming to Deerfield, an informal discussion of this event was held after the close of the business meeting. The history of Deerfield being used as a guide.
 Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Leslie Haggie, during the social hour.

D. A. R. Better Films Committee Review

"Chu Chin Chow," with Anna May Wong" will be shown Thursday, Friday, Feb. 21-22. A musical fantasy with a well developed plot that presents a somewhat different version of the Arabian Nights tale of "Al Baba and the Forty Thieves." It is lavish, colorful and spectacular entertainment, excellently directed and photographed and gives good musical treatment.
 "Pro-Football," the team work of a football eleven is pictured and clever comments are made by Pete Smith. Very good. Family.
 Saturday, Feb. 23 Zane Gray's "Home on the Range." A Zane Gray western melodrama with its entertainment value due more to the fine riding and beautiful mountain scenery than to the mediocre plot of rival racketeers in a western setting. Jackie Coogan makes his screen return in a pleasing manner. For those who like a typical western story. Family.
 "The Spectacle Maker," an old spectacle maker devises an eye glass through which only beauty is seen and a second glass that shows only truths. Charged with black magic, he is saved from death by the King and Queen. Beautiful color photography and enjoyable music. An exceptional subject. Family.
 Saturday Matinee Only "Law of the Wild," serial.
 Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Feb. 24-25-26, Eddie Cantor in "Kid Millions." The usual Cantor extravaganza with closing scenes in technical, good, clean, wholesome fun for everyone with some very charming scenes and tuneful music.
 Wednesday, Thursday, Feb. 27-28, "One Hour Late" with Conrad Nagel, Helen Twelvetrees. Fate, in the garb of a disabled elevator, brings the realization of true love and changes the lives of four well meaning people. A sprightly little comedy which is amusing, interesting and well produced. The cast is good, the direction capable, the plot somewhat different. Helen Twelvetrees shines as a light comedian. Joe Morrison as a radio crooner has a pleasing voice and personality. Family.
