

Local Graduates Have a Chance At U. I. Scholarships

Every one of the 263 students who will be graduated from Deerfield-Shields High School this spring has a chance for a Lake County scholarship in agriculture or home economics at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, if these students wish to continue their schooling at that institution, according to an announcement just received by Principal R. L. Sandwick.

Important changes in the regulations governing these scholarships will need to be observed by those making application this year, it was pointed out.

One scholarship in agriculture and another in home economics is offered annually for every county of the state by the board of trustees of the university. In addition, there is a second type of scholarship on a competitive county basis and a third type which is available through members of the general assembly. Scholarships of the latter two types are good in any college of the university, as well as in agriculture or home economics.

Prospective students must file applications with the Illinois Farmers' Institute in Springfield not later than May 31 if they wish to become applicants for the board of trustees scholarships. One such scholarship in agriculture and another in home economics is offered for each county of the state with the exception of Cook and Lake counties. These two counties are made up of the first ten congressional districts, and for each of these districts there is one scholarship in agriculture and another in home economics.

One of the important changes that has just been made in the regulations is that holders of them must rank in the upper half of their high school graduating class, or if they have completed one year or more of college work, they must have an average 15 points above passing in such work.

Successful applicants for these board of trustees scholarships must pass with an average grade of 70 or higher the county scholarship examination on the first Saturday in June in the county in which they reside. This examination is held in the office of the county superintendent of schools. The highest ranking agricultural and home economics applicant in each county examination, if otherwise eligible, will be awarded the board of trustees scholarship.

One scholarship good for any college of the university also is offered to the highest ranking of all students in each of the county competitive examinations. The winner of this scholarship might be a student who wished to enroll in agriculture or home economics.

Each of the 104 members of the Illinois General Assembly also has a University of Illinois scholarship to be awarded annually to a student of his choice. This might be a student who contemplated enrolling in agriculture or home economics.

All of these scholarships are good for four years and exempt the holder from the payment of the matriculation and incidental fees of the university. They do not exempt the holder from payment of laboratory fees or similar fees for supplies and materials or from the special fees for instruction in applied music.

Further information about the scholarships may be obtained by writing to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Square Deal Party To Give Free Show

Highwoods Square Deal party will give a free show at the Bartlett Theater on Tuesday, April 9. Members of the ticket will address the audience.

Over 150 Highwood women attended the last bunco party given by the ticket at the home of Mrs. Charles Porilia. After the playing, refreshments were served. The Hill Billy orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Members of the Square Deal party addressed the Italian Woman's Club at their last meeting held March 28.

Euterpe Concert Well Received

The Euterpe Mandolinistic Club held its second annual concert Sunday evening in the Deerfield-Shields High School auditorium.

Vocal renditions of Mrs. Bruna Cucchi, Enea Picchiotti and Bob Brakewell were met with approval by an appreciative audience.

Margaret Malpelli and Emil Pietrobelli succeeded in taking the audience from one brilliant scene to another. Richard Bock was master of ceremonies. Dario C. Bonetti was director. Members of the orchestra played like professionals.

The orchestra was composed of the following: First Mandolins—Virginia Parenti, Rosemary Holm, Dante Bonetti, Jim Bartolotti, Robert Olson, second mandolins—Gus Olson, Domenic Belmonte, Valerio Ori, Mary Lucchi; guitars—Rubin Olson, Michael Lamanna, Rocco Stella, Alfonso Burgoni, Delight Herzog, Primo Cabri; banjo—William Lundberg, Peggy Emma Frank Tondi; bass—John ...

The group has been invited to play at schools and auditoriums in neighboring communities in order to stimulate the interest of young people in music, and the educational diversion and pleasure it offers.

New members are welcomed into the organization, we are told. Application for membership should be made to the secretary, Lucille Marinella, 531 Laurel Avenue.

Earl Williams and William Salyards were in charge of the sound improvements and regulations.

Academy Boys Have Entry In Chicago Flower Show

A dining table, six chairs and a complete wood table service will comprise the Lake Forest Academy exhibit at the flower show which opens Saturday, April 6, at the Navy Pier, Chicago. The show, sponsored by the Garden Clubs of Illinois, is an annual affair and attracts much interest along the North Shore. It will remain open for one week.

The Academy's entry, which will be an exhibit in the junior department of set tables, was designed and produced by boys on the school's graphic and manual arts departments.

The table and chairs are of white birch in natural finish. The chairs are upholstered in rough cotton material. The furniture, which is of modern design, is noteworthy because of its extreme practicability, light weight, beauty, and low cost.

The table service includes a full set of six service plates, service bowls, trays and candle sticks, and is done in natural mahogany. The service was designed by members of the graphic arts class and latheworked by members of the manual arts class.

North Shore residents are urged to inspect the exhibit at the flower show.
