LITTLE KNOWN FOOD FACTS

A fairly complete list of canned foods includes 65 varieties of vegetables, 43 of fruit, 37 of fish and shellfish, 29 of meats, 30 of soups, 28 of specialties, and 12 of ready-made entrees—a total of 244.

There are no preservatives used in the packing of canned foods.

The only milk in which "the cream line never varies" is evaporated milk. Cans opened a year or two after they were sealed show the cream distributed as evenly through the milk as the day it was canned.

Capers are the pickled flower buds of the caper shrub.

There are over 500 varieties of apples and 50 kinds of squash.

There are 3,805 canning plants located in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Philippines.

Foods spoil no faster or no slower in the open can than in any other open container.

The per capita consumption of coffee in the United States is about 12½ pounds per year.

Canned foods keep because the food is sealed in air-tight containers that prevent contamination from outside and is heated to such a temperature for such a time as will destroy the bacteria in it that would otherwise cause spoilage.

Mulligatawny soup derives its name from the Hindu word "mulligatawni" meaning "pepper water," and is so called because it is seasoned with pepper and curry powder.

It has been proven by scientific research that an individual is enabled to do more mental work in a given space of time with caffeine than without it, and the increased work is not followed by depression or exhaustion.

Tapioca does not grow in the familiar round shape, but is made that way from tapioca flour which is the ground-up root of the cassava plant.

When Company Comes

When you phone us for Ice Cream and Refreshments don't forget to order some Double-Kay Nuts.

Toasted fresh in real butter, they have a new, delicious flavor—not at all like ordinary salted nuts merely cooked in oil.
