EMPTYING THE MOTORISTS' POCKETBOOK

That vast army of politicians which is always on the hunt for a new way of raising money to spend for this purpose or that, is again turning its attention to the gasoline tax.
 Agitation is under way in California and several other states to boost existing gas tax rates. And the chances are that still more states will be invited to get in the parade. When the tax gatherers see their fellows across a border preparing to cut a nice juicy melon at public expense, they want a slice too.
 It might be well to keep in mind the fact that the automobile owner already bears the largest burden of class, special taxation of any group in the country. In California alone he must pay out $80,000,000 a year—and if the gas tax is raised he will pay $12,000,000 more per year in the future. This would be had enough if the money were used exclusively for road building and other purposes directly benefitting the motorist. But a rising percentage of tax revenues from gas and other automobile levies is going into general state funds, to be used for any and all governmental functions—functions that should be paid for by taxes contributed by all the people, and not by a single class.
 The gas tax shouldn't be increased—instead, it should be reduced. And the public should let the politicians know how it feels about it.

TAXES PILED ON TAXES

For a great many years part of the public has looked with dread to the appearance of Federal income tax day. Individuals and industries were forced to turn into the treasury vast sums that might otherwise have been used for investment, building, and the creation of employment.
 Now the citizens of the country don't face merely one income tax day—millions of them face two and even three. In the city of New York, for example, residents must pay the federal income tax, a state income tax, and finally a municipal income tax. A similar situation is met by the citizens of New Castle county, Delaware, which is now levying a county income tax, in addition to the state and federal taxes, as a means of financing relief expenses.
 The aim of legislatures in these days seems to be to pile as many taxes on top of taxes as a long-suffering public will stand. The upshot is that the tax collector, in many cases, is receiving all the surplus a business or an individual earns. There is no money left for investment, for home construction, for industrial expansion. And the cause of recovery suffers accordingly.
 One wonders how much longer the public's patience will last. America is becoming one of the most tax-ridden nations on earth—and only an aggressive, informed and active public movement against exorbitantly expensive government can save us from eventual tax bankruptcy.

 It is a picture glorifying the American school teacher and depicting the important part the teacher has played in molding the character and lives of the children of the nation. It is especially endorsed by the National Education Association. It will appear to every man, woman and child who ever went to school.

 The picture is presented by the Elm Place School P.T.A. to help defray expenses of the winter ice rink which was such a success during the many weeks of skating.
 Mrs. Frances Knight, chairman, can be reached at H. P. 4242. There will be no increase in prices at the Alcyon for this show.

"Rumba" To Be Shown at Alcyon on Sun. and Mon.

Tonight's feature attraction at the Alcyon is "Wings in the Dark" starring Myrna Loy and Cary Grant.
 Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson entered the forbidden kingdom of claw and fang in the heart of the impassable African jungle by flying in to show "Bamboona," the most recent film. To be presented on Friday and Saturday of this week.
 The year's melodic masterpiece, "Rumba," which features Carole Lombard and George Raft in a revel of romance and rhythm. It will show Sunday and Monday at the Alcyon.
 There will be only one evening, (Tuesday, April 23) in which to see "Carnival." Lee Tracy, Sally Eilers and Jimmy Durante will take you through hilarious adventures of fun and romance.
 Those who attend the Alcyon on Wednesday or Thursday of this week will be assisting the P.T.A. in helping needy children of the community. There will also be a special matinee run each afternoon beginning at 3:45 and no advance in prices. The picture chosen for this occasion is May Robson's "Grand Old Girl," with beautiful Mary Carlisle and Fred MacMurray included in the cast. Truly is this a picture of flaming youth and wise old age brimming over with laughter and tears.

Mother's Club Presents Annual Play April 9, 10

The Mother's Club seventh annual play, "The Rebellion of Youth" under the direction of Mrs. John Fay, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, is regarded as one of the outstanding plays given by the club.

 Mrs. Lloyd Ebert, portrayed two parts as also did Mrs. L. Tjaden. Mrs. H. Wilson and Mrs. H. Behrens were the proud and haughty daughters and did their part well. Mrs. J. Barber took the part of a scheming Irish neighbor and was a very prominent character all through the play, helping to unite mother and daughters, we are told.
 Mrs. F. Zimmer, the village gossip, was a perfect busybody and received plenty of applause. Mrs. R. Rogers was the wife of the famous Jimmie Cleighton and her maid, Georgia Carter, was portrayed by Mrs. R. Seiffert. Mrs. J. Picchetti had the part of Janet Rudder and also helped unite mother and daughters. Mrs. E. Therrien Jr., took the part of Josie Pepper a night club girl.

 Mrs. B. Shifflett, as the colored cook, Auntie Midge, was one of the big features of the evening.
 The cotton dresses for the play were loaned by the Summer Mode Shoppe and the stage furniture by Iredale Furniture Store.
 Music was furnished Tuesday evening by the high school orchestra under the direction of Mrs. John Manning. Wednesday evening, Dorothea Ohowise and Marilyn Willis played the piano.
