TID-BITS Easter Sunday Suggestions

Though Easter originated in the old world, one of its outstanding characteristics, at least in this country, is ham and eggs. These marvelous gastronomic companions are welcome at any time, but they just must be had at this season of the year. Just as turkey is a tradition at Thanksgiving, and the goose adorns the Christmas feast without question or cavil, so ham and eggs grace the Easter breakfast.

And to help make this Easter breakfast a memorable one for you, the Community Service Groceries and Markets have ordered a special ham packed for them. A ham especially selected and cured; a ham with a shorter shank and a larger butt to give you more firm, succulent slices per pound; a ham smoked until it captured all the fine, nutty flavor that marks perfect preparation. Try one and you'll order more! Since our only thought in getting these hams was to give our patrons the best, we would appreciate hearing your opinion of them.

Don't forget the early melons when planning that breakfast. Their delicious flavor will start the meal with a zip that will rouse the "cave-cucumber, green pepper, and sliced raw carrots provides the necessary greens and will prove delightfully refreshing.

Top all this off with a dish of strawberries and cream and you will complete a meal your guests will long remember.
