

HIGHLAND PARK PUBLIC LIBRARY

Banned
The lobby exhibit at the library this week affords food for meditation in a collection of banned books. Of course, no book has been more frequently subject to banning than the Bible, either the whole or parts of it.

Homer suffered in 35 A.D. under the emperor Caligula because its text extolled the Greek ideas of freedom.

Who would have expected "Robinson Crusoe" to be on the Spanish list expurgatorius. Machiavelli's "The Prince" was once banned in Italy, and now it is distributed at public expense.

"Queen Mab" by Shelley was banned in 1842 for blasphemy.

Queen Elizabeth suppressed the deposition scene from "Richard II"; in imperial Russia Anderson's fairy tales fell under the ban; and in the province of Hunan, China, "Alice in Wonderland."

"Don Quixote" was once on the index until the words "works of charity negligently performed are of no avail" were taken out; "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was banned from Russia in 1843.

Somewhere, at some time, each of these and hundreds of other books have been banned. The story of these books is a significant chapter in the story of civilization.

fluence was allowed to throttle our shipping industry and in diplomatic skirmishes attending this question we suffered many degradations. "The Road to War" is a brilliant book, surveying as it does the rise of American war fever, and should be read by every man and woman in the country.

"My Old World," by Ernest Dimmet. This autobiography of a well known Frenchman is interesting for its picture of the educational system in his country. The rigours of French school life are inconceivable so far as classical education is concerned. It would seem that the system is justified when it turns out a man who writes with the style and charm of the Abbe Dimmet.

Deerfield Board Passes New Ordinance

To protect the main thoroughfares of Deerfield, the chief of Police, Percy McLaughlin, authorized by the recent passing of an ordinance by the village board, will weigh trucks carrying heavy loads through Deerfield and fine those disobeying state laws. Mercer Lumber Co. scales will be used for this purpose. By preventing overloaded trucks from using the village streets, the pavement will last longer.

Fines turned in last month by Police Officer McLaughlin amounted to $72. This sum did not include truck fines, as the ordinance was passed at the June meeting of the village board.

Other matters besides the bicycle riding on sidewalks and dog licenses were the possibilities of purchasing a new fire truck; the approval by the board of an agreement with an agency to collect 2 per cent tax due on fire insurance written during the past ten years in the village by foreign companies; authorization to have parkways and certain vacant lots cleared of weeds before the Centennial celebration; discussing of the modernization of the vehicle tax ordinance; the confiscating of Briergate Golf Club's $100 deposit required for serving liquor to apply on a large past due water bill and the request, by the board, for a new bond by the reorganized Brier Hill Golf Club.

A special meeting will be called to discuss the purchase of the fire truck, which has been referred to the finance and road and bridge committees. Corporation Counsel G. S. McGaughey instructed the board to advertise for bids.

Boys' and Girls' Room

Miss Ethel Binney, of Virginia, Minnesota, has taken for the summer the position in the children's room left vacant by the resignation of Miss Ida M. Agruss.

Miss Binney comes directly from the Library School of the University of Illinois, where she has been carrying on advanced work in library science after years of experience in school and public libraries. She is prepared to help any boy or girl who wishes help in catching up with his school reading, also to help choose favorite books for vacation trips or good, entertaining stories for home reading. The Treasure Hunt began on Monday with a registration of fifty-eight. The library is making a special effort to supply plenty of copies of those titles chosen for the summer reading lists.

Some Books of the Hour

"The Road to War," by Walter Mills. This is really the first thorough single and connected study of the America of 1914-1917, from the outbreak of the World War to America's entrance, designed to interpret and answer the question as to why we fought. It reviews in dispassionate but dramatic fashion under currents and events leading to the inevitable American declaration of war. From the very beginning of the European outbreak we were apparently predestined to enter on the side of the Allies. There was an amazing preponderance of pro-Ally sympathy in this country, German sympathizers being regarded almost as traitors. Propaganda engulfed us; our neutrality was almost entirely one-sided. Our "business man" crops of amateur foreign diplomats and the department of state were merely 'babes in the woods' in dealing with suave experienced diplomats of the Entente. British in-
