OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE CITY OF HIGHLAND PARK

HIGHLAND PARK, ILLINOIS THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1935

NUMBER 1

TOWNSHIP RELIEVED OF RELIEF BURDEN

Relief of the poor, especially the care of indigent persons at the Lake County General Hospital and at the poor farm, is again the responsibility of the county government.

Two legislative measures which became laws last Thursday when Governor Horner did not veto senate bills 392 and 394 shift the burden of relief from the township back to the counties.

Townships have been responsible for the expenses incurred in hospitalization and care at the poor farm towns since July, 1931. The new laws rescind those responsibilities.

While complete copies of these legislative measures have not yet been received by County Clerk Hendee or Harold E. Pillifant, chairman of the board of supervisors, it is evident that the county government will have to increase its tax rate next year. However, the taxpayer will not notice the county increase because the poor relief levy of the townships will be withdrawn.

The authority of the townships to levy taxes for relief is repealed. The law also provides that in 1935 the town clerks shall certify to the county clerk only that part of the township tax for poor relief levied in 1935 which is necessary to defray unpaid obligations incurred prior to July 1, 1935, and to retire tax anticipation warrants issued against such poor relief prior to the same date.

Most of the townships in Lake county have issued tax anticipation warrants for poor relief on the levies made this spring. These levies are based on the probably property valuations for 1935 and taxes collectable in 1936.

Considerable portion of the tax levies for poor relief in the townships, it was indicated, would be rescinded by the town boards. Funds raised through tax anticipation warrants for poor relief, which have not been used for poor relief expenses prior to July 1, may be used to retire the warrants.

Senate Bill 405 permits the county to increase the tax rate. The original county act limits the tax levy for general county purposes to 25 cents on each $100 property valuation, but under this senate bill, taxes for the relief of the poor, unemployed and indigent persons are excepted.

The set-up for poor relief in the state as a whole and the counties is set forth in senate bill 399, which provides for the appointment by the governor of a director of relief at a salary not to exceed $6,000 a year.

The director is to name assistants with the approval of the governor. "He shall receive and investigate all applications for relief of poor and destitute persons and allocate and pay over funds to county boards for such persons' relief," the digest of the senate bill shows.

"The director shall advise with the county boards concerning the methods, rules, and regulations for the furnishing of relief by the boards."

As the new relief system goes into effect as of July 1, 1935, the townships in Lake County are not relieved of the debts claimed by the county for poor farm and hospital care of persons from the respective townships for the period from July 1931 to July 1935.

There are at present law suits pending in circuit court whereby the county is suing townships for the recovery of expenses incurred in the care of persons from Deerfield and Avon townships for the period from July 1931 to September 1933. Similar suits are being contemplated against other towns.

GREAT LAKES ACTIVITY COMMENCES SOON

Within a short time the Great Lakes Naval Training Station will be in full swing of its former activity in training for Uncle Sam's big navy.

Occupying 182 acres of land, the station was closed for two years as an economy measure, but has been reopened in order to give the United States an inland training center.

At the station a vast majority of the young men enlisting for service in the navy receives its preliminary training for seamanship. Approximately 125,000 recruits were trained for service there during the World War.

The training period for apprentice seamen is twelve weeks and while it is impossible to make a full fledged seaman in that period of time it serves the specific purpose of bridging the gap between civilian life to the naval service.

The naval recruit of today naval authorities say, is far superior in ambition, schooling and alertness. He is as nearly perfect physically and mentally as a young man could be. This is largely due to the system now in use by the navy recruiting service of selective recruiting.

The organization and administration of the training station provides for the upkeep and maintenance of the station, disbursing of funds and supplies, materials required by, and the support of the training division.

The commanding officer authorizes the general policies and is responsible to the navy department for the proper functioning of the station as a whole. The executive officer, assisted by the various training and selection officers who are responsible to the commanding officer for the efficient carrying out of these policies.

The training division is divided into two sections, recruit training and trade schools. These departments describe their activity. There are constant medical inspections and attention for the maintenance of good health, for physical and moral development and pleasure and sports such as volley ball, baseball, basketball, and boxing are encouraged.

It is endeavored to run the stations on a competitive basis by awarding trophies and prizes to the companies and individuals winning the most points for the week. Good sportsmanship is stressed. As a rule no competitions are held outside of the naval station. There are excellent libraries and writing and reading rooms are provided to contribute to the comfort and morale of the recruit.

Chaplains of both the Catholic and Protestant faith are available to advise the recruit with his intimate and religious problems. Upon the completion of the day's work and drills, sound motion pictures are shown on the station.

The food is in charge of the commissary department where it is prepared and issued. Good wholesome food is one of the outstanding features of any naval ship or station. From the galleys a full course, properly balanced ration can be served to 1600 men. The average recruit gains about nine pounds during his three months' training.

At the present writing it is not known what the monthly quota for the station will be. However, prior to closing, an average of 350 recruits a month exclusive of trade schools was being taken at the station.

Upon arrival a recruit is first taken to the galleys (kitchens) to be fed. Then he is given the opportunity to bathe. From then on he is taken in for a thorough medical and mental examination. His teeth are re-charted and notes made of any future dental work that is required. This is followed by being completely outfitted with his naval uniform and bedding. From then on practically every moment of his daily life is directed toward making him a man-of-war man.

Upon completion of his twelve weeks' training the recruit is given leave to go home and visit his parents prior to joining a ship of the fleet. He will have been given a fair start on his naval career and his future success will depend upon his own efforts.

During his recruit training he is given a series of tests to determine his ability for the rating (trade) he would like to have in the naval service. If that rating is one that requires special training and he has shown special aptitude for it he will be sent to a navy trade school for further training.

The navy maintains three types of trade schools. A is for the novice, B is for the advanced, and C is the further advanced schools.

Highland Park Public Library To Receive Funds

Michael F. Gallagher, who is chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Illinois Library Association as well as a trustee of the Highland Park Public Library, headed the efforts which were successful in securing the passage of the $600,000 emergency book fund bill for Illinois libraries. Governor Horner has already signed the bill which passed the house by a vote of 102 to 7 and the senate by a vote of 42 to 1.

Approximately $1,200 will be received by the public library over the next two years. "This will go," said Miss Cora Hendee, head of the library, "toward the purchase of standard books and periodicals which we would not have been able to have had it not been for this bill, but which will add a permanent value to our book collection."

During the last four years book funds in Illinois libraries have been reduced more than 50 per cent while the use of the libraries has increased 20 per cent. So that the benefits which nearly 270 libraries will receive are indeed welcome. In Chicago the situation was particularly serious, with new books having been purchased in four years and the circulation dropping at the rate of two million volumes a year.

Among the Illinois organization, representing nearly 500,000 citizens supporting the bill were: American Association of University Women.

American Legion Auxiliary. Girl Scouts—the State Leaders. Congress of Parents and Teachers. Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Federation of Labor. Federation of Women's Clubs. High School Libraries. Home Bureau Federation. Women's Press Association. State Association of Y.M.C.A.'s.

The bill was drafted with the approval of Edward J. Hughes, secretary of state, and ex-officio head of the Illinois State Library and the Library Extension Division, who gave his hearty support to the measure in both the House of Representatives and in the Senate.

Bills providing for the certification of librarians in Illinois and for the extension of library service to 2,000,000 people in the state now without it were stricken from the legislative calendar in the last rush of the session. The $1,000,000 bill for the extension service, however had reached third reading in the house without amendment before it fell by the wayside.

STATE LAW LIFTS BACK TAX PENALTY

1929-33 Taxes To Be Free from Penalty If Paid Before August 1936

In order to relieve tax-burdened property owners, a bill has been passed by the state lifting all penalties on unpaid taxes for the years 1929 to 1933 inclusive.

In order to take advantage of the offer all back taxes must be cleared up in one payment and the offer is not effective if 1928 taxes remain unpaid, as the law is designed only to help those who have been in financial difficulties during the depression.

The penalty previously imposed on back taxes has been 12%. This penalty is lifted, for the specified years, until August 1, 1936. After August 1935 a penalty of 5% will be imposed.

It is not necessary to pay 1934 taxes, which are now being collected, in order to receive the benefit of the new law, but the usual penalty will later be applied on 1934 taxes which remain unpaid.

A reprint of the law follows: Sec. 227A—Revenue Law (State of Illinois):

"In counties having a population of less than five hundred thousand inhabitants, any person having an interest in any tract or tracts or lot or lots that was or were forfeited to the state because of delinquency in general taxes for the year 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, or 1933, or one or more of said years, and desiring to redeem the same, may, during the years 1935, or 1936, apply to the county clerk, who shall issue his order to the county collector, directing him to receive from said person only the principal of all such general taxes and costs due thereon, exclusive of penalties and forfeiture fees, in full payment for the redemption of such tract or tracts or lots so forfeited to the state: Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply unless all the taxes upon such property for the year 1928, shall have been paid in full; and provided, further, that from and after August 1, 1935, five per cent (5%) per annum of such delinquent general taxes shall be added thereto.
