Ralph Church Forces Adjournment of House

According to the New York Times Ralph E. Church, Republican congressman from Illinois, forced the House to adjourn last week when he became angered at the remarks made by Representative Lucas. The Times carried the following story: TALK ANNOYS REPUBLICAN; HE MAKES HOUSE ADJOURN

Special to the Times. Washington July 11. — The House was forced by a Republican to adjourn today when the session developed into speech-making. Representative Lucas took the floor to read an attack on the American Liberty League. He mentioned the "grass roots" Republican conference held last month at Springfield, Ill., and said that no members of Congress were invited to attend it.

Representative Church, Republican, of Illinois, asked him to yield for a correction, and when Mr. Lucas refused, shouted that members were invited. Speaker Byrns hammered with a gavel and ordered Mr. Church to sit down. The Illinois member in anger raised a point that no quorum was present, and the acting floor leader hastily moved adjournment.

WINNETKA ART SERIES

The Winnetka Music Club which sponsors the annual series of recitals at the New Trier High School has recruited its talent for next season from only the cream of musicians of international reputation. This will be its twelfth season, and the schedule which, it is believed, will evoke a thrill for every lover of the test in music, begins with Kirsten Flagstad, the most sought after operatic soprano today.

The second recital is to be given by Roland Hogs, colored tenor, who has been acclaimed through Europe and America as one of the greatest recitalists of his time.

The other artists engaged for this season's series are Ninon Vallin, soprano; Manuel Feurmar, cellist; Mischa Teutzi, pianist, and Bronislaw Huberman, violinist. Mrs. Bessie Grant, Winnetka State Bank continues in charge of the sale of tickets.

Billie and Jean Cruickshank left Saturday on the stream line flyer, "The Hiawatha," to spend several weeks with their aunt, Mrs. John Crichton in St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Filson and family of Albany Park were visitors at the Dan Hunt home on Monday.

Deerfield Centenary Committee Disbands

The Deerfield Centennial Committee had its final meeting Tuesday evening, July 16, at the Masonic Temple, where latest reports were given before the group disbanded.

Young people of the community are to benefit from the proceeds of the centennial. It was strictly a non-profit civic project with historical exhibit, parade, pageant and a union church service. The financing was by popular subscription. After all bills are paid there will be about $250 left.

Of this amount $50 was voted to the chamber of commerce for the purchase of playground apparatus for the local high school grounds and the remaining amount was voted to the Deerfield Woman's Club for the field house fund.

Additional names added to the honor roll last week were Dr. J. P. O'Connell and Standard Oil Co.

Unsold maps, about 250, will be given to the Woman's Club and the profit of these will be put into the field house fund.

Remaining pageant programs are to be distributed to those who wish them.

The street dance, the only part of the centennial where a charge was made, was reported on by Miss Jane Ashman, who announced that there was a profit of several dollars which goes into the Woman's Club treasury for its building project.

Over nine hundred people registered at the historical exhibit during the centennial, and many more attended who did not stop to register. The pageant brought out several thousand people and the church service about four hundred.

The celebration was well worth the time and effort expended on it, we are told. The data obtained will provide much interest in another hundred years when Deerfield celebrates its bicentennial in 2035.

Steady Increase In Playground Attendance

Due to the favorable weather the past several weeks registration on the Highland Park Playgrounds and daily attendance has been steadily increasing indicating that the playgrounds will have one of the best seasons in many years. Warm weather has drawn many new children to the playgrounds and beaches where they have been enjoying the activities, swimming, baseball, tennis, horseshoes, badminton, and other outdoor sports.

There is still ample time for those children who have not as yet registered to do so and still enjoy more than half the regular playground season as there are still five weeks of organized activities. All children are welcome to take part and are urged to do so.

The swimming instructions given by the playground staff every Monday and Friday morning still is very popular with those attending and most are showing rapid progress in the water. Every child in Highland Park should enjoy the advantages of Lake Michigan and this opportunity to learn to swim is one that no child in Highland Park should ignore. The schedule for the week of July 22 is as follows:

Monday morning, July 22 — Port Clinton, Sunset, and Lincoln groups to Central Beach for swimming lessons. Ravinia group to Roger Williams Beach for swimming lessons.

Monday afternoon, July 22 — General play at Sunset, Ravinia, Lincoln, and Port Clinton.

Tuesday morning, July 23 — Boys baseball: Ravinia at Sunset; Port Clinton at Lincoln.
