Announce Winners In Football Contest

Offer Tickets to N. U. - Illinois Game at Dycbe Stadium
November 2

R. W. Wolterding, 2 North Sheridan Road, came closest to the exact figure for last week's Press football contest, with his guess of 196. The correct figure was 197. He will receive two tickets to the Northwestern Purdue game next Saturday evening.
Frank E. Elwell, of 246 North Green Bay Road, with his guess of 200 is also a winner of two tickets to the Wildcat-Boilermaker meeting.
Lena Stewart of Highwood and Frank Dalla Valle, 700 Deerfield avenue, will each receive a pair of passes to the Deerpath Theatre in Lake Forest. Winners may obtain their tickets Saturday morning at the office of the Highland Park Press.

This week's prizes in the popular grid contest include two pairs of passes to the Northwestern-Illinois game on Saturday, Nov. 2, and two sets to the Deerpath theatre.
Because of the large number of entries and the resulting clerical work of tabulating answers, contestants are requested to get their entries in as early as possible and are again reminded that in no case will entries be received after Saturday noon.

Complete details for entering will be found on the football page of this week's issue of The Highland Park Press.

Shirley Temple's Latest at Alcyon Theatre

With the world series fever raging in the Chicago area, no timelier entertainment could have been chosen than "Alibi Ike," home run comedy, showing at the Alcyon on Friday and Saturday of this week. Joe E. Brown, in the title role of the popular story by Ring Lardner, is both a crack pitcher and the best batter of his club. Nevertheless, he has an alibi for just about everything.

Shirley Temple's "Curly Top," her latest comedy-drama will be featured on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. "Curly Top" presents Shirley with intricate dance routines and two new songs, "Animal Crackers in My Soup," and "When I Grow Up." John Boles and Rochelle Hudson also do their share of singing in this cinema.

Another highlight of the Alcyon's three-day program is a new issue of "The March of Time," tremendous and authentic.

The boys' and girls' clubs of the Deerfield-Shields high school will have their benefit performances on Wednesday and Thursday at the Alcyon. The picture to be shown is "Oil for the Lamps of China," based on Alice Teasdale Hobart's novel of the same name. Only once in a long time there comes to the screen a picture of vital import, gripping power and amazing human interest as this film which features Pat O'Brien, Josephine Hutchinson and Jean Muir.

will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Wednesday, October 9 at Trinity Parish house at 10:30 a.m.

For the benefit of citizens of Highland Park and vicinity, who have not as members been familiar with the auxiliary, it might be of interest to learn of its work. Since a short time after the hospital was built, this organization has increased its philanthropic work in Highland Park and immediate vicinity until the Illinois Emergency Relief committee began its relief work, thereby alleviating some of the community's emergency illnesses, and lightening some of the burden which the auxiliary had assumed in the past. However, many people on relief who were unable to obtain state or county aid were given hospitalization by the auxiliary. Many other worthy in-

Allotted $10,361 for Landscap- ing and Improvement Work at Elm Place School

According to information received through a telegram sent yesterday morning (Wednesday) to The Highland Park Press, Elm Place school has been allotted $10,361 of WPA funds. The telegram reads as follows:

"Editor, Press:

"Works Progress Administration" just advises of allotment to Highland Park for school repairs of $10,360.

"Jas. Hamilton Lewis, U.S.S." The telegram does not state which Highland Park school is to receive the money, but as Elm Place has submitted a project calling for that amount members of the school board believe that the funds are for their project, although the only information received here regarding the allotment was the telegram to The Press.

The work proposed at Elm Place consists of landscaping and the completion of excavation under the old intermediate building to provide additional room at the school.

According to Arthur Swanson, who was one of those who drew up the project, the landscaping work includes a retaining wall to support the north side of the ravine at Elm Place school, the installation of a playground in the ravine, the building of concrete steps from the intermediate building down into the ravine and the enlarging of two playgrounds at the Green Bay Road school.

No Clues Found in C. F. Grant Robbery

No clues have as yet been found as to the identity of the burglar or burglars who ransacked the Charles Grant home at 610 Forest Avenue, ing those hours that no one was at home. Neighbors, however, saw no one loitering about or entering the house.

Included in the stolen goods were jewelry, a watch, several rings, sterling silver table service and utensils. It is estimated the value of the stolen goods would approxi-

COUNCIL O.K.'S PLANS FOR RIDGE SEWER

Necessary Change in Ordinance Will be Made Later on

The city council has authorized the board of education of school district 108 to build a sewer from the Ridge school to connect with the main of the north shore Forest Ridge sewer district.

School district 108 has enlarged its territory, which has increased its student body by 25 students. With the additional students, the lavatory facilities are not adequate and the board wished to make some improvements. However, as the Ridge school is outside of the sewer district, a change in the city ordinance governing these districts will be necessary. The council agreed to permit the sewer connection and to take up the ordinance change at the next regular meeting. There was no meeting held Monday.
