E. S. GAIL APPOINTED MASTER IN CHANCERY

Is First Highland Parker To Be Accorded Highest Honor

Ernest S. Gail, head of the law firm of Gail and Behanna was appointed Master in Chancery of Lake County last Monday by Judge Ralph J. Dady. The appointment, which is the highest honor that can be attained by a local member of the bar is given as an award for meritorious service and ability.

Mr. Gail, who resides at 360 Bloom Street, has been a resident of Highland Park since he was a small boy and has practiced law here for 37 years. The firm was changed to Gail and Behanna a few months ago when Paul C. Behanna, who lives at 1553 Broadway Avenue, became a member of the firm.

Mr. Gail is at present serving his second term as corporation counsel of the city of Highland Park under the commission form of government. He also held the office when the city was under the aldermanic system. He also holds the office of city attorney for Highwood and has served as probation officer. He is the first Highland Park man to be appointed Master in Chancery.

It is the duty of the Master in Chancery to hear the facts on matters in chancery and report his conclusions to the court which enters its decree on the basis of his report. Such matters are turned over to him rather than to a judge because the hearings are long and the issues are involved.

The Highland Park Press joins the rest of the community in congratulating Mr. Gail on this latest honor accorded him.

ELM PLACE MAY GET MORE FUNDS

PWA Remodelling Projects Now Being Considered in Washington

Possibility that District 107 (Elm Place and Green Bay Road schools) may be given a PWA grant in addition to the PWA grant allowed last week is indicated in a telegram received Friday by The Highland Park Press.

At the request of Howell IP. Murray, president of the school board of district 107, the following telegram was sent to James Hamilton Lewis, who had informed The Press of the PWA grant.

"James Hamilton Lewis, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.: Appreciate your telegram on favorable action on works progress project here. PWA project, docket No. 1319 of much greater importance to our community. Would appreciate your efforts to secure this grant. Highland Park has had no PWA grant. Please answer so that we may use your reply for publication.

The Highland Park Press." The reply, by return wire, was as follows:

"Highland Park Press: Telegram received. Lake County project for remodeling school in district 107 is being considered by public works administration and you will be advised as soon as definite action has been taken.

James Hamilton Lewis."

Mr. and Mrs. Elvy Hoyt of S. Green Bay road are the proud parents of a son born Tuesday at the Highland Park hospital.

Legion Announces Harvest Home Party at Briargate Club

Dumaresq Spencer Post of the American Legion in Highland Park has completed plans for an old fashioned harvest home party to be held Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at the Briargate Country Club. All legionnaires in Lake County are invited to attend and to extend a cordial welcome to their friends. There will be old fashioned mountain music, as well as modern tunes for the dancing and the tickets include a buffet supper to be served just before midnight.

This will be an all-day meeting, beginning with registration at 9 a.m. A brief message of welcome will be given by Rev. Fred Baldus, president of the council, of Waukegan, sounding the keynote "The Abiding Things in a Changing World." This will be followed by two discussion periods, one for workers in small churches, led by Rev. C. Arthur Jevne, of Mundelein, and the other for large churches, led by Rev. C. W. Another out-of-county leader who will appear on the program is Miss Laila Spence, of Park Ridge, specialist in children's work and one of the officers in the Chicago Graded Union. She will lead the conference of primary workers.

The convention will close with an address on "The Abiding Things in World Problems" by Dr. Louis W. Sherwin, of Highland Park. Frank R. Sherwood, of Lake Villa, will lead a brief service in memory of Mrs. Jennie Just, of Waukegan, and W. E. Bletsch, of Highland Park, both of whom were active in the work of the county council of religious education, and officers of the county board, until their deaths during the past year.

Delegates are expected from most of the sixty churches co-operating in the organized work of Christian education in the county, and officers to serve for the coming year will be elected. Luncheon will be served at the Presbyterian Church, at a nominal price.

TO HIGHLAND PARK RESIDENTS

You will doubtless be solicited for a subscription to the Chicago Community Fund—a most worthy undertaking, and one entitled to the support of all who live or work in Chicago.

Highland Park, however, now has its own Community Chest, composed of twelve welfare agencies who are dependent upon Highland Park residents for their support.

The first annual campaign of the Highland Park Chest to raise $41,700 will be held the latter part of this month and all Highland Park residents who work in Chicago are asked to make an equitable division of their pledges between Chicago and Highland Park.

Following the custom of previous years Mrs. Faxon's subject for the day is not announced previously, as it has been found the element of surprise contributes to the enjoyment of the afternoon, and those who might remain away because of familiarity with the book to be given, have testified to the delight they have found in reviewing it with her. These programs are open to the public and tickets for the course or single admission may be purchased at the door.

ADULT EDUCATION PROJECT PLANNED

High School Considers Classes Modeled After Shorewood Opportunity School

All over the country, there is growing a demand for more learning opportunities for adults. Schools and school boards everywhere are beginning to realize this need, and are opening up their buildings and starting programs. The High School Board has been particularly interested in the "Shorewood Opportunity School," near Milwaukee, as the outstanding experiment of this kind. This school offers a very large program of academic, creative and recreational opportunities to adults. With its enrollment of over 3,000 adults in a suburban population of about 14,000, it is a stimulating and thrilling example of the possibilities of adult education.

Beginning in November, the High School Board of Education will sponsor the first co-ordinated Highland Park venture of this kind, and an Adult Education Council will be formed immediately to consider plans. The adult education program at Lincoln School will be discontinued, or rather absorbed by this larger community plan. The board will open the high school one evening a week for a probable period of twenty weeks, and will support an adult education project on a modest scale.

As a beginning this program will be largely recreational, and will include mostly arts and crafts, wood-working, classes in physical education, and music. In music there may be the possibility of an orchestra and a chorus. The tuition fee for such a school will be very small. The teaching staff will be recruited partly from the high school, partly from other available sources.

Next Monday evening, Oct. 14, at 8 p.m., there will be an open meeting at the Highland Park library. At this meeting Harvey Gluskow, director of the Shorewood school, will speak on the operation of their plan.

All organizations interested in this community educational venture are urged to send delegates. An Adult Education Council, representative of these organizations, especially the schools and school boards, will be formed at this time, to act as an advisory board, and a smaller executive group will be appointed to carry on the work of organization.

SOCIAL SERVICE NEEDS
A suit for a boy, size 12-14 years of age. Cannot attend Sunday school because of need of good suit. Winter coat and dresses for girl, age 13.

COMMUNITY CHEST GOAL IS $41,700

"Give Once For All" Is Slogan of Campaign for Funds

With $41,700 as the goal to be attained for the twelve Highland Park welfare and charity agencies among whom the fund will be distributed, the Highland Park Community Chest Campaign will begin Wednesday, Oct. 30, and continue through Nov. 11, it is announced by Herbert E. Kerber, chairman of the general campaign committee of the Community Chest.

To emphasize the purpose of the campaign in concentrating, in this one big campaign, all of the individual drives heretofore held by the individual agencies, the Community Chest has adopted as its slogan: "Give Once — For All!"

The twelve agencies which will share in the Community Chest are the Red Cross, Arden Shore, Baby Feeding Clinic, Boy Scouts, Dorcas Home, Girl Scouts, Highland Park Hospital, Highland Park Social Service, Hospital Auxiliary, Infant Welfare Society, Northwestern University Settlement and YWCA.

Together with the decision on the dates for the campaign and the goal to be attained, the Community Chest headquarters at 15 South St. Johns Avenue announced the complete list (Continued on Page 6)

Deerfield-Shields P.T.A. Will Meet on October 17

The first regular meeting of the Deerfield-Shields Parent-Teacher association will be held on October 17, at 3:30 p.m., in the English club room of the high school. All parents of students attending the school are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Warren Danley, president, will greet the members and Mr. Sandwick will extend to them the high school's welcome.

The guest speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Katherine Reed of Chicago. Miss Reed was formerly a leader in the educational work of Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois. She occupied, at different periods, three important positions there: Head librarian, instructor in English, and dean of women. She is now engaged in research work for the Institute of Medicine in Chicago. Since Miss Reed's whole life has been devoted to the pursuits of a scholar and educator, she is especially fitted to speak on the subject she has chosen, namely, "Culture Values."

Plan Formation of Civic Orchestra for Highland Park

In the belief that the time is ripe for the formation of a civic orchestra, an enthusiastic group of musicians met last Friday evening to consider the project, which is to be sponsored by the education department of the "Y," under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Raff.

The group has the good fortune to secure the services of Mrs. Helen Mayer Mannings as conductor, and under her leadership, the sponsors believe, that Highland Park should soon have an orchestra of which the whole community will be proud.

Anyone in this city or in the vicinity who plays an orchestra instrument well, is eligible to join.

The next meeting will be held Friday, Oct. 11 at eight o'clock sharp at the "Y," and members are requested to bring their instruments and music stands.
