FATHER-SON BANQUET TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Men's Fellowship Club Presents Unusual Program of Athletic Features

With indications pointing to a record crowd for such a gathering, the Men's Fellowship Club of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church will hold a father-and-son banquet next Friday evening, Dec. 6, at the church.

Appearing on the program are Jay Berwanger, All-American half-back and captain of the University of Chicago football team, William Harlow, captain of the University of Chicago basketball team and high scorer in the Western conference. Also present will be Ewald Nyquist, half-back for three years, and Prescott Jordan, guard for two years, both of whom are stars.

As an added feature Harry R. Swanson, head coach of the LaSalle street coaching staff, and Kyle Anderson, former star and present assistant coach, will show movies of Chicago football games, including Berwanger's 85-yard run for a touchdown through the entire Ohio State team.

"The Dark Angel" Year's Best at Alcyon

Ted Lewis, who invented jazz, brings "Here Comes the Band," his greatest show, to the screen. "Your eyes are going to pop right out of your heads when a certain youth steps up to a microphone and starts to sing," says Mae Tinee. His name is Harry Stockwell and he is indeed a personality. This feature comes to the Alcyon Friday and Saturday.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will bring to Highland Park, "The Dark Angel" which features Frederic March, Merle Oberon and Herbert Marshall. "The Dark Angel" with its scorn for shoddy emotions, is a touching movie. It's certainly worth seeing if for only one reason—it gives you a lift.

Joe E. Brown has never made a better picture than "Bright Lights" showing at the Alcyon Wednesday and Thursday coming. It is a skillfully developed drama with good situations and healthy characters excellently acted. Joe plucks some great novelty laughs from his bag of tricks. Ann Dvorak, Patricia Ellis and William Gargan play the other important roles.

AVOID CONGESTION IN CHRISTMAS MAILING

Postmaster Offers Suggestions for Easing Strain of Holiday Mailing

Although the local postoffice will make every effort to handle Christmas mailing without congestion or delay, Hugo L. Schneider, postmaster, points out that the volume of mail handled increases more than 200 percent during this season, co-operation on the part of the public is necessary in order to avoid difficulty.

Mr. Schneider announces that printed Christmas and other greeting cards may be mailed in unsealed envelopes at the third class rate of one and one half cents for each two ounces regardless of their destination. They may bear a written inscription, such as "Merry Christmas," or "Happy New Year," together with the name and address of the sender and of the addressee. However, these cards cannot be forwarded or returned to the sender and should be mailed in ample time, as they do not receive first class service.

Other suggestions for efficient Christmas mailing are given below: Shop early and mail early for an early delivery.

Be sure to address all mail to street and number.

Prepare parcels so that they will stand ordinary wear and handling and inform clerks as to their contents.

Enclose no writing matter in parcels, as doing so subjects them to first class rates.

Mail parcels early to insure delivery before Christmas, as there will be no delivery on Christmas Day.

Buy stamps now so as to avoid congestion at postoffice windows.

Philip Goldberg Will Contested in Court

Judge Martin C. Decker of the Probate court of Lake county admitted to probate the will of Philip Goldberg, Highland Park merchant, disposing of an estate of $100,000 on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Goldberg died July 19 at his home, 17 N. Second street, Highland Park. The judge held, that the will is operative as to the widow, Mrs. Goldie Goldberg, because of its failure to mention her. This ruling gives Mrs. Goldberg a dower right of one-third of the estate.

The will bequeathed $5 each to two children, Selma and Ellis Alexander Goldberg of Highland Park, and $200 each to Rabbi Lehman and the trustees of the Isaac Goldberg synagogue, 42 West Adams street. The balance of the estate, under the will, is left to two other children, Milton, 5200 Sheridan road, and Sadie, 1547 West 5th avenue, Gary, Ind.

The four children are those of Goldberg's divorced wife, Libby, who has been in a mental institution since 1906. Attorney Edward J. McArdle Jr., representing Ellis Goldberg, argued that she is Philip Goldberg's real widow on the ground that the divorce, and therefore the second marriage, are void.
