Press Appreciates Co-operation

We are most grateful to our patrons who so graciously aid our reporters in securing items for this column. We know that our public likes the local column, and it is our aim to see that the items are verified and appear in a dignified manner, if not in a modern manner. We want the residents of Highland Park to feel free to send in news items or call our reporters at any time, for it is not possible to get all the news without your cooperation. We wish you all a very Merry Christmas, and trust we may be assured of your cooperation in the future, as in the past.

Students Return For Holidays

With Christmas just a few days away, the younger folk look forward with great anticipation to the return of their former classmates and the rollicking round of parties for them. Among those to return home this week are Phoebe Swazey who attends Vassar and is arriving Saturday to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Swazey, Miss Lydia Hastings, another Vassar girl, will also arrive Saturday to be with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Rolland T. H. Hastings. Miss Virginia Hardacre will return from Rockford college while Barbara Emerson and Arthur Emerson are returning from Bradford Jr. college and the University of Michigan, respectively. Bill Swazey and Judson Wells will be back from Harvard university. Mary Lou Sanborn is coming home from the University of Wisconsin.

Among those to return from the University of Illinois are: Jean H. Brand, Frank J. Frech, Jr., John T. Fitz Gibbons, Joseph J. Daly, John D. Austin, Rosealma Roth, William W. Sorsen, Dorothy Turner, Jeanne Smith, Mary W. Morris, Doris H. Mason, Jean and Barbara McPherson, Clifford and Matt Kutzer, Kathryn K. Kauffman, Carl Johnson, Lee C. Gatewood, and Chester F. Becker. William C. Childs, a sophomore at Yale, is to be at home with his parents, the George W. Childs, for the holidays. Russell Holmes is to return from Ann Arbor and Dorothy Melville of BBeolit university are returning to be with their parents. Orin Spaulding is returning from Drake university in Des Moines.

It is quite possible that there are many students who have come home for Christmas, but their names do not appear above. If there are any names omitted, the Press will be glad to be notified and another list will appear in the next issue.

Local Girl In Fashion Show

Miss Joy Fritsch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earl D. Fritsch of 338 Orchard Lake, is taking part in a fashion review which the Dress Arts students of the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts is holding this afternoon (December 19th) in the Academy's galleries at 18 South Michigan avenue, Chicago.

The dress she modeled is one to which she has given the name "Gay Brownie", was designed and constructed by herself. But the silken material out of which it is made was produced from an original design submitted by a New York high school textile student in a city-wide contest held there a year ago.

The exhibition, which will be on view at the Academy through December 22, will be open to the public.

Progressive Dinner Held

North Shore alumnae of Chi Omega Pi held a progressive dinner party Saturday, December 7, for the benefit of the House Fund. Proceeding from the Northwestern chapter house, the guests went to the home of Mrs. Virginia Ross Mills, 2806 Blackhawk road, Wilmette. The second course was held at "The Chimneys," Greenbay road, Winnetka, with Miss Evelyn Everett of Kenilworth acting as hostess. From there the group went to the home of Mrs. C. W. Rose, 1927 Thornwood avenue, Wilmette. The party ended at the home of Miss Frances Towler, Bannockburn. Others in charge of arrangements were Miss Violet Erby and Miss Ruth Mahan of Evanston, and Miss Frances Brown and Miss Louise Hartman of Wilmette.

Phil Libby will be at The Press office every Saturday morning, beginning December 28th, to answer your questions on meal planning and recipes, without cost to you.

Miss Kathryn Weinberg will visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris A. Heyman, of Grand Rapids, Mich., during the Christmas holidays.
