

COMMUNITY CHEST NEWS

The office of the Highland Park Community Chest has been moved from the quarters occupied during the recent successful campaign at 15 South St. Johns avenue, to space on the first floor of the old City Hall building at 549 Central avenue.

As in the case of the campaign headquarters just vacated, the new office has been secured rent free, the space being donated by the Highland Park Social Service, present custodian of this city owned property. The former campaign headquarters were generously donated by Baird & Warner, renting agents of the St. Johns avenue property.

The Community Chest office will be maintained throughout the year for the purpose of receiving subscription payments, informing the public of the activities of the member agencies of the Chest, handling the business of the organization and serving as a clearing house for matters pertaining to the advancement of the general social welfare of the community.

The work will be carried on under the direction of Edwin C. Jones, executive secretary, who organized the Chest and directed the work done at headquarters during the campaign period.

Office hours at the new location will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. week days except Saturday when the office will close at 1 p.m. Payments on subscriptions may be made in person during those hours or may be sent by mail.

Inquiries regarding the work of the various member agencies of the Chest are welcomed and information will be gladly furnished. Subscribers are urged to read this column which will appear in The Press from time to time and will carry information of particular interest to them as well as to the public in general.

11,000 Students Helped by N.Y.A.

Approximately 11,000 needy students have been enrolled in high schools by the National Youth Administration, and each one will receive an average of six dollars per month for work, according to a report made today by William J. Campbell, state director of N.Y.A., to the National Emergency Council meeting of Federal Agencies in Chicago, called by Sveinbjorn Johnson, station N.E.C. director for Illinois.

Approximately 6,600 college and graduate students are enrolled for part time work at wages of $15 per month, the report stated.

During the fall, two camps were conducted by the NYA for unemployed young women, and courses taught in various vocations. Other educational classes are being instituted for unemployed young people in an attempt to train them for future employment.

The NYA will conduct a survey of industrial conditions so that the youths may be trained to meet the needs of industry, it was learned from the report.

The Community Chest, which means now the more than 1800 Highland Park citizens who automatically became members of the Chest by subscribing, was the recipient of a handsome Christmas and New Year greetings from the Skokie Area of Girl Scouts—one of our member agencies.

The Highland Park Hospital Association board of managers in acknowledging through its secretary, Mr. Roderick Macpherson, receipt of a check for $7,000 from the Community Chest, representing 70 per cent of the hospital's budget allotment says:

"It is the general feeling of the board, both officially and as individuals, that the Community Chest and all of the interested people who have co-operated in it have the warmest thanks and appreciation of not only the various agencies who benefit from the work of the Chest, but also of the citizens of Highland Park generally. The board of managers congratulates you on the splendid job which you have done."

James T. Nicholson, manager of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, and a member agency of the Highland Park Chest writes us as follows:

"Congratulations upon your having gone over the top. That will help no end in your future campaigns. Your experience has not been shared this year by many organizations from all reports. Our roll call nationally shows at least a 5 per cent increase. The Chicago chapter will be more than 10 per cent. So we all have good cause to be merry this Christmas."

The Community Chest through its officers and board of directors extends to all its members and their families and to the citizens of Highland Park generally, its best wishes for a happy and successful New Year!

Campbell stated, "is a radio program for youthful job seekers. It is designed to give young people the technic and the background which they need in looking for employment."

Wool sales, standard supervisory service reports, were 7,390,000 lbs. in October, exceeding 7,000,000 lbs. for the first time since 1923.

ANNOUNCE SPEAKERS FOR IAA CONVENTION

Men of National Prominence on Program for Meeting at Decatur

An agricultural leader in Congress, a prominent Chicago business man, a well known government administrator, the president of the largest national farm organization in America, and a famous after-dinner speaker and story teller have been scheduled to speak before the 21st annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association at Decatur, January 29-30-31, according to an announcement received today from President Earl C. Smith.

Representative Marvin Jones of Texas, chairman of the House committee on agriculture, who has steered most of the important farm legislation through Congress during recent years gave Mr. Smith his definite promise to appear at the Decatur meeting despite the fact that Congress will be in session at that time. Mr. Jones is an able speaker and is well informed on farm legislative matters.

General Robert E. Wood of Highland Park, well known Chicago merchant and business leader and member of the Committee for the Nation which actively supported the Farm Bureau's gold revaluation program will be another speaker. General Wood was introduced at the recent Farm Bureau convention in Chicago as one of the "few business men in America with common sense." Head of the largest mail order house in the country selling mostly to rural people, General Wood has given much study to the causes of business depression and the relation of general prosperity to farm buying power. His recent address in Chicago was widely commented upon.

Chester C. Davis, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act will come back to his adopted state with latest information about government farm price policies and crop adjustment plans for 1936. The possibility of a Supreme Court decision on the Agricultural Adjustment Act by the end of January will lend additional interest to the address of Mr. Davis. He recently expressed the belief that whatever the Supreme Court's decision on the AAA, Congress willing, efforts to maintain parity prices for farm products will go forward. If the AAA isn't constitutional in the judgment of the court, Mr. Davis believes that acceptable legislation can be enacted within constitutional limits.

Edward A. O'Neal of Alabama, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will be at the convention again with a timely address covering the legislative program of the federation in the immediate future.

The New Deal is fixing up the money again. New $1 bills are being printed, bearing the Latin phrase "Novus Orodo Seclorum" which appears on the back of the Great Seal of the United States. Secretary Morgenthau of the Treasury interprets that as meaning "A New Order (or New Deal) of the Ages." The value of the dollar is still 59 cents.
