

The History of the Dog

—by— Albert Butterworth

In Egypt, the very earliest animals that could be classed as dogs are the ceremonial animals that were discovered some few years ago near Thebes.

Just as people today give names to their dogs and our children have model and toy dogs, so did the Egyptians, for their dogs occupied a very prominent place in their family life.

In the Bible there are about fifty references to the dog, though most of these cast reflections upon the animal.

Edwin Burgess, popular and widely known Lake Forest official, is a candidate for the office of clerk of the Circuit Court in Lake County.

In ancient Chinese times, dogs were classified distinctly into hunting, watch, and edible types.

Many legends and superstitions grew up and developed around these early Assyrian animals, some of which are: If a white dog bites a person, he will be in trouble; if a black dog bites a person, he will fall sick; if a brown dog bites a person, he shall have pleasure; if a dog extinguishes a fire in the house of a man, authority or order will exist in that house; and if a dog bites the bedclothes of a person, that person will suffer severe illness.

Bird Study Hikes To Be Offered Again This Year

Because of the popularity of bird hikes and the numerous requests for them, Community Service will again sponsor a series of ten bird and nature hikes here in Highland Park.

The first of these hikes will be held Saturday morning, March 21. Any person interested in this hobby and wishing to take part in the hikes, is asked to meet at the west side of Sunset Park at 7 a.m. and be prepared for a hike lasting for about an hour and a half.

Bert S. Leach, head of the science department of the Elm Place School, will again be leader of these morning nature hikes. Mr. Leach has had many years of experience in this work and is well versed in the habits of birds.

Further information may be had by calling the office of Community Service, Highland Park 858. There is no charge for these hikes, being part of the community recreation program sponsored by Community Service, Inc.
