

Sunset Valley To Open For Play on Sat., March 28

Golf Bug Bites Highland Parkers; Husbands the Worst, But Wives Not Exempt

The proverbial "golf-bug" has bitten Highland Parkers. With the announcement that the Sunset Valley Golf club will open Saturday, March 28, weather permitting, wives are reporting husbands anxious to get the Spring cleaning and preliminary gardening out of the way as quickly as possible; golf clubs are being taken down from the attic, cleaned and fondled lovingly by their owners who fully expect to establish new records this season; the "bug" is drawing many members in the direction of the club to negotiate each hole in the first look over the prospects and to figure out just how they are going to round. These and other developments during the week augur well for Sunset Valley this year.

As a matter of fact, the husbands report that great pressure is being put to them to pay the dues so the women can get started at golf early this year. Not only that but the frugal wife has the 10 per cent discount in mind and it expires on April 15.

The opening of the season officially is just the beginning of a full and interesting one being planned for the club this year. The course is in excellent shape — the best it has ever been this early in the year, according to Tom Kelley, club pro. The heavy blanket of snow protected the greens from the extreme cold and they give promise to be in the best condition they have ever been. Several important improvements have been made, including the elevation of the third tee, which all members will appreciate.

Spring Outfits Offered at Trinity Rummage Sale

When the Rector's Guild of Trinity Episcopal church have their annual spring rummage sale on Wednesday, April 1, there will be one room set aside for their latest venture in salesmanship. Here will be found everything necessary for the new Easter wardrobe, priced temptingly below the actual value of the clothes.

Contributions for the "White Elephant Sale" are pouring in every day, and the public is cordially invited to come and see the things donated for use in the home. This has become an annual feature of Guild rummage sales, and provides things of practical value that are in excellent condition.

The rummage sale starts on Wednesday morning, April 1, at nine o'clock, and will continue until everything is sold. The doors to the sale will open promptly at nine, and everyone is invited to attend.

Alcyon Presents Three Outstanding Attractions

The Alcyon Theatre is presenting George Arliss on Friday and Saturday as the lovable character of "Mr. Hobo." Mr. Arliss gives a fine laugh provoking performance which affords engrossing entertainment for everyone, and which is somewhat different from his usual characterization of a suave, shrewd business man.

In the colorful atmosphere of the burlesque theatre, with sourestes songs, clowns, and comics, the action of the picture "King of the Burlesque," which comes to the Alcyon Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, takes place. Warner Baxter, Alice Faye and Jack Oakie head the cast. Mae Tinee says of the picture, "direction was ace... the piece is clean, charmingly costumed, and effectively staged."

"Dangerous," which Bette Davis won high recognition as one of the best screen performances of the year, plays at the Alcyon on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Franchot Tone, Margaret Lindsay, and Alison Skipworth play opposite Miss Davis.

Special Performance of "Love Pirates of Hawaii"

By special request "Love Pirates of Hawaii," an operetta under direction of Virginia Engles, assisted by Hazel Miller which was presented by Deerfield Grammar school on Friday, March 13, will be repeated on Thursday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

"Love Pirates of Hawaii" owes part of its success to the public address system rented from Carl Kinley and Clarence Womenan of Northbrook, Illinois. In view of this fact, it has been decided that the proceeds of the production shall be used to secure a public address system for the school. The system will be a benefit to the community, as the auditorium is the only building large enough to accommodate 300 or more people. A public address system, it is believed, will be an asset to the community as well as to the school.

Harry W. Stivers Killed As Car Slips from Jack

A coroner's jury last Saturday returned a verdict of "death from crushing injuries received when the car under which he was working slipped from the death of Harry Stivers, 37, who was found under his car last Friday evening.

Stivers had gone into the garage to install a new front spring on his car only a short time before Ned Glader, a neighbor living at 236 McDaniels avenue, found his body pinned to the floor, relatives said. Glader reported to the Highland Park police that the front axle of the automobile had forced the victim's head to the floor.

Neighbors helped Glader to raise the car in order to remove the injured man, and then rushed him immediately to the Highland Park Hospital, where he died within a short time.

He maintained his connection with the company up to the time of his death.

In 1918 Mr. Stivers came to live in Highland Park. It was here that he met Miss Sarah Krueger with whom he was united in marriage during the year 1918 and established their home on McDaniels avenue, where they have lived up to the present time. Article Describes Work of Elm Place P.-T. A.

Printed below is the third in a series of compositions written by students at Elm Place school on the work of the Parent-Teacher association. The author of this article is Frances Morgan, a pupil in the 7th grade.

The P.-T. A. and What They Have Done for Us

We look into the gymnasium and a mass of flowers, fruits, and vegetables greets our eyes. Perfume from many different flowers is wafted up our nostrils. Our tongues water at the luscious fruit. Sun-kissed peaches with a velvety sheen also hug me like a beautiful sight. Over them make purple grapes, some with beads of silvery moisture still clinging to them. But this could not be without our P.-T. A. They arrange the flowers, fruits and vegetables so as to make them more attractive. They also dispense the awards, to those who participate.

Barking, yapping, jumping and shouting! "The Pet Show!" What a thrill that name gives us. From turtles and earthworms to beautiful and powerful Great Danes. We display with pride our pet whether he is a pedigreed thoroughbred or a homely little mongrel. Whether it is a common earthworm or a rare canary or even a horse. How excited you are as the "Pet Show Parade" marches past you. Each owner is marching proudly with a ribbon pinned on him. The P.-T. A. who gives these ribbons, has places roped off for our pets so they may be put in the right class. Then they have water brought to the thirsty dogs now and then.

Whether young or old I am sure we all look forward to picnic day. Here again the P.-T. A. steps in making the day more delightful. They furnish the ice cream. They arrange the programs, and they sell the tickets. Our picnic day would not be complete without our "Student Stunts" or without the delicious ice cream.

I am sure that the children of Elm Place school are grateful to the P.-T. A. and I am sure we could not do without them.
