

Rudolph J. Dvorak Is Candidate for Assembly

Those of the residents in the Eighth Senatorial District who have received one of candidate Rudolph W. Dvorak's campaign cards as aspirant for nomination to the office of representative in the General Assembly have been impressed with the brief biographical sketch printed thereon.

Those who read in the February 15, 1936 issue of the Chicago Daily News a story about his accomplishments as mayor of Fox River Grove were impressed more with his apparent tireless energy, initiative and leadership ability.

For those who may not have received one of the campaign cards the biographical sketch is reprinted herewith:

"Born April 7, 1887. Married Agnes Hora November 11, 1911.

"At present mayor of Fox River Grove, Illinois, and assistant operating director, Chicago Crime Commission, with which organization he has been identified for the past 17 years.

"Prior to joining the staff of the Chicago Crime Commission served three years as clerk and investigator for Maclay Hoyne then state's attorney for Cook County.

"During World War was chief clerk of draft board; organizer of liberty loan and war savings stamp parades and drives for the southwest side of Chicago.

"Publisher of three monthly magazines, Club Review, Southwest Review, and The Headlight. Also business manager of the Interstate Railway Guide.

"Has resided in state since he was two years old and in McHenry county eight years during summers and permanently since building a home in Fox River Grove eight years ago.

"During career has been president of West 26th Street Business Men's Association in Chicago; secretary of Lawndale Automobile Club and "Rip" Building and Loan Association.

"After graduating from the public schools served three years as apprentice machinist—worked at the trade until he decided to enter the newspaper profession.

"Has always had special liking for newspaper work. Secured first job as reporter with Chicago Daily Socialist for which publications he covered the strike-bound copper and iron mining regions of Upper Peninsula of Michigan and coal mining regions of southern Illinois. Later became member of staff of the Chicago Inter Ocean and Weekly Inter Ocean and Farmer. Also served on staff of the Farmers and Drivers Journal.

"Author of 'Hard Times in the Jungle,' 'Job Hunting in Chicago,' 'Hearing Pleas for Paroles,' 'The case of Arthur Defoe,' and numerous other articles."

Mr. Dvorak has made his campaign issue one of qualification. It is generally conceded that he is qualified if previous accomplishments and his present responsible positions as assistant operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission and mayor of Fox River Grove are to be taken as a yardstick.

"That he is qualified is further proven by the published opinion of the Legislative Voters League which in recommending Mr. Dvorak said:

"Rudolph W. Dvorak, Fox River Grove, assistant operating director of the Chicago Crime Commission. A capable and well informed man who as mayor of his town has made a study of municipal and township affairs, and has formed definite ideas as to desirable changes in the laws whereby such governmental bodies may be helped to function more economically and effectively. He is very highly recommended by those who know him best."

Those who know Mr. Dvorak best, know that he has led a very industrious, upright and moral life. They know that he is fearless in fighting for social rights. They know that if he undertakes a task he completes it. They know that he has unbounded initiative and energy and that he is possessed of the highest sense of fairness.

Mr. Dvorak's friends know that if he is elected to represent the people of the Eighth Senatorial District in the General Assembly that they will be represented. They know that he will not hesitate to undertake any task that will prove beneficial to the residents of the Eighth District. They know that he will fight untrudgingly to bring to the district every possible benefit and full recognition. He has done so for Fox River Grove and he is fully competent to take in more territory.

Ralph E. Church Is Candidate for Re-election from 10th District

Ralph E. Church, your 10th District Representative in Congress, resides at 300 Church street, Evanston. He is an attorney, a member of the firm of Church and Traxler, 10 S. LaSalle street, Chicago.

Mr. Church's history is well-known. He was born and raised on a farm near Catlin, Vermillion county, Illinois. He worked his way through University of Michigan and Northwestern Law school, from which in 1909 he received the degrees of LL.B. and A.M. For the past 27 years he has practiced law continually in Chicago and has made his home continuously in this district, where he has shown keen interest and personal cooperation in all neighborhood problems.

Outside his law practice, his chief interest has always been along governmental and educational lines. He has been active in all Boy Scout and other recreational movements, and is, at present, a trustee of the National College of Education.

After 16 years as a member of the Illinois State Legislature, to which he was re-elected each time with ever increasing majorities, he was in 1934 elected to Congress from the large Tenth District.

In Congress, he was at once appointed to the important Naval Affairs committee, the Committee on Patents and the Committee on Revision of the Laws.

He accomplished the reopening of the Great Lakes Naval Training station with its far reaching economic influence on the successful business life of the surrounding communities.

Always emphasizing that his first interest and first duty is to his own Tenth District (which he widely publicizes as the "best district in the United States"), Mr. Church initiated the practice of a weekly news letter published throughout all the district and has in addition made continuous flying trips home over week-ends for personal interviews and close-hand contacts with his district.

A staunch believer in American principles and institutions and a ready fighter for the preservation of American ideals and rights, Mr. Church has vigorously opposed on the floor of the House unconstitutional measures and demagogic panaceas. He is rightfully proud of the fact that, consistently and unswervingly he is today offering as the solution for our national problems the identical platform on which he stood as far back as 1932 and 1934. In this platform he insists that we must:

1. Urge that Congress immediately resume all of its legal duties and powers as our representative law-making body;
2. Balance the budget;
3. Eliminate all unnecessary government activities and expense;
4. Lower taxes;
5. Promote private business enterprise;
6. Bring constructive aid to farmers;
7. Recognize the just rights of veterans;
8. Insure that every dollar appropriated for necessary relief be spent for the needy.

Washington Tours Are Popular Again This Year

The Washington Tours, originated by the Baltimore and Ohio years ago, are again proving very popular to those who wish to see the Capital City economically. Even those who are more or less familiar with the city are anxious to visit it again to note the many changes of the past three years.

Just now the famous Japanese Cherry trees are in flower. This event lures many thousands to the banks of the Potomac every year.

The five-day tours include visit to Annapolis as well as the interesting spots in and about Washington. Arrangements may also be made to include a boat trip to Norfolk, thence to Williamsburg and other historic Virginia points.

The Baltimore and Ohio has issued an interesting leaflet descriptive of these tours, which will be sent anyone upon request.

Harold D. Kelsey Closes Campaign

Stating that he faithfully had tried to explain his platform as Republican candidate for county coroner in detail, Harold D. Kelsey, of Barrington, today closed his active campaign and planned to give the few remaining days to the routine business of getting voters to the polls.

"My belief is that a coroner can save lives as well as preside over inquests to determine the cause of deaths. I am certain that the auto death rate in the county can be cut by making this a full time office so that traffic hazards at railway crossings, bad highway curves and intersections can be studied and eliminated by the offering of plans for changes to the proper authorities," Mr. Kelsey said.

"The present coroner's law dates back to 1879. It should be brought up to 1936 and I believe I can do this. I will give full time to the office with this aim in mind so that Lake county can be pointed out as pioneering in modernizing government to meet present needs. Recommendations to legislators on amendments to the law would bring it up from 1879 to 1936. If it can't be done, then scrap the office and let the sheriff handle the work of coroner as the antiquated act is of no value to this century and becomes an additional tax burden. But, it can be an important and vital office to the people, if modernized," Mr. Kelsey declared.

He has pledged economy and his record shows that when he was chairman of the county board of supervisors in 1934 the Lake county debt was reduced slightly more than $390,000 in one year alone.

STATE'S ATTORNEY

VOTERS OF LAKE COUNTY

The present State's Attorney is now claiming that he has carried out every promise made by him in his campaign four years ago.

He promised, when elected, to "TAKE THE RACKET OUT OF POLITICS" and "END CORRUPTION."

He has failed to keep his promise.

He now excuses his laxity by stating that he is conducting a law office and not a detective bureau. He says it is up to the sheriff and police to enforce the law and he is unwilling to prosecute until arrests are made.

Why, then, has he given orders to all justices of the peace in the county not to issue warrants until he gives his O.K.? That gives him the final say on arrests. Why hasn't he kept his promises?

Some time ago the WAUKEGAN TIMES in an editorial headed, "ENFORCE THE LAW OR QUIT" took Mr. Mason to task for failure to do his duty.

Excerpts from THE TIMES editorial follow:
(Editorial—Waukegan Times, May 25, 1934)

"Has law enforcement broken down in Lake County?—Now Mr. Mason is facing another campaign for re-election. He is going to be forced to fight for his very political existence. How will Mr. Mason explain away his own apparent laxity in law enforcement? He will not be able to cover it merely with Napoleonic allusions.

"We predict that the voters will not be satisfied with the claim that he would have done something if an investigator had been assigned to his office. They will demand something more than that.

"The voters of Lake County are aware as to what powers are vested in the state's attorney and they expect him to exercise them. When the state's attorney reaches the point that he does not choose to do his duty he should resign from office.

The warning was plain but the State's Attorney did not take the warning. Conditions are the same as they were then. HE HAS DONE NOTHING.

HUGE SUMS of money are being spent in an effort to re-elect Mr. Mason. However, Harry A. Hall urges all voters to think for themselves and vote for a candidate who has the courage to carry out his campaign promises.
