Careful Driver Needs Few Simple Rules

According to Ab Jenkins, World's Safest Driver. Follow Regulation Rules.

The safety and pleasure of any motorist's vacation trip can be increased many fold by the observation of a few simple rules according to Ab Jenkins, known as the world's safest driver. Jenkins, who holds more speed records than any other man in sports, has driven more than one million miles on all kinds of roads in every state in the Union, without an accident.

Besides the well known and fairly well recognized rules about observing stop signs, not trying to beat traffic lights, not passing another car on a turn or a hill, Jenkins has the following advice to give on features of driving little thought about by the average motorist:

1. Read the road; that is, observe cars far ahead and those directly behind because only in this way can you decide whether passing is safe. The car behind can do you a lot of damage and observing only the next car ahead is no insurance of safety.
2. Don't drive in a slouched position. Keep both hands on the wheel. Hands and arms should always be in a position to take care of the ever impending emergency.
3. When making a turn use only one hand to apply pressure on the wheel, allowing it to slide through the other hand. This places you in a position to put full strength into a quick turn in the opposite direction should emergency demand it.
4. Never run a car faster than you can drive it. If you are at all nervous you are driving too fast.
5. Never use the brakes in a skid on slippery roads. The best method is to disengage the clutch, which will permit the rear wheels to roll free and follow the front wheels straight ahead. Then apply the clutch gradually.

Jenkins places tire equipment as the first and most important consideration for safe driving. He states that every driver should be compelled to have good tires on his car. Jenkins is an expert on tire equipment. He has studied manufacturing methods as well as proved the performance of tires in his speedway and highway driving. All of his records, including the amazing performance of 127 miles an hour for twenty-four hours on the hot salt beds of Utah were made on Firestone tires without tire trouble.

Between the first Thanksgiving and the first official designation of our modern Thanksgiving day as a national holiday, 243 years elapsed. The Pilgrims celebrated the former in 1621, while President Lincoln issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation in 1864.

Railroad Crossing Signals Antiquated

Must Be Speeded Up to Meet Present Day Fast Moving Trains

Traffic signals at railroad-highway crossings are, to a large extent, still operating in the "horse and buggy" days of transportation says the Illinois Automobile club. Railroad trains, both freight and passenger, have been so speeded up that highway traffic finds it difficult to cross the tracks in time to avoid disaster because many crossing signals do not flash soon enough.

"Recent reports of the Association of American Railways show that the speed of railroad trains has been boosted from 43 to 54 per cent within recent years," says Carl A. Barrett, president of the club. "What have the railroads done toward improving signals to keep pace with this greater speed? Judging by the are enoinshrdtuatoimshrdtuaoine increase in railroad-highway crossing accidents, it would seem that the old signals for slower trains are still in use.

"With such high-speed trains as the new stream-liners, racing at 80 miles an hour and more, crossing signals must start to operate much sooner than they do now. For slower trains, running at the old speeds, present equipment may be adequate.

"It would be no great engineering feat to provide two systems for 'tripping' the crossing signal—one for low-speed trains at an approximately the present distance from the highway; the other at a considerably greater distance for high-speed trains, thus notifying vehicular traffic in ample time so it can get across the tracks in safety.

"That railroad-highway crossing accidents are increasing is evidenced by accident reports. In the first three months of 1935, there were 32 people killed in such accidents in Illinois; in the same period of 1936, this kind of fatalities jumped to 69 in this state, according to the State Highway Department. The Safety Section of the Association of American Railways has also said that 1936 will see as many or more such accidents throughout the country.

"Last year, in 4960 railroad-highway crossing accidents, 1880 were

D.A.R. Better Films Committee Review

"Robin Hood of Eldorado." Cast: Warner Baxter, Ann Loring, Bruce Cabot, Thursday, Aug. 6. This historical picture is lifted above the ordinary by the sheer force of its dramatic quality. Keenly interesting story, lovely music and beautiful outdoor settings. Exceptionally well cast, with Warner Baxter giving a noteworthy performance. Skillful and powerful direction. Adults.

"The Golden Arrow." Cast: Bette Davis, George Brent, Eugene Pallette, Friday, Saturday, August 7, 8. A light comedy in which a young girl, masquerading as an heiress for advertising purposes marries a young reporter, to save herself from persistent suitors and then has a difficult time persuading her husband that she really loves him. Uneven direction somewhat mars the continuity. Adults and young adults.

"The King Steps Out." Cast: Grace Moore, Franchot Tone, Herman Bing, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, August 9, 10. The gay, care-free days of the Austrian Empire where Francis Josef was young as portrayed in a charming comic opera. The various roles receive expert treatment at the hands of a most capable cast. The photography is exceptionally fine and the direction skillful and understanding. Family.

"The Three Godfathers." Cast: Chester Morris, Lewis Stone, Irene Harvey, Wednesday, Thursday, Aug. 11, 12. Three badmen flee from justice across a desert waste. Fate heads them to an orphaned baby, who becomes their charge. The child is delivered into safety only after the three godfathers have succumbed to the inexorable demands of the desert. Excellent characterizations, the direction and photography contribute to the grimly dramatic quality of the whole. Adults.

Deerfield Firemen Fight Grass Blazes Deerfield to Vote

July 28 — North Shore Gas Co., on County Line Road. Spontaneous combustion in coal bunker. Burned south side of engine room. Fought fire from 9:30 to 12 midnight. Damage about $500.

July 29 — Grass fires: Helga Rosings' on Saunders Road; field at Broadmoor and Hazel avenues; field at Forest and Fair Oaks avenues.
