Deerfield Church Dramatizes History

Sixty years of progress were portrayed in an historical pageant at the Deerfield Presbyterian church last Thursday evening. The event was a part of the week's celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the church. Jirah Cole, narrator, told the story in a most impressive manner. The scenes of the pageant were authentic, with early characters brought back to life by a clever cast of the Presbyterian Dramatic club under the capable direction of Kenneth Hunter. Mrs. Agnes Petersen Tennermann wrote the pageant, assisted by Mrs. Chester Wolf, from facts gleaned from records in the possession of Mrs. Fred Meyer, a daughter of a charter member.

The pageant was preceded by a gathering in the church auditorium where Edgely Todd played the new electric organ and Mrs. Edna Orsborn sang.

Dr. W. F. Weir, minister, presided when reminiscences unfolded the church chronicles. E. B. Jordan told of the trustees part in the church; George Stanger, the Sunday school; Mrs. Fred Meyer and Mrs. George Pettis, the women's activities; Woodman Todd, the choir; Mrs. Henry Kiest of Northbrook recalled names of early church leaders; Irene Rockenbach paid tribute to the late Frank Mayer and Mrs. Fred Meyer read excerpts from Mrs. Mayer's letter of greeting. Miss Frances Biederstadt told of the purchase of the first piano.

Sunday's vesper service concluded the week's celebration. At this gathering old members and friends of the church received recognition. Greetings from nearby churches were brought by neighboring ministers. Music was given by Lake Forest college students. A tea brought the 60th birthday anniversary to a happy ending.

Survey Reveals 30% Increase in Years Employment

In a survey completed by the School Advertising Division of the Dean W. Geer company, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, in which the Lake College of Commerce, 14 North Genesee st., Waukegan, in connection with other private schools furnished statistics, it was revealed that the employment of graduates of private commercial schools the first eight months of this year increased 30 per cent over the same period in 1935. This survey was a compilation of 150 private business schools in the United States and Canada.

Employment calls received by business schools are regarded as an accurate barometer of business conditions. The reports of many of the schools this year indicate that they have received more calls than the number of graduates available.

All of the employment calls are for positions requiring specialized training; for stenographers, bookkeepers, accountants, secretaries, etc. The demand for young men with secretarial training is especially heavy.

The recent depression demonstrated the value of supplementing academic education with intensive business training in order to secure employment. Both high school and college graduates have come to recognize the value of intensive business training in securing starting positions.

There are about one thousand established private commercial schools in the United States.

Great Lakes Prepares for Navy Day, Oct. 27

The Athletic Field at the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a rehearsal of the sham battle and other exercises planned for Navy Day, October 27. The bronzed and sturdy young Americans undergoing training to be seamen in our country's first line of defense gave a realistic picture of a naval landing force operation as they advanced across the field with fixed bayonets to the accompaniment of rifle, machine gun and artillery fire. Among the interested spectators were the Honorable George F. Getz, Chairman of the Navy Day Committee for the State of Illinois; Captain Edward A. Evers, U. S. N. R., who commands the Illinois Naval Militia, and Lieutenant Commander Frank V. Martinek, U. S. N. R., a member of the Navy Day committee and the creator of "Don Winslow of the Navy." They later joined Rear Admiral John Downes, U. S. N., and his staff in the reviewing line for the "march past" of the recruit battalion which concluded the exercises for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merner attended the homecoming at the University of Illinois.

STATE'S ATTORNEY

has proven that he possesses these qualities:

PROSECUTION AND NOT PERSECUTION

While Mr. Mason has waged a determined fight against the criminal element in Lake County, he has conducted his office on the basis of prosecution and not persecution.
