By Independent Ballot

Tuesday is election day! A generation ago those words would conjure up pictures of torch light parades, impassioned oratory from flag draped band stands, saloon brawls, and riots at the polls.

Today, while vestiges of the old hookum remain, the voters of America are subjected to far more insidious and intensive form of propaganda. Nationwide broadcasts, the perfection of newspaper production, the highly specialized development of press agency, the use of propaganda technique brought on largely by the world war—these and other factors contribute to the flood of appeal that is poured daily into the minds of Americans.

In the face of this mass of biased and interested information, how is one to know how to vote for his own and his country's best interests? If a person listens intelligently to the argument of all sides he will be forced to decide that all are equally deserving and so be unable to decide where to cast his ballot.

According to the literature, speeches, press notices, and arguments of each party, only that party and its candidates are capable of administering the government and all others are scoundrels and knaves.

The voter today has two responsibilities. First, he has the duty and obligation, as well as the privilege of casting his ballot next Tuesday. In his own interest and as a loyal citizen of the United States let him go to the polls and vote.

Second, he must decide for whom to vote. This he must decide for himself. Let him take counsel with himself, be guided by his own convictions. Discard personalities and consider characters, weight fundamentals and issues, rather than scandal and hysterical hookum, and having taken all factors into consideration to the best of his ability, make his own decision uninfluenced by outside pressures.

Thus will America select a true leader.

Past Officers Are Honored at O.E.S. Meeting Wednesday

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 21, Campbell Chapter was host to the past officers of the chapter. The worthy matron and patron welcomed the following officers who had charge of the evening:

Worthy matron, Emma Howe; worthy patron, Edward Strenger; associate matron, Blanche Mueller; associate patron, Henry Hansen; conductor, Louise Strenger; associate conductress, Helen Abercrombie; chaplain, Agnes Nelson; marshal, Charles Brace; treasurer, Marie Schneider; secretary, Catherin Levin; Adah, Adelaide Green; Ruth, Frances Larson; Esther, Branche Musser; Martha, Violet Brown; Electa, Jennie Chantry; warder, Lillian Moon; sentinel, Norman Culver, organist, Lydia Harris; soloist, Bessie Okey.

Mrs. Margaret Marshall was the guest of honor and was escorted to the east. The past officers put on the initiatory work. Mrs. Bessie Okey sang appropriate solos during the evening. In the dining room the tables and refreshments were in keeping with the Halloween season.

The Officers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Marie Schneider on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Alvina Culver assisted her mother.

At the next stated meeting of Campbell chapter on Nov. 4, there will be election of officers and also initiation.

Used Car Market In Clavey Building

Due to the large volume of business in 1936, Purnell and Wilson, Inc., recently leased the Clavey Building at Skokie Blvd. and Clavey Rd.

The used car market will have the largest stock of used cars on the North Shore at moderate prices. An advertisement appears in this issue featuring their used car specials. More than 50 per cent of their used cars were sold in their Conversion Board contest.

Many Small Fires Keep Firemen Busy

The Highland Park fire department had a slightly busy week-end, although the majority of the fires were very small.

On Friday they responded to a call at the C. E. Bletsch residence, 395 Moraine rd., which is occupied by the S. Shapiro family. Rags near a furnace caught fire spreading to partitions. The damage was estimated at $150 to the house and $200 to contents.

Saturday, they were called to the O. S. Brown residence at 535 Bronson lane, where an over heated oven filled the house with smoke. No damage was done.

Monday, a call came from 122 N. Sheridan rd. where the maid in the F. P. Boynton home had locked herself out doors.

Tuesday, an electric short in a radio owned by Dr. I. C. Schur of 810 S. St. Johns ave., caused about $65 damage, to house and contents.

About ten minutes later they again responded to a call at 287 Central ave., where oily rags in a garage became ignited. The fire was out when the department arrived.

A blow torch used by painters started a blaze at the G. G. Bingham home, 145 Prospect ave., yesterday, but was extinguished by the time the fireman got there.

H.P. Y.M.C. Is Tied In Game Sunday

Altho the Highland Park Young Men's Club football team was held to a tie last Sunday against Lake Forest, they displayed a brand of football that should carry them thru the remainder of the season undefeated.

This coming Sunday the local boys will travel to Waukegan to tangle with the strong Twin City Merchants.

Last week Highwood defeated them 2 to 0 while three weeks ago Highwood defeated the Young Mens Club 12-0.

Last Sunday's game at Sunset Park the green and white outplayed the heavier Lake Forest eleven, even tho the final score was 0-0.

Several times during the game they were inside the Lake Forest 15-yard line. During the end of the second quarter a place kick was tried on the 10-yard line but was blocked. Never once did the Lake Foresters peril the local goal line.

Dance to Be Given At Orrington Hotel

Laura Mae McMahon, Jeanie Manian, Marge Weber, Mary Jane Guernsey, and Betty McMahon are giving a Thanksgiving ball on Nov. 27 at the Orrington hotel. Everyone is invited to attend.
