"Naughty Marietta." Cast: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Frank Morgan, Thursday, Oct. 29. A beautiful young princess escapes a distasteful marriage by masquerading as her maid and joining a group of girls going to the New World in search of husbands. The glorious voices of Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, lilting music of Victor Herbert, fine supporting cast, beautiful settings and costumes and skilful direction make this a production you will want to see many times. Family.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." Cast: Gary Cooper, Jean Arthur, Lionel Stander, H. B. Warner, Friday, Oct. 30. A highly diverting farce, with amusing dialogue, clever characterizations, a romance, real and appealing above the average, and a highly satirical note stressing the difference between the Golden Rule and its application. Worthwhile for any audience.

"Sequoia." Cast: Jean Parker, Russell Hardie, Saturday, Oct. 31. From the novel "Malibu" by Vance Hoyt, the unique photography of the poetic beauty of the virgin forest would in itself alone make "Sequoia" an enchanting film for any audience. This picture sets a new standard in family entertainment.

"Satan Met a Lady." Cast: Warren Williams, Bette Davis, Alison Skipworth, Arthur Treacher, Sunday, Monday, Nov. 1, 2. The story plot brings together a number of under world characters in search of the fabled horn of Roland. A keen but unscrupulous detective finds the horn which, however, does not hold the wealth ascribed to it by legend and brings the whole gang to justice.

In case of Sir Charles' death prior to 11 o'clock.

Enter Maurice Mullins, and right then and there things start to be arranged and the play slides on to an inexorable ending.

the efforts of an expert cast are wasted on a jerky and incoherent plot. Adults and young adults.

"His Brother's Wife." Cast: Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Taylor, Jean Hersholt, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Nov. 3, 4, 5. A tense melodrama, with its action alternating from sophisticated night clubs to fever-wracked jungles. The story tells of a girl's revenge, which soon turns into a boomerang. Although the production values are excellent, the story is highly improbable. Adults.
