

CHURCH NEWS

First Church of Christ, Scientist
Highland Park, Illinois, 381 Hazel avenue, is a branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Sunday morning service is held at 11 o'clock, and the Wednesday evening meeting, which includes testimonies of Christian Science healing, its at 8 o'clock.

Sunday school is open to pupils up to the age of 20 years, and is held Sunday morning at 9:30.

Subject for next Sunday's Lesson sermon, "Sacrament."

A free public reading room is maintained by this church at 43 N. Sheridan road, which is open daily from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 in the evening, except on Saturday when it is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

On Sunday the reading room is open from 2:30 to 5:30. Here the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased.

All are cordially invited to attend the services and make use of the reading room.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 3.

The Golden Text was, "God is the Lord, which hath showed us light" (Psalms 118:27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever" (1 Timothy 1:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Fricition and its idea is one, and this one is God, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent Being, and His reflection is man and the universe. Omni is adopted from the Latin adjective signifying all. Hence God combines all-power or potency, all-science or true knowledge, all-presence" (p. 405).

Diversion of motor vehicle funds in Illinois — the Gasoline Tax — should be stopped at once and steps taken to prevent such misuse in the future, says the Illinois Automobile club. Between 15 and 20 per cent of the $50,000,000 paid annually by the motorists of this state are diverted to other purposes than those for which the money was originally levied—building and maintenance of highways. Four states — Maine, Missouri, Minnesota and Colorado—have already taken action to protect their highway funds through constitutional amendments and a petition is now being circulated in Massachusetts for the same purpose. Illinois probably could not get a constitutional amendment, due to the difficulties surrounding such action, but Bills to amend the statutes, for the purpose of stopping present diversion and preventing anything of the sort in the future, will be introduced at the coming regular session of the Legislature and the club will support any such properly drawn measures.

"Illinois motorists are paying close to $10,000,000 a year for emergency relief and support of the public schools," explained Carl A. Barrett, president of the Illinois Automobile club. "This money is taken from the state's Gasoline Tax. In the early days of the depression, before the Sales Tax had been developed and when cash was urgently needed for the unemployed, use of Gas Tax funds for relief may have been justified. But conditions have changed and continued diversion is, in my opinion, no longer justified."

"Public education and public relief are essentially problems of the whole people, not of a segment of the populace. Special taxes, as now levied on the general public for the support of the schools and relief, are also paid by motor vehicle owners. On the other hand, non-owners do not contribute to the Gasoline Tax. This is not uniform taxation."

"Motorists are, at last, becoming tax conscious and at the same time aware of their rights. It isn't so much the amount of the Gasoline Tax to which they object—though that is plenty—as it is to the way in which it is spent. This tax is supposed to buy transportation, to furnish roads on which to operate motor vehicles economically, comfortably and conveniently. Were all the money now collected applied to road construction and maintenance, adequate highways would soon be provided.

"Modern highways would considerably reduce the accident toll. Highway engineers have proved that it is possible to build roads that are almost accident-proof. Engineers know how job should be done, but it takes money to do it. Diversion of highway funds misuses money intended to modernize our roads and thereby save lives. In other words, diversion of highway funds is directly responsible for a considerable portion of our highway accidents. In the name of safety, if for no other reason, diversion of Gas Tax money should be stopped."

Present Comedy at Sisterhood Meeting
The monthly meeting of the Sisterhood of the North Shore Congregation Israel of Glencoe will be held on Monday, January 18th at 2:15 p.m. "Wife and Secretary," a comedy by Ferenc Molnar, will follow the regular business meeting of the Sisterhood. This delightfully sophisticated play will be acted by a capable cast of Temple Players and directed by Kurt Wohlgemuth, who has produced the previous Temple Players offerings with such signal success. No admission fee will be charged. Sisterhood members, each of whom is invited to bring a guest to attend the performance. Due to the interest shown by members of the Sisterhood in the delightful social afternoons following the monthly meetings, a large attendance is anticipated, and it is suggested that those who wish to see the play be prompt.—M.C.L.

Post Library Is Open to Soldiers

The Fort Sheridan library, donated by General Holabird, former commanding general at the Fort, has been opened recently to residents of the post.
Located in the Officers club the newly-finished library has approximately 6,000 books which may be used by enlisted men and officers alike. Three-quarters of the volumes in the library are leather bound.
The book room at the Officers club has been remodeled in American butternut, with Venetian blinds on the windows, and modern furniture. Over the fireplace is a picture of General Sheridan surrounded by his staff.
Many valuable and rare books are found on the shelves. Most famous is a first edition of "A Dictionary of the English Language" by Dr. Samuel Johnson. This book was published in London in 1755 by W. Strahan.

Open Emergency First Aid Station

James T. Nicholson, manager of the Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, recently announced the opening of the chapter's nineteenth highway emergency first aid station at the junction of Skokie highway and Dundee rd. in the Village of Northbrook. Charles E. Malloy is in charge.

This newest link in the chain of Red Cross first aid stations is located at the focal point of the Skokie highway sodium vapor lighting demonstration conducted by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Gem Cleaners Top League in Lucky Bowling Streak
