Winter Salads and Salad Bowls
The day of fancy salads seems to be passing and green salads tossed together in a large wooden salad bowl, or an individual salad bowl is quite the thing. Whether this is a fad or shall remain for some time to come remains to be seen.

In this issue I'll give you a number of recipes for winter salads.

Romaine Salad
Romaine is slightly courser than lettuce but it may be just as crisp and tender and just as attractively served. Small heads of romaine are best. They have more delicate flavor and less waste. Long stalky leaves should be shredded. These shredded outside leaves can be served for the next day's salad.

Prepare in the same way as lettuce and serve with one of these dressings: Chiffonade, or French.

Chicory Salad
Chicory belongs to the endive family. It grows like a loose head of lettuce and its leaves are curly and deeply cut out. It is very decorative and combines well with other greens. Used as the foundation for a chopped cabbage or watercress salad, it is particularly refreshing.

The leaves of chicory should be separated, carefully washed, drained and put in a refrigerator vegetable pan or wrapped in a damp towel and put on ice to become crisp. Arrange on salad plates and serve with Piquante dressing.

Chicory may also be used just as you would use lettuce for the foundation of one of the more hearty salads. Chicory sometimes has a rather bitter flavor, especially the outer leaves, which, cooked like spinach, make a delicious vegetable course.

Cabbage Salad
Cabbage has taken honored place among green salads. It is digestible and rich in vitamins. Small, firm heads are best. Remove outside leaves. Cut the head in halves. Shave into very thin slices. Put in cold water one-half hour. Drain, put in a refrigerator vegetable pan or wrap in a damp cloth and place on ice. Serve with Chiffonade dressing.

A new way to serve cabbage salad is to remove center of head, leaving outside shell. Shred inner leaves and moisten with cooked salad dressing. Put dressed, inner leaves into shell. Trim with pimiento strips. Serve on platter. Garnish with watercress.

Watercress Salad
Watercress, whose dark green color and pungent flavor are so stimulating to the appetite, grows along the cool banks of streams. It requires care in cleaning because of its small leaves and many stems to which the sand clings.

Pick over cress and wash thoroughly. Chill in ice water and shake as dry as possible. Pile lightly in salad bowl and serve with French dressing or Tarragon dressing.

Lettuce and Watercress Salad

A cool, refreshing summer salad may be made by combining two fresh, crisp salad greens, lettuce and watercress. Separate lettuce leaves, wash and chill. Use watercress sprays on a bed of outside lettuce leaves (shredded). Or chop cress and serve inside lettuce leaves. Garnish with thinly sliced cucumbers and radish roses. Make radish roses by slashing into the top of the radish slightly, to make thin, narrow strips that stand out like petals. Serve with French dressing or summer dressing.

Variations of Dressings

Chiffonade Dressing: To your French dressing recipe add 2 tablespoons chopped parsley; 2-3 tablespoons chopped onions; 1 hard cooked egg, chopped; and one-fourth cup cooked beets, chopped.

Piquante Dressing: To your French dressing recipe add one-half teaspoon prepared mustard; one-eighth teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce; one-half teaspoon onion juice and 2 drops tabasco. Mix well.

Tarragon Dressing: To your French dressing recipe, add 1 hard cooked egg, chopped very fine, and use tarragon vinegar in place of ordinary vinegar.

Summer Dressing: To your French dressing recipe, use 1 tablespoon less of vinegar and add 3 tablespoons pineapple juice; 3 tablespoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon sugar.

Add Section to Golden State Ltd.

The Rock Island lines announce that a separate section of the Golden State Limited will be operated from Chicago, January 16, to accommodate the heavy travel for Phoenix and Palm Springs. One section of the Golden State Limited will operate through from Chicago to Los Angeles and San Diego and the other section to Phoenix and Palm Springs.

Winter tourist travel to Arizona and the desert section of California, "Garden of Allah," is extremely heavy.

Working with him are such prominent Lake county industrialists, business and professional men as James F. Stiles, Jr. of the Abbott Laboratories who is honorary chairman. To Select Queen of Exposition.
Plans have gone forward for the selection of some Lake county young lady who will serve as "Queen" of this mighty industrial show. It has been generally accepted that the cooperation and active participation of women in the "setup" of any outstanding public event is essential to both its financial and artistic success. World's fairs and expositions of any note have always had some personable young lady to grace their "Grand Opening" and be symbolic of the spirit of the event.

Lake county and its great exposition will be no exception to this rule. As a matter of fact the county has already been laid out in districts and district committeemen have been selected to nominate several young ladies in each of their respective districts. So as to show a balance of population as far as is possible, the several townships have been grouped as follows:

Dist. No. 1 contains Antioch, Lake Villa, Newport and Warren townships.

Dist. No. 2 contains Avon, Grant, Wauconda and Fremont townships.

Dist. No. 3 contains Cuba, Ela, Vernon and West Deerfield townships.

Dist. No. 4 contains Benton and Zion townships.

Dist. No. 5 contains Deerfield township.

Dist. No. 6 contains Libertyville township.

Dist. No. 7 contains Shields township. Dist. No. 8 contains Waukegan township.

Any young lady who is 17 years of age or older who resides in Lake county and is of good character is eligible to enter this contest. Anyone caring to suggest a nominee should immediately contact one of the district committeemen or send the name and address in to the Industrial Products Exposition, 127 Washington st., Waukegan.

Valuable Awards

The young lady who wins top honors will be presented with a beautiful 1937 Chevrolet coupe. Second prize winner will have her choice between a fur coat, diamond ring or travel trip with all expenses paid. Third prize winner will receive a beautiful diamond ring or diamond set wrist watch. In addition to the above prizes there will be beautiful diamond rings awarded as district prizes.

Local Committee

Today's Driving Hint

Breaking in a new car, it has been found, has a number of angles besides the common ones we know. In addition to breaking in the motor, we also must break in ourselves. These words may seem silly, but, nevertheless, they are true. We think we are finished drivers once we have learned to drive, because we think we have become used to the car we have; we know how it performs, and we know ourselves—or think we do.

These assumptions are correct so far as the car we now drive is concerned. But how about the new car? The new machine, because of improvements, may call for a method of handling entirely different from that of your present machine. Refinements in the gear shift, "finger control" steering wheels, "feather touch" brakes, new locations of the light and ignition switches or the emergency brakes—all call for realignment of our present driving routine. In truth, we have to "break in ourselves," as well as the car.

So, when you take delivery of the new car, spend some time getting used to it. Drive over some back country road or side street free from traffic and test your driving control. Find out how those brakes take hold, how quickly the wheels respond to the steering wheel. Get used to the new set-up, so that your moves become automatic. When they do, you can again call yourself a good driver.
