We Don't Have Floods

During the fall and early winter the citizens of Highland Park united with splendid spirit in raising funds for the less fortunate in this community. The whole-hearted generosity and co-operation given the project was an excellent testimony to the high character of the town. It showed that Highland Park is more than a collection of houses inhabited by persons totally disinterested in each other's welfare. There is a unity and friendliness about the city and its people.

In addition, Highland Park is particularly fortunate in being situated in one of those localities which is free from major physical disasters. The North Shore area does not have to cope with the earthquakes, cyclones, floods, and volcanic eruptions, the ravages of which are reported in the daily press more or less frequently in other parts of the world. In fact, rarely is this area harassed by destructive hail or ice storms.

As a community and as individuals Highland Park should be grateful for this immunity, and the peace and prosperity which is possible as a result of it. That life and business may continue uninterrupted by natural catastrophes is a contributing factor of importance in the prosperity, progress and happiness of any community. Highland Park is fortunate in this regard.

Action is a larger and more generous indication of gratitude than words. The people of this community have the opportunity at the present time of expressing tangibly their gratitude for the peace and freedom from disaster which is theirs. A large portion of the country is in distress as a result of abnormal flood conditions along the courses of some of the large waterways. Suffering is acute, with hundreds of thousands homeless, cold, hungry and in despair. The Red Cross, directing and co-ordinating the work of the many agencies engaged in relieving the need, has broadcast a call for help, for funds to provide for the huge task they must perform.

In giving generously toward this work the people of Highland Park have an excellent opportunity to show toward others the same compassion and kindness as they have shown for their own people, as well as a way of expressing gratitude for their own security and freedom from disaster of this type.

The Voice of Cookery

conducted by PHIL LIBBY

former Restaurateur now Food Consultant Listen to THE VOICE OF COOKERY, featuring Phil Libby, over Station WCFL (97.6 kilocycles) every week day morning, except Saturday, at 10:45 a. m., for interesting food facts, recipes, household hints and cookery advice.

You all know that oven meals are about the simplest of all to prepare, and that they require the minimum of attention during cooking. While these oven meals are simple, I wonder how many of us serve meats, that have been stuffed. This is no doubt one of the most interesting ways I know of to prepare meats. Stuffed meats not only develop a delightful flavor, but they are so little trouble and so easy to serve.

From the stuffings come the savories of the meat, so choose those which will not only develop the flavor, but also supplement it. This issue has a few stuffed meats that are delightful.

Stuffed Roast Veal 5 lbs. rump roast of veal 2 tablespoons butter 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon marjoram 1 tablespoon chopped green peppers. 2 cups bread cubes 1/2 onion 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley.

Have a pocket cut in the roast. Fill it with a filling made of stale bread cubes, melted butter, chopped onion and seasonings. Place on a rack in a roaster. Sear at 500 degrees F., for 20 to 30 minutes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover and bake at 275 degrees for 3 hours.

Baked Ham Stuffed with Sauerkraut Have butcher remove bone from a smoked ham. Stuff cavity with drained, canned sauerkraut. Sprinkle brown sugar over the ham. Place in open roasting pan and sear at 500 degrees F., for 20 to 30 minutes. Then reduce oven to 325 degrees F., and continue cooking 20 to 30 minutes to the pound.

Flank Steak 1 1/2 lbs. flank steak 1 teaspoon salt 1/4 teaspoon paprika 3 tablespoons fat 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 1/2 cups mashed potatoes 1 onion, chopped fine 3/4 cup hot water 1 bay leaf Cut deep pocket in side of steak, mix seasonings, sprinkle potatoes with half of the seasonings and onion. Stuff steak with potatoes. Skewer together or sew up pocket. Heat fat in skillet, dredge steak with flour, then brown in hot fat. Place in a deep baking dish. Add water to fat, in which steak has been browned. Add bay leaf. Then pour this liquid over the steak. Do not cover. Place in hot oven and bake.

Dutch Oven Stuffed Pork Chops 6 thick chops 3 apples, pared and cored 1/2 cup cracker crumbs 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 cup sugar Have butcher cut chops for stuffing. Mix stuffing and fill chops. Use toothpick to hold stuffing if necessary. Sear in dutch oven over high flame. Cover the dutch oven and cook on a low flame for 1 hour.

Mock Duck Take two uniformed sized spare-ribs and sew them together on one side. (Rounded sides outside). Fill the cavity with thin slices of tart apple which has been peeled, cored and sliced. Fill the entire cavity. Then finish sewing together. Season with salt and pepper. Place in an uncovered roaster, and sear at 500 degrees F., for 20 to 30 minutes. Cover, and reduce heat to 325 degrees and finish cooking.

Catholic Woman's League Give $200 to Flood Victims

Proceeds from the dessert bridge of the North Shore Catholic Woman's League held on Tuesday, Jan. 26, at the Community House in Winnetka, were turned over to the Red Cross relief fund. This party was originally intended for the benefit of the Mary club, but it was decided by the committee in charge that owing to the seriousness of the present situation, this party could be postponed until some future date and the proceeds turned over immediately for the relief of the victims of the flood. A goodly sum was realized, the amount being well over $200, and an appeal was made for clothing and extra donations as well.

Ten Years Ago

January 27, 1927

News of the death of Bowen W. Schumacher, which occurred at Captiva, Fla., on Jan. 21, came as a distinct shock to his many friends in Highland Park where he had lived for almost thirty-five years.

One of the most important events for a long time in the history of Highland Park is the organization here of a chapter of the American Business club, an organization of young men with a national scope and ambition to do great things for their communities. The club has about 20 charter members and will have their charter banquet Thursday evening at the Green Tea Pot.

Hope of many years are at last realized by the Scout troops of the North Shore area. Men are already at work preparing the logs for a Boy Scout cabin to be erected in the forest preserve, west of Glencoe.

Miss McConnell of Lake Forest was slightly injured while Miss Elizabeth Repholz and Miss Gertrude Martin escaped uninjured.

Highwood Firemen Announce Musical Treat at Dance

The Highwood Fireman's dance, being held Saturday, Feb. 20, is going to supply a real treat for everyone who attends. There will be plenty of dancing and fun. Refreshments will be sold in the basement.

The music is going to be furnished by Lela Schmidt's Dutch Girls band. This is a six-piece, all girls, orchestra from Milwaukee. This will be their first appearance in this vicinity so it will be something new and different, as well as very entertaining.

They have played in all of the leading ballrooms throughout Wisconsin and Iowa and through the western and northern parts of Illinois. They play both modern and old-time music so both young and old will enjoy themselves. They do trio singing and play the Swiss Chimes, which is the only set of its kind in the country, and they will put on a short floor show of wooden shoe dancing.

At present this band is a regular feature at the Wisconsin Roof and Futuristic ballrooms in Milwaukee, so any one who cares to have proof that this orchestra is good can go to these places and hear them or you can hear them broadcast from the Futuristic ballroom at 11 p. m. every Friday over the Milwaukee Journal Station, WTMJ. They have been at the Wisconsin Roof ballroom, which is one of Milwaukee's finest, for fourteen consecutive weeks. This week they are playing at the six day bike race at the Auditorium in Milwaukee.

The band members dress in blue silk Dutch costumes and wear wooden shoes. Their music stands are of Dutch wind mills which make a very attractive setting.

Any one wanting further proof of the superior goodness of this orchestra can ask any of the firemen who heard them play at the Fireman's Convention at Waukegan.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy during the recent bereavement of our dear sister, wife and mother. The White Family.

Annual Meeting Of North Shore Area In Ravinia Tuesday

Next Tuesday, Feb. 2, scout leaders and their wives will assemble at the Ravinia school for the tenth annual meeting of the North Shore Area council, Boy Scouts of America. It will also be the occasion of the fourth annual scout leaders' appreciation dinner. All scoutmasters, cubmasters, skippers, all the assisting and commissioners are being guests of the council.

THOMAS J. KEANE National Director of Senior Scouting, Boy Scouts of America

The program following the dinner will be rather brief, and will include dramatizations by Sea Scouts, the presentation of the annual report, election of officers for 1937, the presentation of Silver Beaver awards and a talk by the national director of senior scouting, Thomas J. Keane, on "The Crusade for Youth." Mr. Keane, one of the finest speakers of the Boy Scouts of America is a university graduate in arts, science and engineering. While a student he spent each summer sailing the high seas so that when he completed his college career he had also become a qualified seaman and navigator. Before the World War he spent two years in a Canadian Northwest, camping and exploring.

After several years engaged in engineering, Mr. Keane entered the United States Navy, spending five years in active service, during the war and afterward. During the last two years of his service he was aide to the commandant of the U. S. Naval Station at Great Lakes. He is a member of the Naval Reserve, with rank of Lieutenant Commander.

After the war, Mr. Keane devoted a considerable part of his leisure time to research in boy psychology with particular reference to programs for older boy groups.

In the course of this research, Mr. Keane became a leader of one of the first groups of Sea Scouts in Chicago and later helped to organize other groups throughout the city. Under his leadership, Sea Scouting advanced rapidly until Chicago became the leading Sea Scout city in the world. As a result of his success the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America appointed him as acting director of Sea Scouting in a volunteer capacity, and in 1927 he was appointed the national director of Sea Scouting.

Mr. Keane has traveled extensively and has made a study of scouting methods in thirty countries. In July 1935, he was one of the delegates at the sixth international scout conference in Stockholm, Sweden, at which time he also took part in the second World Rover Moot.

Commander Keane is a writer and authority on shipping and sea history and has written stories of the sea for boys. His book "Lubbers Afloat" describes interestingly the first voyage of two boys on a freighter across the Atlantic in which the lore of the sea is brought to the reader who is introduced in non-technical and entertaining fashion to the technical forms of nautical affairs.
