ATTEND CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO

Below are listed the names of the residents of Highland Park who were among the visitors from many states and foreign lands who attended the Founder's Week Conference sponsored by the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Jan. 31st to Feb. 7th, which celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of its founder, the famed evangelist, D. L. Moody. Great enthusiasm and throngs of people marked the eight-day gathering. The Centenary Memorial meeting at the Coliseum found an estimated 15,000 in attendance, with some 5,000 unable to get in. The closing service in the Moody Memorial church was attended by a capacity audience, more than 4,000 in the auditorium, and an overflow audience of 600 in another hall, the speakers each delivering messages to both audiences. This conference will be long remembered.
