Modern Trailer Park To Be Erected West Of Evanston

Despite the many discussions pro and con regarding the trailer and trailer camps, announcement was made early this week of the erection of a modern trailer park designed after the best in Florida and California, to be located six miles west of Evanston at the intersection of Touhy and Milwaukee avenues.

The camp is for the convenience of north shore visitors it was announced by Robert S. Crane, general sales manager of Quinlan and Tyson, Inc. The camp will be known as the Touhy-Milwaukee trailer park.

Features of the park, which will be easily accessible to any point along the north shore, will be: an administration building; commissary completely equipped with groceries, confections and household necessities; separate and modern bath and toilet accommodations for men and women; 20x20 foot parking allotments; free water and electricity, and very nominal rates for rental space and privileges. It is in no sense to be a "gypsy camp," but will be so designed as to be occupied the year around and will be operated in such manner as to insure a high grade occupancy.

Some of the pertinent facts which the establishment of the trailer park brings to mind are revealed in a recent editorial by Karl Hale Dixon,

Invest your washday in serving as a comrade to husband and children. It will bring far greater dividends than hours wasted at a washtub. Just as you have made an art of homemaking, we have made a business of washday.

Hundreds of women in this community use our service every week. Many of them, doubtless, are your neighbors. They know the joy of worry-free washdays . . . and they know, too, that our way safeguards health as well as clothes!

We are as convenient as your telephone. Call now, and a routeman will stop at your home to explain the different services we offer and help you select one suited to your needs. Start to enjoy that extra day of freedom this week.
