of estimating and other activities dealing with fabricated pipe and allied products, and Mr. W. F. Lahl, assistant manager, supervising the Industrial Zone Men in the field. Mr. J. H. H. P. Baseball Team

Undiscouraged by a 17 to 3 beating at the hands of the Chicago Ramblers in the first game in the Ill. State Amateur Baseball league, the Highland Park baseball team will seek its first league victory Sunday at Sunset park.

Four errors, committed on costly occasions, practically presented the game to the Ramblers in the first inning. Four runs crossed the plate. And that was too big a margin to overcome, although the north shore entry did cut the margin in half in the opening stanza.

A goodly crowd of fans witnessed Highland Park's debut in its attractive white and blue suits. Ray Chambers, manager of the team, attributed the team's erroneous showing to the fact that Sunday's game was the first of the year and that practice sessions had been few because of the weather.

In spite of making eight bobbles afield, the hometown boys did manage to show a little power at the plate. Nine hits were made, including a single and double by Bill Boehm. Dumb base running alone kept the Parkers from scoring at least three more tallies.
