

National Programs To Be Heard During Fourth Week Concerts

Hans Lange, whose success with orchestra and public alike last summer at the Ravinia Festival's first season, won him a permanent position with the Chicago Symphony orchestra in Chicago as associate conductor, will return to Ravinia to direct the fourth week of the sylvan symphony concerts, after but a brief rest from his arduous winter duties.

Mr. Lange's well grounded musicianship proved a boom to the Chicago Symphony's winter season, when owing to the illness of Dr. Stock he was called upon to shoulder all of the conductorial duties and finish the season. That he succeeded so well is amply attested by the popular demand for his return to Ravinia this summer.

Like Dr. Stock, Mr. Lange is one of the conductors who rose from the ranks of orchestra players. Starting his public career as a violinist at the early age of seven, he advanced in a short time to soloist, concertmeister, assistant conductor, quartet player, and director. After directing the Frankfurt Bach society for several years, he came to New York as assistant conductor and assistant concertmeister of the Philharmonic orchestra. The next season he founded his own quartet and headed the Philharmonic Symphony Chamber orchestra of New York.

Since 1931, Lange was a regular conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra, resigning last season, when he came to Ravinia and to the Chicago Symphony orchestra. In addition to his other duties, he will this season add a chamber orchestra to his list of activities.

Mr. Lange's four concerts at Ravinia, beginning July 22nd, will be made up in the form of national programs.

The first on July 22, is an all-English program, listing the Vaughan Williams "London Symphony," Elgar's "Enigma" Variations, "The Walk to the Paradise Garden," from "A Village Romeo and Juliet," by Lellius, and St. Paul's Suite, for String Orchestra, new to the Symphony programs, by Holst.

A French program on Friday, July 23, includes the d'Indy Symphony for Orchestra and Piano for a French-Highland song, and a Ham-eau-d'Indy Suite No. 1, from Dardanous. Following the intermission Honegger's Symphonic Poems, "Pastorale d'ete," the Ballet Music from Saint-Saens, "Samson et Dalila," and three numbers by Berlioz, Minuet des Follets, Danse des Sylphes and the familiar Rakoczy March will complete the program.

An All-American program is scheduled for Saturday night, and a Nordic concert will close the week on Sunday afternoon.

The American program has been excellently chosen opening with W. Grant Still's Afro American Symphony, a (new) Dance in Three Time, by Quincy Porter and Henry Hadley's Tone Poem "The Ocean," before the interval, and Van Vactor's delightful Concerto for Three Flutes, Hary and Orchestra, Fairy Tales, (new) by B. Rogers, and the staple Irish Rhapsody of Victor Herbert to close the program.

(Mr. Van Vactor is a member of the flute section of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra).

Sunday's Nordic program at 4:00 p.m. brings to the first hearing of the season the Sibelius Symphony No. 2. Other Nordic composers represented are Sinding with his "Rondo Infinito," Op. 42, Svendsen's Scherzo and Andante from Octet, Op. 3, and the Swedish Rhapsody, "Midsummer Wake," by Alfvén. The complete programs follow:

Deerfield Boys Narrowly Escape Injury Saturday

John Willen, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. A. Willen of 1111 Springfield avenue, and Frank Stuppel, son of Village Trustee Harry Stuppel and

Mrs. Stuppel of 1015 Greenwood avenue, Deerfield, riding in an automobile driven by Warren Bonson of 1827 Deerfield road, Highland Park, narrowly escaped injury on Saturday, when the car in which they were riding was struck by a North Shore Line train at Central avenue crossing in Highland Park.

The car was headed west and was struck by a south-bound local. The impact of the collision shoved the auto about 50 feet down the track. Although the coupe was smashed considerably, the fact that the boys escaped injury is attributed to the train just starting up from the station.

Only 133 Cases On Relief In Township

W. W. Steele, supervisor of Deerfield township, announces that at the present time not an able bodied man is on relief in his township. Those receiving aid are widows and children, aged and sick people.

According to the June report from the county, there are 133 cases on relief in Deerfield township, which boasts a population of 17,000 and includes the south end of Lake Forest, all of Highwood, part of the village of Deerfield and Highland Park. There are 18 townships in Lake County with a poormaster in each township. Until July 1 of last year, the county cared for the poor.

Mr. Steele states that July and August are the slowest months for relief. The peak load was in March when the township was handling 235 cases, but this year has been the lowest in the past five for relief.

Highwood Citizens to Discuss Park Project July 23rd

A meeting of all the citizens of Highwood, and all organizations within the city is called for Friday evening, July 23 to formulate plans for the securing of a municipal playground for the City of Highwood.

All communities along the north shore have made provision for a park and through the efforts of Stupey Smith post of Highwood, it is hoped that this city will also boast of its playgrounds.

Mayor Portilia is chairman of a committee composed of Aldermen Jesse Helton and Richard Shannon who are to work with Paul Blum and John de Smidt of the American Legion to further the plans. All interested citizens are urged to attend the meeting on July 23.

Christian Science Monitor Exhibit Is on View Here

A temporary exhibit of the Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper which reaches subscribers in seventy-two nations, is presented in the windows of Sheridan building at the corner of Sheridan road and Central avenue, Highland Park. This exhibit is to acquaint the public with the news and magazine value of the paper, the scope as a local, national and international news vehicle, types of writing and writers which offer straightforward clear, clean journalism. The display will change from time to time.

"The constructive service which the Christian Science Monitor has consistently rendered to better understanding between nations is widely appreciated in all parts of the world." This quotation is taken from a letter written to the Editorial staff of the Monitor Board, by President Roosevelt.

Chef at Milani's Meets with Injury

Peter Guidizi, a chef employed by Dean Milani at 346 Railway ave., was severely cut on the back of the head in a fall early Tuesday morning. He was taken to the Highland Park hospital where he remained until last evening, when he returned to his home.
