D. A. R. BETTER FILMS REVIEW

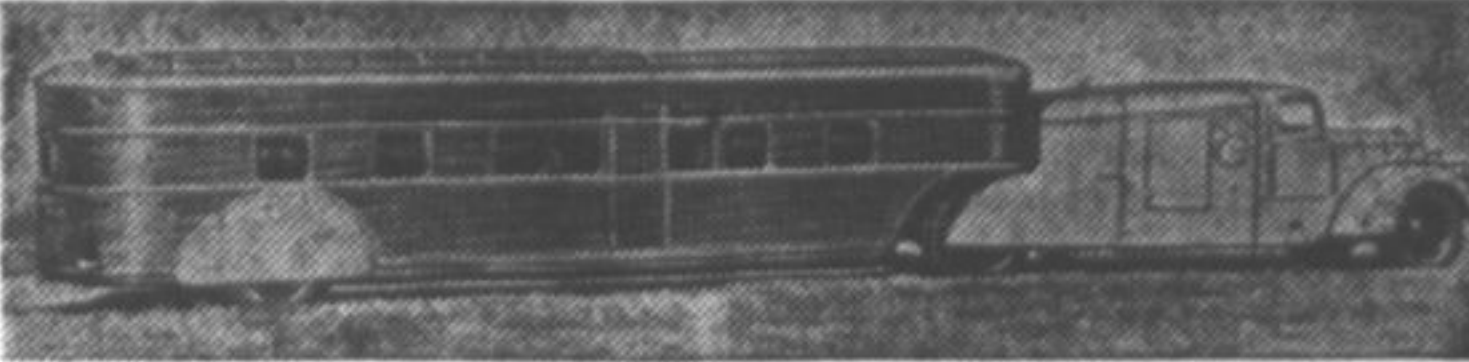

"Hotel Haywire." Cast, Leo Carrillo, Lynn Overman, Mary Carlisle, Spring Byington, Thursday, Aug. 12. An astrologer stirs up a lot of trouble when he attempts to straighten out a marital tangle, but all ends well. A harmless funny farce. Family.

Feature No. 2
 "There Goes My Girl." Cast: Gene Raymond, Ann Sothern, Gordon Jones, Thursday, Aug. 12. A murder, a stormy romance and one of those bizarre city editors so frequently seen on the screen form the basis of a gay, if hairbrained, comedy. Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern are well trained, but the inconsequential story is hardly a satisfactory vehicle for them. Adults and young adults.

"Angels Holiday." Cast: Jane Withers, Joan Davis, Robert Kent. Friday, Saturday, Aug. 13-14. Another Jane Withers film in which, as the daughter of a writer of detective stories, her plan for sleuthing involves her in the publicity-stunt disappearance of a popular young actress. The plot and dialogue way beyond Jane Withers years. Adults.

"This Is My Affair." Cast: Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck, Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Aug. 15-16-17. Called upon to serve his country by apprehending some bank rob-

Camels Banished From Desert By Newest American Transport

MODERN American inventiveness has reached out to banish another centuries-old institution in a far-off land.

Ships of the desert that ply the sandy seas between Damascus and Baghdad are heading for their last port. Who will traverse 600 miles of Syrian sands by camel-back when he can spin comfortably and far more quickly across them by sleeper bus?

The desert has no terrors for this new transport means, now supplanting even the fastest automobile facilities. Using the America's popular light-weight, fast trains, it has a top speed of sixty-five miles an hour behind its 150-horsepower tractor that covers 600 miles in fifteen hours. Sand storms and stifling temperatures are part of the serious weather vicissitudes with which Syrian desert travelers have had to contend, but they are no hand-cap to the bus travelers. They ride in a tightly sealed vehicle air conditioned by most approved American methods, their surroundings as conditioned homes, trains, offices and factories with which Americans daily are growing more familiar. In Washington William B. Henderson, executive vice-president of the Air Conditioning Manufacturers' Association, said the Syrian desert service is the latest striking evidence of the acceptance of this great health and comfort principle.

Always Dependable

"Your paper has maligned me!" roared the irate citizen, as he stormed into the editor's sanctum. "I demand that the guilty reporter right this wrong!" "Trust him," retorted the editor sadly, "to write this wrong."
