Deerfield-Highwood in Line For New Post Office

Washington.—The House Appropriations committee listed Tuesday a larger number of buildings thruout the country for proposed con-struction under a $70,000,000 public building program. Of that sum, $280,000 was recommended to Lake

The projects, mostly postoffice buildings, are on the recommended list from which the treasury and postoffice department will select those to be undertaken. The third deficiency appropriation bill carries a $23,000,000 lump sum for public

The projects actually selected for immediate construction will be announced after congress completes action on the bill.

The list of new authorized prolects from which will be selected those for actual construction included 28 cities and towns in Illinois. Of the Illinois towns selected for the location of the project, four are in Lake county. With the amount of their allotments they are: Deerfield, $70,000; Grayslake, $70,000; Antioch, $70,000, and Highwood, $70,000. If this construction program is carried out, the four Lake county communities will have new

Reject Plan To Convert Church To Community House

The dream of a Community House for Highland Park again became the three north rooms have been re- history, when at a public hearing tion. Tuesday evening, the Zoning Commission rejected the suga change in the zoning code, which would permit the conversion of the Christian Science church into Community house.

The proposition was turned down due to the fact that adjoining property owners objected to the change basing their claim on the violation of the zoning ordinance created by this act and on the decreasing of property values caused by having a center of this kind in a residence district.

The meeting was a very friendly one and the subject was discussed

Community Service, Inc., has been working for months trying to secure a centrally located site for a building which would be for the use of Highland Park citizens. When the possibility of securing this property arose, it seemed the logical thing to do to secure the Christian Science church property. Whether further action will be taken to secure another site by Community Service, Inc., remains to be seen At any rate, the citizens of this city can be sure of one thing, and that is, that the Community House is still a dream, and will be until another site is available.
