Press Sponsors Football Contest Again This Year

As has been the custom of the Highland Park Press for a number of years, a football contest in cooperation with a group of advertisers, will again be sponsored. This is one of its most popular features and attracts widespread attention during the fall season.

Rules for the contest are very simple. On page four of this issue of the Press will be found a series of advertisements in each of which is printed the names of two schools whose teams will play each other next Saturday. Write a list of all the advertisers on the page, and beneath the list write a figure representing your guess as to the total number of points scored in all games. In other words the figure desired is the sum of all scores made by the teams listed.

All answers must reach The Highland Park Press before noon next Saturday. Anyone may complete with the exception of employees of The Press.

Each of the first two persons who bring in the correct or most nearly correct list to The Press will receive two reserved tickets to the Northwestern-Iowa game on Oct. 2. The second prize will be a 6x8 portrait by Heeketsweiler studio and the third prize will be Alcyon theater tickets.

No Civic Orchestra Without New Members

In making up its program, the Educational Committee of the Y.W.C.A. which takes care of the educational and recreational activities of that organization, is undecided as to whether to continue the Civic Orchestra. This group had two very successful seasons under the inspirational leadership of Mrs. Helen Mayer Mannings, and was a fine musical outlet for adults in the community who were interested in continuing to play orchestral instruments.

But a number of the members of the group have moved away, and unless there are enough musicians in the community who desire to play once a week under Mrs. Mannings' direction, the orchestra will be discontinued. If those who are interested will telephone or write to the Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Raff, 245 Cedar ave. before October first, a group can be organized to carry on this community activity.

Death Claims Third Victim Of Iowa Traffic Accident

Miss Laura Brammer, 67, of 1936 Pershing avenue, Davenport, was the third victim in the auto accident near Grand Mound, Ia., in which Mrs. Benjamin H. Ball of this city was killed. Miss Brammer died Thursday without knowing that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Brammer, had expired the previous day.

The two survivors of the head-on collision, Elaine Ball, 19, daughter of Mrs. Ball, and Miss Veronica Brammer, 48, daughter of Mrs. Brammer, are recovering from injuries at the Jane Lamb hospital in Clinton, Ia. Miss Ball, who suffered a concussion of the brain, is reported getting along very well, although her recovery will no doubt be slow.

Chicken Dinner, Sept. 30

St. Johns church, corner of Home-wood avenue and Green Bay road, will serve a chicken supper, Thursday evening, Sept. 30. Serving will begin at six o'clock. This is open to the public.

HARRIETT RETURNS

Yes sir, Harriett is home again, just like the proverbial bad penny that always returns. However, Harriett cannot be classed with the bad penny for she chose to stay away from home for six months, and whether she will be content to remain within the realms of a small enclosure is doubtful, for she has enjoyed the freedom of the Prairie lass and has been at large for sometime. Being of a very evasive type, she succeeded in straying from one end of the city to another in spite of the numerous hunting expeditions.

Finally, however, she was trapped when she followed a pony into the corral on the Wagner estate in Lake Forest. And now Harriett has been returned to her owner's Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crist who are too happy to chastise the naughty deer.

Other features of the program are being planned by Mrs. Theodore Osborn, president, and Mrs. Alfred Burdick. Mrs. Lyle Gourley, social chairman, with her committee, Mrs. Lee Gatewood, Miss Adele Everett, Alvina Culver, and Dorothy Simpson, will serve refreshments following the program. The Membership committee, Mrs. Louis Schemmel, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Frank Austin, Mrs. Alfred Burdick, with Mrs. Earl Fritsch, chairman, will welcome guests.

"Below Stairs" in the playroom a more informal part of the open house will be staged with demonstrations of club and class activities. Hooked and braided rugs and artistic quilts made by club members, and a humorous character group in costume representing their dramatic interests, will be features of the exhibit of the Mothers' club arranged by the president, Mrs. William Howard. The Emanon league and Pi Delta club, business girls' clubs, the Friendship club of household employes, the grade school Y clubs, the new high school Student association, will all have displays or be glimpsed at work on a project.

The Poster class, sponsored by Hazel Crow Ewell, will have an exhibit of their work and also a display of water colors by Nicholas Frigo, their instructor. The Community Chorus, the dancing groups of Marian Keeney, and new classes in dramatics and homemaking which will be announced for the first time that night will have information secretaries in charge.

Young Violinist In Concert Sunday At L. Cohen Home

The entire community of Highland Park is expressing a keen interest in the coming concert by the brilliant young violinist, Madeline Carabo, who will be heard Sunday afternoon, Sept. 26, at 8:30 in the charming home of Mrs. L. Lewis Cohen at 266 Hazel avenue.

Mrs. Clarence W. Schaaf, chairman of the Music Committee of the Highland Park Woman's Club, under whose auspices the concert is being held, and the following members of her committee have been Spachner, William Gartside, James Loeb, John Oliver (Ch. of the Fine Arts Dept.), Arthur Raff, Herbert Smith (President of the club), Annette Jones, George Jones and Carl Pfantstiel. There are a few tickets left, and the space is necessarily limited, and the audience will represent the musical and an cultural group in the community.

The members of the local Music Club who had the good fortune to hear Miss Carabo last Fall when she played before that organization as a guest artist, are happy for the opportunity of being able to hear her again, especially after a winter's hard study in New York under the personal sponsorship of Benno Rab-inoff, one of the country's great younger violinists. Miss Carabo, who combines personal charm, youth, enthusiasm and a great talent, captivates her audiences by the brilliancy of her playing and the warmth of her tone. Her program is a particularly interesting one, including, as it does, music that is both charming, deep, tuneful and

Leon Harris and Frank L. Beals Write Stirring Novel of South

"Look Away, Dixieland," a novel of the southland, is now on the bookstands all over the United States, and bids fair to be one of the best sellers of the year.

The book was written by Leon F. Harris of Alden, Inc., of Highland Park, in collaboration with Major Frank L. Beals, assistant superintendent of schools in Chicago. Mr. Harris came to Highland Park from Mississippi in the summer of 1918, when the United States was engaged in the World War. The story centers around Willow Brook in Hinds county, Mississippi, midway between Jackson and Vicks-

D. A. R. To Launch Years Work With Card Party

The Highland Park Woman's Club will be the scene of a delightful gathering on Tuesday, September 28, at 2 p. m. when the North Shore Chapter of the D. A. R. welcomes members and friends to the annual card party, which for years has been awaited and anticipated by women of the community, as one of the Fall's most pleasant occasions.

The chapter contributes generously each year to scholarships and loan funds to enable less privileged children in the mountain schools and also here in Illinois to secure an education, and the proceeds from this party are to be used for these worthy projects. Among these various schools is one at Tamasese, North Carolina, and this year the table prizes are to be furnished by that school, and will be a bit out of the ordinary. Many lovely door prizes have been donated by the local merchants, among whom are the Alden Studio, Borchardt Beauty Shop, Chandler's, Dreiske Floral Shop, J. B. Garnett's, Gsell Drug Store, Irvale Company, and Harry Williams Florist Shop. The chapter greatly appreciates this helpful co-operation and extends a cordial welcome to all women in the community to enjoy the day and the opportunity to meet friends once more after the summer vacations are over.

Mrs. Walter T. Rice is chairman of the card party and she and her committee have left nothing undone to contribute to the success of the afternoon. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Warren E. Danley, 260 Linden Park Place.

Fine Program at Alcyon Theater

Monkeyshines, melody and merriment, with the Clown Princess of Laughmania going to town with their inimitable tomfoolery, mark the latest comedy co-gagging Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in "On Again—Off Again." On the Alcyon Theatre screen for Saturday only.

In a film that affords amazing contrast with their former vehicles, William Powell and Luise Rainer achieve new credit in "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which the Alcyon is showing on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday coming.

A fine cast, an excellent story and superb direction, well spiced with action, comedy and tense drama, combine to make of "Exclusive" one of the season's real hit films. It is a thrilling newspaper story, intelligently enacted by Fred MacMurray, Frances Farmer and Charlie Ruggles. To be presented at the Alcyon on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Mildred Haessler Back from East to Reopen Studio

After studying this summer in the east at the Arthur Murray School of Social Dancing and the N. Y. Dancing Masters Normal courses, Mildred Haessler is preparing to open her studio at 1737 Rice street, Ravinia, on Monday, October 4.

She studied new techniques of teaching which included the latest applications of the Ballet as the foundation of all other types of dancing, especially in relation to the use of the body in tap and social dancing. For this reason all the beginners classes will have Ballet in combination with some tap or acrobatics.

Classes are especially graded to meet the requirements of all. For very young children (4 to 5 years) an early afternoon class which comes on Mondays at 2:30 will give elementary training in Ballet technique, acrobatics and folk rhythms. Private lessons for adults in social dancing are given on Monday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings. Mr. Viterbo Gianelli will assist and the Arthur Murray method of analysis and dance steps will be used.

A special group for twelve high school girls is being planned in ballet and character dancing and musical comedy tap for use on public programs. Also, for all who have had two or more years of straight tap, two classes including only the most advanced tap routines will be given on Thursday afternoons at 4 and 5 o'clock. Miss Luise Haessler will assist in these classes. Any girl wishing to join the special high school group should apply to Mrs. Haessler as soon as possible. As the class will meet in the evening transportation will be included afterwards so the girls may reach home.

Registration is Friday and Saturday, October 1 and 2, either by interview or telephone.
