Autumn Beauty Is At Height Now In Indiana Scenic Park

"The Shades" Beauty Spot
October in Indiana is one of the best months of the year to tour and autumn visitors throng to colorful forests to view the beauty of golden Indian summer. At "The Shades" scenic park in Montgomery county near Waveland, Indiana there are more than two thousand acres of natural beauty.

Over 100 varieties of trees have been classified in "The Shades" park. Different kinds of oaks, maples, beech, hickory, black and white walnut (Butternut) tulip poplar (the Indiana state tree) gum, ash, locust, sassafras, linden, sycamore, ironwood, buckeye, aspen, elm, hackberry wild cherry, mulberry, pawpaw, service-berry, red-bud, coffee-nut, dogwood, witch-hazel and many others cover the hills and valleys with a riot of color in October.

Rock formations, too, are of a wide variety in the park and bear such interesting names as Look-Out Point, 210 feet above Sugar Creek; Blackfoot Gap, Red Fox Ravine, Buzzards Root, Little Devils Bath-tub, Maiden-hair Falls, Hemlock Falls and Bridal Veil Falls. Old Indian trails wind among cliffs of sandstone, through deep moss-covered canyons, past waterfalls and mineral springs.

A modern hotel operates on the American plan and provides excellent accommodations to visitors. All are outside rooms and are equipped with hot and cold running water, some with private bath. Well-seasoned food from the Shades farms and gardens are served in the hotel dining-room where the cuisine caters to tired and hungry hikers.

The Chicago Motor club suggests the following route from Chicago, 160 miles of excellent roads by way of U.S. No. 41 and Indiana No. 234. The latter road winds through hills and over an old wood covered bridge crossing Sugar Creek which flows through the Shades park.

Sisterhood To Hear Program Of Unusual Interest October 18

The opening program of the Sisterhood of North Shore Congregation Israel is to be one of unusual interest. The meeting, to be held at the temple in Glencoe on Monday afternoon, Oct. 18, at 2:15 o'clock, will feature the rare combination of both Rabbi and Mrs. Charles E.

Shulman speaking on experiences and impressions gathered from their recent foreign travels.

Rabbi Shulman has chosen as his subject "Humanity in Chaos," and will present, from first-hand experiences during this summer's journey through Palestine, Rumania, Austria, Poland and Switzerland, his story of the unrest and turmoil left in the wake of the war, its effects on Jewish life and national life in general. Well known as scholar and orator, Rabbi Shulman's insight into the problems of the world should provide a rich backdrop for his subject.

Mrs. Shulman will continue from the point where Rabbi Shulman ends his talk, and will give us a word picture of the settlement in Palestine of those who have exiled themselves from their European homelands. Mrs. Shulman, noted as a brilliant speaker and writer, has just returned from a six months sojourn in Palestine, where she met many of the outstanding personalities of the country, and where she worked side by side in one of the new colonies with expatriated Polish Jews. Her discourse, titled "Earth Deep in Palestine," will be richly colored by her own personal experiences.

GAS HEAT is BETTER!

... the Home of
Mrs. Wm. H. Hulswit,
235 Mary St., Hubbard Woods.
Says Mrs. Hulswit:—

"We have used gas for heating our home since the fall of 1926, and I want to take this opportunity to tell you why we like it so much... It has cost us nothing for maintenance during all these years. The Gas company cleans the boiler during the summer, and all we do is light it in the fall. Could anything be more convenient... there is no investment in fuel, as we pay monthly for the gas used. It is absolutely clean, as gas throws off neither dust, smoke or grease; and it is economical. Owing to rate reductions, our heating bills amount now to only half of what they did when we first used gas heat, and the new rate reduction makes them even lower..."
