

Girl Scout News

Answers to last week's questions:
 1. In popular thought toadstool means poisonous and mushroom edible. All may be called either mushrooms or toadstools.
 2. The French mouseron which means moss.
 3. Yes, it has been extinct over 200 years.
 Questions: Do you know?
 1. The food of butterflies?
 2. What "meerscham" is?
 3. Two places in the household where you will always find a piece of mica?

The Ravinia Girl Scout Troops have organized and are announcing the results of the selection of their scribes, treasurers, leaders of patrols.

Troop 32—Mrs. John E. Long and Mrs. Arthur Mason, leaders. Scribe, Paula Raff; treasurer, Doris Long; patrol leaders, Clarice Defenbau, Mary Louise Dyer.

Members of troops—Barbara Aronoff, Marjorie Benson, Molly Boyer, Barbara Cole, Joyce Gitlin, Betty Hart, Alice England, Betty Martin, Jean Prior, Lucille Nichols, Frances Sillier, Janice Wilson, Dorothy Woodbury.

Troop 25—Mrs. William Goodred and Mrs. H. E. Holt, leaders. Scribe, Betty Ann Wible; treasurer, Lorraine Foster; patrol leaders, Joan Holt, Ruth Thompson, Frances Abbie Mason.

Members of troop: June Cabonargi, Peggy White, Cynthia Stokes, Lorraine Foster, Dot Jones, Barbara Morris, Patricia Goodred, Claire Rosenfels, Shirley Weed, Elaine Wood.

Troop 25 voted the balance from last year's treasury to be used for a First Aid kit.

Troop 24—Mrs. George Lake, leader. Scribe, Marjorie Johnston. Patrol 1, leader, Joan Hiendrichs; patrol 2, leader, Bertha Thomson; patrol 3, leader, Frances Grimes; patrol 4, leader, Jean Easton.

Members of troop: Arlene Abernathy, Edwena Benson, Paula Bollenbacher, Diana Cabonargi, Phyllis Copp, Jane Meyerhoff, Nancy Holt, Elizabeth Ann Jenkins, Mary McClure, Alice Rossiter, Helen Sarrett, Suzan Sheridan, Joan VanBergen, Kathleen Watson, Shirley Wilson, Elaine Wagner, Barbara Nickol.

Miss Mairon Musser, who is a Senior in the Highland Park high school and the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Musser, will teach "Signalling" to the Ravinia Troops on each Monday afternoon until the last week in November. This will enable every girl scout in every Ravinia troop to get her merit badge in one of the most difficult but finest requirements in the program. Whether a girl scout ever needs to use this knowledge of signalling is relatively unimportant, the mental training is of great value.

Mrs. John F. Brant, chairman of Badges and Awards committee calls attention of Girl Scouts to the Archery classes held every Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Elm Place school. Mr. Sidney Morris is for the second season giving of his time and talent and acting as instructor in these classes. If the demand is great enough, Katherine Weber, winner of the Archery Award last year, will organize and conduct an archery class in the afternoon.

Because of leaders' training classes and special meetings, Miss Mary Longley finds it impossible to be in the office of the girl scouts at the hours announced last week and until further notice, can be reached for definite appointments by calling H.P. 2798 or 2424.

From Savannah, Georgia, in connection with the twenty-third annual convention of the girl scouts, came news of interest to Highland Park residents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Doty Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Doty, is now a resident of Savannah. Mrs. Evan's Scout record is as follows: Golden Eaglet Girl Scout; Leader in Highland Park, Ft. Sheridan, Columbus, Ga., Washington, D. C., and at present in Savannah. Eleven years ago Miss Evans attended her first convention as a Highland Park delegate to St. Louis, Mo.

This year (1937) at the dedication of the Memorial Tablet to Juliette Low, Miss Patricia Evans, eldest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, was on the Guard of Honor. Although Highland Park sent no delegates to this convention, we feel that because of Mrs. Evans' outstanding record of service, Highland Park was represented.

Don Cossack Chorus To Be Featured In Winnetka Program

A program new to the north shore and new to the Chicago area, except for the Civic Opera house appearance, will be presented by the Don Cossack Russian Male chorus, Serge Jaroff, conductor, by the New Trier Sunday Evening club at New Trier high school on Sunday, October 24, at 7:30 p.m. as the opening for the 24th season of the club. W. Frank McClure of Wilmette, founder and president of the club, will preside.

The world famous Don Cossack chorus has just begun its eighth American tour and with another sold-out season of nearly 100 consecutive concerts has established a record never equalled by any visiting choral organization. They opened in Montreal for their 11th appearance and will travel more than 40,000 miles in 14 weeks by train, bus, and airplane to fill their engagements.

Subscribers to the New Trier Sunday Evening club will be admitted on presentation of their membership tickets. Non-subscribers will be asked to pay an admission charge of $1 for adults and 50c for children. This program is the only one in the season for which there will be an admission charge. The others are underwritten by contributions from sponsors and collections from the audience. For every $5 contribution a reserved seat is held for the subscriber. Single admission tickets and season tickets will be available at the door Sunday evening.

LIBRARY

Books at the Highland Park Public Library:

Henry Clay, by Bernard Mayo. For the following reasons, Henry Clay was called, "The Cock of Kentucky." At 29, he represented his state in the Senate. He was the most successful lawyer, the most popular politician in his state. He made a fortune, built a mansion. Before he was 30 he was thinking of the presidency; before 35 he was Speaker of the House. The book which is to be in three volumes, is not only the biography of this prominent figure, but a picture of the times.

Twentieth Century Composers, by David Ewen. A delight for those who enjoy the modern composers. Its seventeen chapters are devoted to the outstanding moderns whose music we hear but know little of the composers themselves. Among those discussed are: Maurice Ravel, Sir Edward Elgar, Ignor Stravinsky, Charles Martin Loeffler, Bela Bartok, Arnold Schoenberg.

The Arts, by Hendrick Van Loon. Readers who enjoy Van Loon, his geography, story of mankind, ships, and etc., have been looking forward to this book. Like the others it is attractively illustrated in color. As the title suggests, it is the informal story of the arts from the earliest times to the present, covering painting, sculpture, architecture, and music.

Young Henry of Navarre, by Heinrich Mann. This is a colorful novel, which follows facts closely. It portrays sixteenth century France, with its luxury, poverty, cruelty, wars, politics. The battle of wits between Henry of Navarre and Catherine de Medici is cleverly done. "It is a splendid novel, a fine history and a glorious comment on life. Power which has grown too sure inevitably become stupid."

Road To War: America 1914-17, by Walter Mills. This book has been quoted frequently lately. In an attempt to analyze the physiological forces back of our entry into the World War, the author traces in detail the trends of thought in the United States during the three years immediately preceding our declaration of war. He studies as impartially as possible the motives of the statesmen, the pattern of public opinion and the technique of propaganda.

Vehicle Accidents Show Marked Increase During Fall Season

Springfield, Ill. — Pointing out that records of former years indicate that motor vehicle accidents will show a marked increase during the fall months, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, in a safety bulletin issued here today, urged football fans, Indian summer tourists, and motorists who daily travel the highways, to drive with exceptional care.

"Autumn, with its rains, fogs and windblown leaves makes driving more hazardous," said Secretary Hughes.

"Wet pavements cause leaves to adhere to the road surface. These spots on the pavement are dangerous. Under these conditions sudden application of brakes may cause one's car to skid resulting in serious accident."

Mr. Hughes advised football fans to start early to the games and drive carefully.

"Some fans wait until the last minute to get started, with the result that they resort to excessive speed to be on time for the kick-off. Sometimes in their haste they disregard traffic signals and road conditions which are the cause of many fatal accidents."

"Only through a conscientious effort on the part of all motor vehicle operators can we hope to keep automobile accidents at a minimum this fall."

Mrs. Irving Randall New President Of Hospital Auxiliary

The annual meeting of the Womens Auxiliary of the Highland Park hospital was held on Wednesday, October 13. A large number of members were present, and reports of all work done during the past year were read by the chairman of each committee.

CONCRETE FLOORS

Development of precast concrete joist floor construction has taken concrete floors out of the luxury class. Now any home can have the same floors that are so popular in luxurious apartments and hotels.

Concrete floors are not only fire-safe—they're warm, quiet and permanently level. Your furniture stands on all four legs; walls, doors and windows are kept true.

You can give concrete floors any finish you please—different in every room if you like. They may be simply colored and waxed (as in the illustration), or they may be covered with wood, carpet, linoleum, tile or terrazzo. Write today for free booklets.
