

Santa to Attend Childrens Party at Elm Place Dec. 23

According to Edwin Gilroy, chairman of the children's community Christmas party, to be conducted by the American Legion and sponsored by the Highland Park Community Chest, special word has come from Santa Claus saying that he will attend a party to be given in the Elm Place school auditorium, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 20, at 2 o'clock.

Not only has Santa Claus promised to be on hand, but he has also sent word that he will bring one of his best clowns and a bag full of presents for every child who attends. This will include not only dolls, toys, Christmas stockings, candy, nuts and the other things that he knows children want, but also warm sweaters, stockings, gloves and similar things that he knows every boy and girl needs when cold weather comes.

Under the direction of Mrs. Nellie Flynn of the Highland Park Social Service a list is being made of all the children in Highland Park who might be overlooked and a committee consisting of Mr. Harry Ear-sisting of Miller Schreiner, Paul Webb, Bert Green, Henry Hansen, Harry Eitner and Harry Alston are in charge of arrangements and will assist in the packing and distribution of the gifts.

The Boy Scouts of America, under the direction of Mr. Jack Davis, vice-chairman of the North Shore Area council, will take part in the program acting as ushers and helping to direct the many children who attend. Mr. Davis is also arranging for automobiles to provide transportation for the little children after the program and states that he will appreciate hearing from any who may desire to volunteer their time and car.

Commander Wm. Heinrichs of the American Legion wishes to publicly express his thanks to the various organizations and many public spirited citizens who are so generously co-operating in this annual and worthwhile event. He extends a cordial invitation to the general public to attend and wishes to add in reply to several inquiries that any who desire to make a personal donation of fruit, candy or nuts are welcome to do so by telephoning Mrs. Flynn, Highland Park 4000.

This is the fourth annual Christmas party given in Highland Park and sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Marvin W. Wallach of the Highland Park Woman's club, and Mrs. George Prindle of the Ravinia Woman's club is in charge of assisting Santa Claus in the selection of the many presents.

To celebrate the occasion there will be a big Christmas tree, music by the Elm Place band, community singing and special entertainment. A committee of Legion men con-

Mass Meeting for Peace to Be Held in Chicago Dec. 30

Actuated by the fear of war, due to the conflicts in Spain and the Far East, more than 100,000 Chicago women have started a movement for peace. The initial step of these feminine warriors will be taken December 30th, when a monster mass meeting will be held in the Auditorium Theater.

Thoroughly aroused by the possibility that the youth of America may be embroiled again, these women will gather in the first of a series of such meetings at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with Mrs. Harry L. Canmann, of 1845 Kincaid street, Highland Park as chairman. One of the principal speakers on the program will be Senator Gerald P. Nye. A vigorous program is being arranged to put before the public all the phases of peace. This program is being arranged by Mrs. Sidney Klein, of 5645 Blackstone avenue, program director, who for several years has had in mind such a movement on the part of the women, especially mothers, whose children might be involved in another war.

Both organized and unorganized groups of women, members of clubs and others affiliated with industry and other activities are interested in the movement, more than 3,000 clubs alone having been contacted and their cooperation secured, according to Mrs. Klein, who explained today the aims, policies and hopes of the feminine movement for the protection of humanity.

"No more wars. No more fighting on foreign soil, are among our slogans," said Mrs. Klein, in outlining the purposes of the mass meeting. "The mothers of Chicago will make their voices heard around the world. We insist on respect for human life wherever it may be, with no distinction as to class, color, race or creed. There will be no political attitude in this movement. No religious slant. Our hope is that we may bury our prejudices and selfish purposes."

"It is also our hope that we may live together as one larger family with common needs and ideals and stop wiping out future generations through modern warfare, and that the youth of today may have the full measure of their God given lives."

"Women now being voters, they to unknown. The mothers are particularly interested in this movement, because of the danger to their children. This first meeting is but a starting point. We plan to have a series of such meetings and to accomplish something worth while for humanity."

Among the organizations whose large membership are sponsoring the movement are:

Chicago Woman's Club, Parent Teachers' Associations, League of Women Voters, Council of Catholic Women, Conference of Jewish Women Organizations, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations, Women's City Club, Association for Parent Education and Child Study, Women's Division of Protestant Churches, Urban League, Cook County Civic Council, Youth Groups, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, and Woman's Bar Association.

Husband Borrows Car; in Collision

A car owned by Charity Brown, 35, a domestic servant, was reported stolen Monday from the I. M. Stein home on Woodbridge avenue, where she is employed.

A few hours later the car was found in Highwood, where the driver, who gave his name as Southern Hardman, 35, of the Woodbridge avenue address, was attempting to drive away from an accident scene, following a collision. Hardman was pronounced intoxicated by a local physician.

Miss Brown, who was called to Highwood when the car was found, told police there that Hardman was her husband and had probably "just borrowed her car."

Approximately $75 damage was done to the parked car owned by Tony Babbini, 442 Funston avenue, in the collision at the intersection of Walker and Funston avenues. Mrs. Hardman, whose car was also wrecked, told police that "Charity Brown" was her professional name.

Hardman was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and our community has reason to be happy at Christmas time. Commander Heinrichs states that sponsoring this event each year has made this an accomplished fact and insures the entire community of a real reason to say "Merry Christmas."

Metal Work Exhibit at Brand's Studio

The metal work class of the Adult Education program is presenting an exhibit of the work done this term. This exhibit is being shown in the window of the Brand Studio on Central avenue.

This exhibit contains articles made in copper, pewter, silver and brass and definitely shows outstanding work on the part of the students. The work will be shown for one week and everyone should avail themselves of the opportunity to see what can be accomplished in the evening school offerings.

Mr. Bolle, the director of the metal work class, states that the work done this year is the best of any class he has had in Highland Park.

Chicago Robbery Holds Clue to Missing Soldiers

Two robbers who fit the description of two soldiers absent without leave from Fort Sheridan, entered a drug store at 2824 Peterson avenue, Chicago, Monday evening and robbed the proprietor, James Geocaris, of $80 after he had wrapped up Christmas greeting cards, a bottle of perfume, and an electric razor they had selected.

Earlier in the day Capt. T. G. Holland, provost marshal at Fort Sheridan, had asked Chicago police for aid in the search for the two soldiers. They are suspected of theft of government property and the kidnaping of a CCC captain near Marseilles, Ill., on Dec. 1.

Those sought are Matthew Douglas, 27 years old, and Richard Boehler, 23. An accomplice, now in the guardhouse at Fort Sheridan, confessed that he and the missing pair robbed a north side drug store Nov. 8.
