

At the Christmas Carol assembly at the Deerfield Grammar school last Friday the following boys and girls told of Christmas in other lands.

England—Joanne Huhn and Norbit Devine.

France — Gloria Barrett and Harry Mau.

Denmark—Ione Selig and Stephen Peezin.

Negro — Shirley Anderson and Frederick Meyer.

Germany—Hazel Goodman and Richard Goodman.

Italy—Betty Hagie and Raymond Plagge.

The choir, composed of twelve boys and girls from the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades, sang a group of French carols and a Negro carol.

LIBRARY

Library will be closed at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve.

To know what other people are reading and what they like is always interesting. When those people are authors the interest is increased for we feel that they as writers should have a keener judgment.

The following selection is taken from "Books" of the New York Herald Tribune.

Books I Have Liked

Walter D. Edmonds: Three comrades, by Erich Remarque; Katrina, by Sally Salminen; Selma Lagerlof's diary.

Joseph Wood Krutch: Importance of living, by Lin Yutang; Animal treasure, by Ivan Sanderson; Education of Hyman Kaplan, by Leonard Q. Ross.

Pearl S. Buck; Katrina, by Sally Salminen; Assignment in Utopia, by Eugene Lyons; Life and poems of Heinrich Heine, by Louis Untermeyer.

James Branch Cabell: Before I forget, by Burton Rascoe; South by Thunderbird, by Hudson Strode.

John Erskine: Of mice and men, by John Steinbeck; The Arts, by Hendrik Willem Van Loon; the Journals of Thoreau.

Harlow Shapley: An American doctor's odyssey, by Dr. Heiser; John Jay Chapman and his letters, by M. A. DeWolfe Howe; Victoria four thirty, by Cecil Roberts.

D. A. R. BETTER FILMS REVIEW

"History Is Made at Night." Cast: Charles Boyer, Jean Arthur, Leo Carrillo, Colin Clive. Thursday, Friday, Dec. 20-21. The story of the Titanic's collision with an iceberg is the basis of this exciting, spectacular film with much courage to relieve tense situations. The actors are well cast. The dialogue is especially good. The costumes are beautiful. There are many dramatic scenes. Adults and young adults.

"Charlie Chan on Broadway." Cast: Warner Oland, J. Edward Bromberg, Joan Marsh. Saturday, Dec. 25. A smoothly-placed murder mystery involving a Broadway dancer whose diary is valuable to many because of her knowledge of the activities of gangsters and politicians. Staging, photography and acting are very good with the method of detection stressed rather than the crime. Family.

"Broadway Melody of 1938." Cast: Robert Taylor, Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Sophie Tucker. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Dec. 26, 27, 28, 29. The theatre and the race track furnish the background for this light story. There are extraordinary dance sequences and many good laughs. For lovers of clean musical comedy this film will furnish delightful entertainment. Family.

"Heidi." Cast: Shirley Temple, Jean Hersholt, Arthur Treacher. Thursday, Friday, Saturday, December 30-31, Jan. 1. The well-loved story, the perfect casting. The beautiful mountain scenery and the capable direction bring to the screen a film which has old-fashioned charm and high entertainment value. There is a subtle blending of humor, pathos, fantasy and even slapstick comedy. Enthusiastically recommended. Family.

Sonja Henie Opens Personal Tour in Chicago, Dec. 25th

Direct from Hollywood where she has just completed her latest picture, "Happy Ending," Miss Sonja Henie and her company of 100 skating stars will open a trans-continental personal tour at the Chicago Stadium Christmas night, December 25th. Permission was granted today to make the tour and all dates verified by officials of the Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation. Only six cities in the United States and Canada will be visited by Miss Henie, as she must return to Hollywood late in February to start work on another moving picture.

Production officials of the Chicago Stadium have been in Hollywood the past two weeks conferring with studio heads and are certain they will provide a setting for Miss Henie that has never been equalled by any ice carnival, either in America or Europe. Electrical effects and gorgeous scenery is enroute from Hollywood and will be installed in the Stadium several days prior to Christmas.

Miss Henie and her supporting stars will appear for seven nights, December 25th to January 1st, inclusive. The performance Monday night, December 27th, will be eliminated as Miss Henie desires to play host to her co-skaters at a Christmas party. The seven shows constitute the longest engagement of any ice production to ever be staged ed by the Stadium or other indoor building.

Last February Miss Henie appeared before 90,000 people in five performances at the Chicago Stadium and she believes she will shatter this record during the holidays. While there has been a heavy mail order demand for tickets, good seats are available for all performances, including New Year's Eve.

Miss Henie and her entire company leave Hollywood December 18th for Chicago. Final rehearsals on the vast Stadium rink will be held five days prior to the opening Christmas night. However, the skaters have been rehearsing the past eight weeks under direction of a noted Twentieth-Century Fox producer.

Fresh-Soph Team Defeats Proviso; Varsity Loses 23-21

Fritz Bernardi and Tommie Summers divided ten baskets between them last Friday night to lead their Fresh-Soph quintet at the Highland Park high school into an exciting 23-20 victory over Proviso. Coach Lauer's team took the lead early in the game and was never headed.

Zeinfeld, diminutive forward from Proviso, lead a brilliant rally in the last period which outscored the locals 10-7 but lacked enough punch to overcome the pace set by the first team which left the game early in the quarter.

The Proviso Varsity demonstrated a reversal of form over its showing at Evanston last week and handed Lauer's aggregation a 23-21 setback, winning the game in an overtime on free throws by Tannehill and Corbett.

General Electric's Nose Out Nelson Five in Overtime 34-30

The General Electrics remained undefeated in the North Shore Basketball league by handing the fast stepping Nelson Laundry five a 34-30 trimming at Evanston Sunday.

"Peewee" Goerler tossed in four baskets and four free throws to lead the Electrics. "Peewee" was brilliant defensively as well as offensively. The entire General Electric team played like demons. The scoring was completed by Pasquesi getting nine points, Leo Williams six, Goog Dahl four, Red Dennis two, and Abe Dingle one.

The game was a thriller throughout, with the Electrics jumping in to an early lead which they held until the closing minutes of the game. Then the Nelson five, paced by Huck, who collected eight points, crept into a four point lead with about two minutes remaining. Here Dennis got a basket and Goerler made two charity tosses to knot the count. Flynn then counted for Nelsons and Pasquesi split the net for the Electrics. In the overtime Huck again counted, giving Nelson a two point lead. Goerler then made two more free throws, while the crowd was in a frenzy. With one minute remaining Dahl and Pasquesi each scored a basket to win for the Electric.
