

Deerpath to Show "Winterset" and "Victoria the Great"

One of the ten best pictures of 1937 and one of the outstanding pictures of 1938 will be shown at the Deerpath theatre this and next week.

"Winterset" with Burgess Meredith, Margo and Eduardo Cianelli, will finish its engagement tonight, Thursday. Acclaimed recently in a nation-wide poll, "Winterset" was given the high distinction of being one of the ten best pictures released between October, 1936, and October, 1937. Its leading players were largely responsible for the original stage show's prize-winning success.

"Victoria the Great" was filmed in the actual palaces where the youthful Queen Victoria's astonishing romance took place. No money in the world could buy the right to set scenes in such places as Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, St. James Palace, the State Coronation Church. No wealth could bribe the screen appearance of massed cavalry regiments, the artillery guns of 1837, Balmoral Castle, the actual parade carriage Victoria used. And

Girl Scout News

January is "Thrift Month" for Highland Park Girl Scouts. Watch for posters in bank, library and schools. Girl Scouts, do not let the snow and cold weather make you forget that summer is "just around the corner," and prepare for your prosperity either by saving or earning the money to go to camp. Every girl should enjoy that experience. The cost will be $18 for two weeks, plus transportation. The High School Troop are talking and planning for camp now.

Paula Raff, scribe for Ravinia Troop No. 2 reports that the girls are enjoying winter sports. After skiing, they went to the home of Mrs. A. Sihler for refreshments.

Braeside Troop No. 3 are working on second class work. They have started making a study of stars and met at the lake at 7 o'clock to locate Orion. They are making a "Star" book.

Troop No. 7 of Elm Place are reviewing and learning new lessons in signalling.

Troop No. 9 of Lincoln formed patrols for working on Tenderfoot work, second class work, and the old-

League of Women Voters to Meet at Y.W.C.A. Jan. 19

The next meeting of the Highland Park League of Women Voters takes place Wednesday, January 19, at the Y.W.C.A. at 1:15 p.m.

On that day three members of the Highland Park Civil Service Commission will explain how government offices are held and operated here, and will be prepared to answer questions. The three members of the Civil Service Commission are Byron Howes, John A. Putnam and Charles R. Dennett.

The National League of Women Voters announces that its efforts in the present session of Congress will be concentrated on opposition to the spoils system, on the clearcut issue of the McKellar vs. the Ramspeck postmaster bills.

The hoary problem of patronage in postmasterships was precipitated anew by the special session through a majority report from the Senate Postoffice Committee of which Senator McKellar of Tennessee is chairman, recommending passage of a bill under his authorship which would return first, second and third class postmasterships to the patronage lists.

The League points out that Senator McKellar clearly intended this as a spoilsman's move, for the majority report thus eulogized patronage: "This method of appointing postmasters is ideal, and it is one that has been tried out through all the years. It follows our constitutional system of checks and balances. It is the rarest thing that a postmaster goes wrong. Postmasters are responsible to the Congressman, or to the Senators where the office is in the Senator's home town, and as a rule they are a competent and efficient body of men."

The League contrasts this statement with a report in the Reader's Digest of December, 1936: "Of those in the postal service arrested for embezzlement in 1935, the appointive postmasters themselves, holding political jobs, represented one-quarter of the culprits. There were but four arrests among the 35,000 rural carriers and only 107 out of the 49,000 city carriers (who are under the civil service law), yet out of less than 14,000 politically appointed postmasters there were 136 arrests."

The League will continue to campaign actively for the Ramspeck postmasters bill, passed by the House in the first session of the current Congress and proposed by Senator O'Mahoney as a substitute for the McKellar spoils measure. The Ramspeck bill provides for appointment of postmasters without term as are other positions under the Civil Service Act; eliminates senatorial confirmation; makes postmasters subject to the Civil Service Act rules; requires the incumbent to qualify by a non-competitive examination conducted by the Civil Service Committee before he can be appointed subject to the Civil Service Act.

Libertyville Fire Department Gets Gift of Inhalator

A new and valuable piece of fire-fighting equipment—an E & J resuscitator and inhalator—was added Tuesday night to Libertyville fire department. Use of the machine was demonstrated before the firemen Tuesday and it was approved as a regular part of the department's equipment by the Village board in meeting the same night.

Cost of the inhalator was placed at $395. It was given to Libertyville by Irving S. Florsheim, shoe magnate, in appreciation for services rendered him by a Libertyville fireman in a pump-house explosion on his farm that occurred during the Fall of 1936. Mr. Florsheim had burned his hand severely during the fire and was saved from a lifetime handicap by prompt first aid service from the department.

Arrival of the inhalator in Libertyville culminated an approximate 2-year study by department heads of various makes. The device, though costly, has long been needed in this lake region where summer-time calls to revive drowning persons are numerous and—without effective equipment—perplexing.

The machine is the most modern of its kind. The model is standard equipment among emergency squads of Chicago departments, Waukegan and north shore towns also find its life-saving value invaluable.

Two additional tanks and an attachment for pneumonia cases are also being added by the village.
