

Fort Sheridan Has New Police Force

A police force, consisting of 85 soldiers, came into existence at Fort Sheridan, last Saturday. This is the first time that the Fort has been policed by a regular force, and the plan is said to be unique among military posts of the country.

Capt. T. G. Holland, provost marshal, is in charge and will direct the law enforcement in much the same manner as a civilian police department. The force is divided into five groups, traffic, prison guard, post guard, investigation and identification, each of which has its separate duties.

While most of the policing will be confined to Fort Sheridan, a radio equipped squad car will cruise "on occasions" to Waukegan to keep soldiers under surveillance.

Equipment consists of four cars, two of which are equipped for patrol detail with a one-way radio communication system; call boxes and extensive traffic and identification files.

George Arliss, dean of the stage and screen, will appear in "Doctor Syn," his latest and, according to many, his best of the many fine pictures which he has presented. The picture will be shown at the Deerpath on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

Plan Series of Peace Meetings Beginning Feb. 23

Encouraged by the great response to its initial efforts on behalf of world peace, the All-Chicago Committee for Peace Mass Meetings is preparing for a series of such meetings. The next is set for Wednesday, February 23, at the People's church, Lawrence avenue. Dr. Preston Bradley is its spiritual leader. This meeting will also be free to the public. Program arrangements will be announced at a later date.

Publicity Chairman pro tem, Clare Hoffman-Greenberg, 1329 Judson Ave. H.P. 2430.

Children's Department

In recent years a number of interesting and accurate books of the lives of successful men and women have been written for boys and girls. Older children, in particular, will always be eager to listen to the stories of heroes of today and yesterday—heroes of science and exploration, of history, of art and everyday life. The accounts of men and women who have overcome great difficulties, surmounted great obstacles and won the race in face of all kinds of discouragement, thrill them, and the success of men who began with many advantages and who were stimulated to great exertion by great opportunities, appeal to them.

In the careers of great men and women there seem to be a touch of magic, a bit of an old fairy tale. There is, however, this great difference: success is not produced by elves, fairies, and other strange creatures—as is luck in the fairy tales; success is the fruit of hard work. A man's luck is in himself—in the ability to do things—and his chance and fortune in the skill, energy and perseverance he pours into those things.

Just how much the story of a hero's life influences a young person is hard to tell, but one can hardly conceive that the boy who is thrilled by "We" or the girl who enthusiastically reads "Jane Addams of Hull House" will not be influenced in some way.

Mrs. Miner Will Devote More Time to Instruction Jan. 31

Bridge devotees, Mrs. Maxine Miner, widely known authority, will devote additional time to instruction at the second of a series of duplicate bridge tournaments in the Parish House of Trinity Episcopal church Friday, January 21.

At the opening of the series January 14, several score Highland Park and north shore women launched the tournaments with informal play, and expressed the desire that major time, in the future tournaments, be devoted to advanced instruction. Points stressed during the instruction periods will be emphasized and illustrated during the playing of hands, which will follow.

Tickets are available for single sessions of the tournaments or for the entire remaining six sessions, according to Mrs. Charles Perrigo, who is in charge of arrangements. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Perrigo, Highland Park 4333.

The tournaments start promptly at 2 o'clock. Tea will be served. A grand prize will be awarded at the conclusion of the series to the winning team.

General Electrics Whip Rand McNally

The General Electric Basketball team won its fourth straight league game by defeating the Rand McNally quintet 33 to 27, in a hotly contested game played at Boltwood Field House last Sunday. (The Electric's were led by Peewee Goerler and Leo Williams, each netting ten points with Ken Moeller following with six.)

Except for the attack of Wilkins who led his team with six baskets and one free throw for a total of thirteen points, the Electrics had their opponents well checked throughout the game.

Play Voses Sunday
By virtue of this win the Electrics can win the first round championship by defeating their hottest rivals, the Vose Grocery Quintet, who also boast of an unbroken string of four victories in league competition. The game will be played at Boltwood Fieldhouse next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Come out and support your local team in this title contest.

"Merry-Go-Round" of 1938 at Deerpath

A musical comedy, an action drama, a sophisticated comedy, and a story of intrigue give theatre-goers a wide variety of pictures to see at the Deerpath this and next week.

Tonight and Friday night that eight-star riot, "Merry-Go-Round of 1938" will be shown. Bert Lahr, Alice Brady, Mischa Auer, Louise Fazenda, Billy House, Joy Hodges, Jimmy Savo, and Barbara Read are only the headliners in this show which contains many other really fine features so necessary in making a good musical comedy.

Saturday afternoon and evening, Leo Carrillo and Jean Parker will be shown in Rex Beach's famed story, "The Barrier." A fine supporting cast including James Ellison, Otto Kruger, and Robert Barrat, does justice to Beach's story, and Carrillo and Parker are at their best. It will be at the Deerpath for only one day although its worth as a picture warrants more.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday brings that famous team of Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell and Robert Benchley in a masterpiece of sophisticated humor, "Live, Love and Learn." Nothing need be said about these stars except that they have a fine vehicle in which to do their best with their varied talents.
