"It would be hardly possible to let the party last Wednesday night go by without some comment. Prepared as a sort of send-off to the new officers it was certainly an enjoyable occasion for the fifty odd members of the Holy Name and Altar and Rosary societies who were present. Mrs. J. Klemp furnished a surprise in a lovely pastry replica of the church complete even to the shrubbery and the sign with the hours of the Masses. Mrs. P. M. Dietz and Mrs. J. J. Rink composed the verses for the occasion. The other ladies of the committee headed by Mrs. A. Willman, Mesdames L. Behrens, C. Burns, D. Ginter, Henry Peterson, E. D.A.R. Better Films Committee Review

"It's Love I'm After." Cast: Leslie Howard, Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland, Patric Knowles, Thursday, Jan. 20. The work of these stars is somewhat surprising in comedy roles and the film provides delightful swift-moving entertainment for the mature audience. Adults and young adults.

"Alcatraz Island." Ann Sheridan, John Littel, Mary Maquire, Gordon Oliver, Friday, Saturday, Jan. 21, 22. A drama of prison life, evidently following somewhat closely the life and exploits of Al Capone. It emphasizes the warning "Crime does not pay." Adults and young adults.

"Second Honeymoon." Cast: Tyrome Power, Loretta Young, Stuart Erwin, Claire Trevor. January 23, 24, 25. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday. A gay-sophisticated comedy, smartly produced exceptionally well cast and intelligently directed. The picture has an extremely lax attitude towards divorce and marriage and some quite unnecessary drinking by Tyrome Power, which is regrettable in view of his former record. Marjorie Weaver, a new comer to the screen, gives an excellent performance, and one that will be remembered.

"Dr. Syn." Cast: George Arliss, Marjorie Lockwood, John Loder, Roy Amerton. Wednesday, Jan. 26, the Kentish marshes and quaint settings supply an interesting background for this 18th Century English melodrama, the story is that of a reformed pirate, "now a vicar," whose activities are still questionable, but whose money relieves the poverty of his parishioners. Mr. Arliss, as always, presents a finished performance. Adults.

"A Star Is Born." Cast: Janet Gaynor, Fredric March, Adolphe Menjou, Thursday, Jan. 27. A haunting, bitter tale of love and heart break in that world apart called "Filmland," a truly human document beautifully photographed in soft-tones of technicolor. Janet Gaynor has never been more charming and sincere nor appeared to better advantage. The authentic background of studios and playspots of Hollywood will interest many. Adults.

Deerfield Board Wants More Revenue

Deerfield business men are opposing the new ordinance which was read at the January meeting of the Deerfield Village Board last Tuesday evening. Because the village is in need of more revenue it was decided to license all business men, the fees to vary according to the type of business, which would average from $12.50 to $15 per year. The suggestion met with strong disapproval and was voiced at the meeting. Further action was deferred until the February meeting.

The board passed a ninety minute parking ordinance for vehicles on Waukegan road from Orchard to Osterman and all parking must be parallel. Old ordinances are being deleted into in anticipation of further revenue.

George Delhaye was refused a permit for a poultry building on the former Fischer property on North Waukegan road.

lism Hertel, Harry Stuppel and John D. Schneider; village clerk, Chester Weasling and Corporation Counsel George McGaughey.
