TELL 'EM AND SELL 'EM

When anyone tells you America consumes half the world's coffee, or three-fourths of the world's silk, remind him he's only telling you one-half the story.
 To say the United States has a dozen times as many automobiles as all of Europe, or that 21,000,000 electric irons are in use in American homes, really omits the essential point that this isn't solely because of our nation's bountiful resources, or because we are essentially a progressive people.
 Our furnishings, vacuum cleaners, radios, are better and more numerous than those of any other nation, because the good inventive brains that made them were coupled with the desire of merchants and dealers to tell people about them, to acquaint housewives and heads of families with labor-saving devices for the home, with good buys in clothing.
 It's progress of a sort, it's true, if someone devises a of cloth goods, or makes better ice-cream than anyone else, but genuine progress takes place only when these items are enjoyed in large numbers of American homes, and not lying idle in a laboratory, store-room or sales-window.

 The real push in progress comes when the world is told where it can get the best shirts, or pair of shoes, for the price, the best fifty-cent dinner, or the best new or used car that will fit the budget. If they're not advertised, the products can be locked up in the barn and the key thrown away.
 Make a mouse-trap better than anyone else, and the world will beat a path to your door—but first the world has to know about the mouse-trap, what it sells for, and where it can be had.

Singles Tournament At Majestic Alley

Bob Greenslade and Paul Lencioni tied with 551 for high series last Wednesday evening at the Majestic Bowling alleys when Central Tire company took three from Sky Harbor. Consumers took two from Paul's Barber shop the same evening.
 Tuesday night of this week Central Tire company took two from Coleman's while Sky Harbor lost two to Studebaker.
 Next week's schedule:
 Tuesday: Paul's Barber shop vs. Coleman's; Sky Harbor vs. Farmers Beverage.

Register Now For Community Training Course, Feb. 1-8-15

Registrations are being received from present and prospective teachers and workers in Sunday schools of Deerfield-Shields townships, for the community training course at Bethany Evangelical church, Highland Park, February 1, 8 and 15, 7:30 to 9 p.m.
 Rev. Earl J. Bruso, of Deerfield, is president of the district council of religious education. Miss Virginia Easton, also of Deerfield, is secretary, and will act as registrar at this school. The instructor, Professor John M. Garrison, of Winnetka, was formerly in educational work in New York. He received his training religious education at Boston university.

Work Is Begun On Delayed Sewer Project In Highwood

With the receipt of the long-promised $26,000 cash grant from the federal government, the long-awaited Highwood WPA sewer project got under way early this week. Forty workers were put to work digging along Western avenue.
 When work on the projected Western avenue sanitary sewer, which will connect the main artery at Prairie avenue with the recently constructed links at Ashland, Euclid and Washington avenues, reaches its peak, 60 men on relief will be employed.
 Highwood water and street department officials estimated that the new mile-long conduit will be completed within 10 weeks.
 Graduated pipe will be laid as side streets enter the new sewer. When the connecting link becomes a part of the main artery at Prairie avenue, the main will be 15 inches wide. With the completion of this project, the entire northwest section of the city will have a modern sewage system.

Lew J. Sarett Wins Wrestling Team Place

Lew J. Sarett, Ravinia, has won the 155 pound position on the Northwestern university wrestling team. Sarett will become one of the strongest wrestlers at his weight after gaining some experience, according to Coach Wes Brown.
 He is six feet tall and holds a decided advantage over the average run of 155 pound wrestlers, who seldom scale such a height. Before turning to varsity wrestling, he competed in intramural wrestling where his talent for the sport was noticed. He was asked to try out for the team, and last year worked with the varsity men. This year he has shown such marked improvement that he has taken over the regular post at 155 pounds.
 Sarett is a graduate of Deerfield-Shields high school, and at present is a junior in the College of Liberal Arts at Northwestern. He is a member of Phi Kapp Psi social fraternity on the campus.

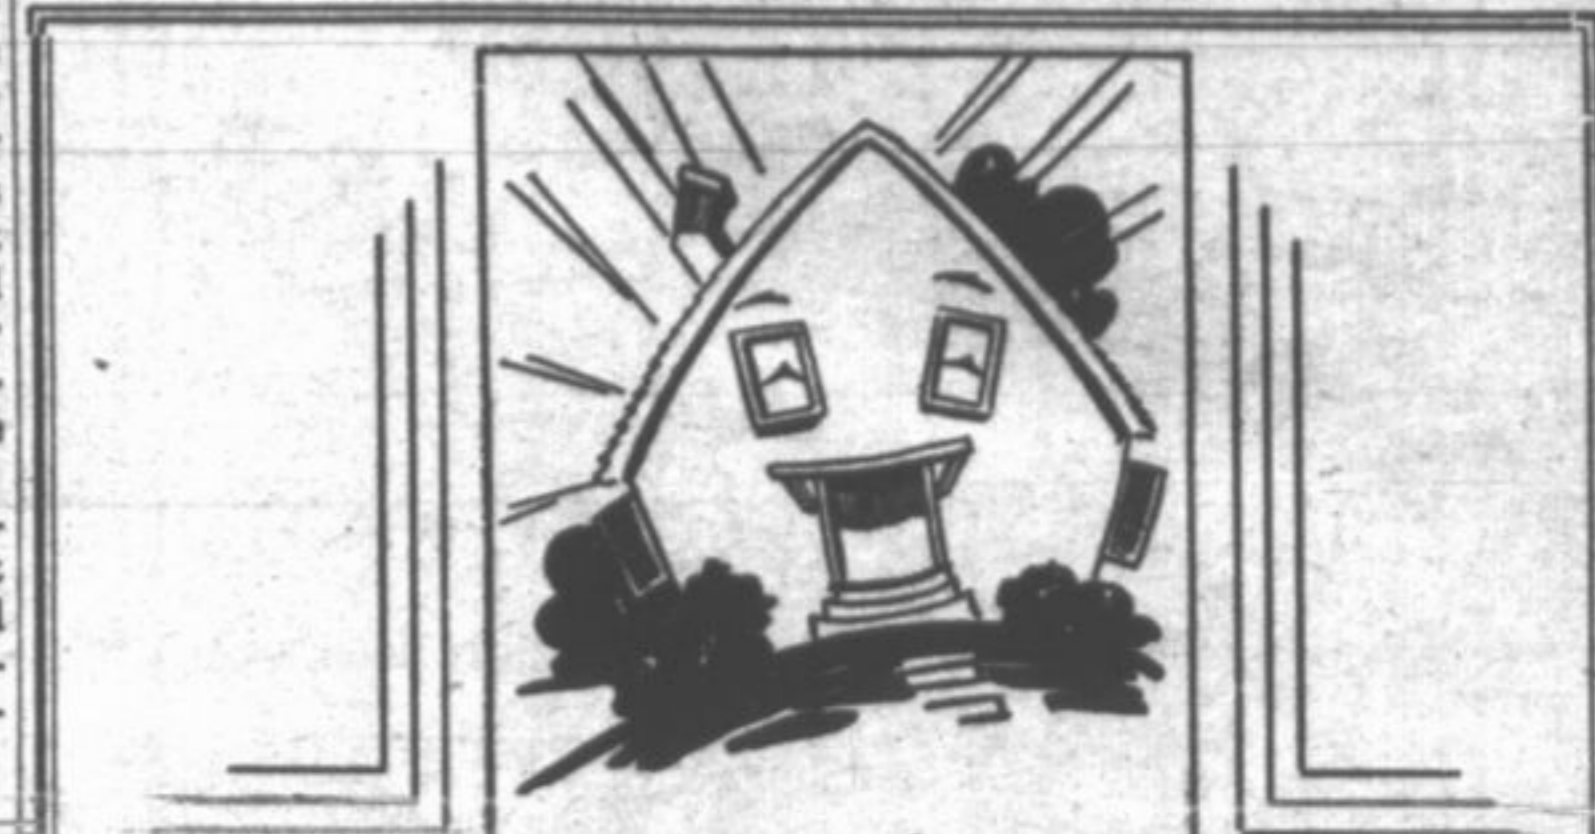

slaughter charges in circuit court Monday, States' Attorney Charles E. Mason said in posting a criminal trial call.

Besides the manslaughter charges, Momborg is also under indictment for reckless driving. Also pending in circuit court are two civil suits as the result of the fatal accident. Momborg is being sued for $20,000 for the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Orsi, while Sam Bernardi, a Highwood tavern owner, is named defendant in a $100,000 suit in behalf of Roland Orsi, two-year-old boy who was orphaned by the tragedy.

The suit against Bernardi is based on the dram shop act. Before the accident Momborg allegedly obtained liquor at the tavern and after drinking it drove to Highland Park in the car that crashed with the Orsi vehicle at Central avenue.

N. U. Settlement Meets

Northwestern University settlement will meet Wednesday, Feb. 2, at the home of Mrs. Howard F. Detmer, 555 Bob o' Link road. Miss Harriet Vittum will give one of her notable talks while sewing and knitting are being done for the settlement.

EVEN THE HOUSE FELT BETTER
 Gone are those grimy curtains, for a transformation took place down at the Reliable Cleaners and Laundry Company.
 Mrs. Highland Park could stand those dirty curtains no longer, so she just called Highland Park 177-178 and in a short time they were returned so fresh and clean that the house—the family and even Bruno, the dog, felt better—much better.
 You can always depend on QUALITY work at the RELIABLE CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY COMPANY.
