

College Reports Approve Student Guidance Plan

That the student guidance plan of the Highland Park high school is achieving its aim in regard to adequate preparation for college, is borne out by the fine records and excellent adjustment of its graduates throughout the country, according to reports received by the school authorities for each freshman college student at the end of his first semester's work.

The guidance work in the high school is carried on through advisers who are in charge of small groups of about thirty students. With the help of an entrance questionnaire filled out by the grammar school teacher and the parents which shows the student's background and school progress, and in some degree, his future plans, thinking in terms of the future is stimulated at the beginning of the freshman year.

As a freshman, when he fills out his individual record pamphlet, he is given a questionnaire which asks: "Are you acquainted with the latest entrance requirements of the first and second college of your choice?" "Have you carefully estimated the cost?" "What profession or career do you expect to follow after you finish college?" "Are you seeking information concerning the qualifications and opportunities in these career fields?"

As the school considers it important to know the physical ability of the student for college work and to what degree the family will be able to finance the student in college, information is obtained from the school nurse as to his physical condition and from the student in regard to his home background.

He is informed as to the varying scales of tuition in different colleges and universities, and the possibilities of self-help and scholarships offered by the schools throughout the country.

The student's program for the four years is then outlined in accordance with his plans and purposes, and subject to high school requirements for graduation. The program then set up is subject, of course, to justifiable change due to alteration in objectives or an occasional unavoidable maladjustment. Great effort, however, is made to stick to a purposeful plan during the four years in accordance with the program outlined. When such a program is carefully drawn up, a copy is sent by the adviser to the parents for their consideration, and approval or disapproval.

In view of the fact that personality traits are being more and more stressed by colleges in considering prospective candidates, each student is rated yearly by three of his teachers for a scientifically scaled character analysis that indicates his ability to get along with other people, industry, work habits, leadership, dependability, cooperation, and emotional control.

With the help of this character analysis, the student's achievement record in grammar school, his achievement record in high school, and his scholastic ability as indicated by special tests, and his expressed interest in vocation or a profession, the selection of a specific college is kept constantly in the foreground during his last year in high school.

During the course of his high school career, the student's program is reckoned at least once each semester to eliminate the possibilities of error.

The student in his junior and senior years, and sometimes earlier, is given opportunities from time to time to meet representatives of many colleges and universities who visit the Highland Park high school.

Mrs. Van Hyning to Tell of Life in South America

The North Shore Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution are to hold the March meeting in the home of Mrs. Merwin O. Hopkins, 1129 Wade street, Ravinia, Thursday afternoon, March 10, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hopkins will have as hostesses Miss Mary Page, Mrs. Benjamin F. Rieke and Mrs. Edwin Wood.

There is to be a very interesting program given by Mrs. Lyril Clark Von Hyning, Regent of the Aurora Chapter.

In 1928 Mrs. Van Hyning set forth for Caracas Venezuela, South America, with her family, as her husband's business had been changed.

She was determined that they should establish a home in the true Caraqueñan manner, not only dealing with a new language and customs, but new concepts of food, money and people.

Mrs. Van Hyning secured a true Caraqueñan home with native servants, made new friends, sent her children to their schools.

As a result a native normal life was developed amidst surroundings which became very familiar, thus fitting her for the message she brings to us—"Tea With Me in the City of Eternal Spring." It will give her listeners a story of life as it is lived in Caracas, the people loving, working, hoping—a proof of Goethe's "To know the world and not despise it is the end and aim of culture."

At the February meeting Miss Abbey of Crossnore School told of the school's great need for clothing and shoes. Mrs. Rice of Sunset road has offered to take care of any contributions and send them to Crossnore. Please bring any you might have to this March meeting or send to Mrs. Rice's home.

Mrs. Isobel Simons To Address League Of Women Voters

The next meeting of the League of Women Voters will be addressed by Mrs. Isobel Simons, Press chairman for the State League. It will be on the subject of "Government and Legal Status."

Mrs. Simons is a lawyer well qualified to discuss this subject with our citizens and it is hoped that there will be a large audience at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday, March 16. An article written by her on "Equal Rights of Men and Women" appeared in the March number of the "Voter."

There is so much interest now in government affairs, the League reminds all citizens that there are numerous radio broadcasts to be heard on the political situation.

A new help in making democracy a reality is being presented by interested citizens now in the program to be presented over the radio by the Illinois League of Women Voters in conjunction with the University Broadcasting Council. A series of programs, beginning Friday, February 25, at 7 p.m. over WIND (560), and continuing each Friday, have been arranged with the idea of developing public interest in democracy, which the League defines as a country where there is a free press, free speech, and reasonably honest elections at reasonable intervals.

The citizen's part in such a state and the function of the League of Women Voters in helping make democracy work will be presented by such civic leaders and authorities as Mrs. George G. Bogert, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, Mr. Jerome Kerwin, Mrs. W. W. Ramsey, Mr. Charles E. Merriam, Miss Martha Ziegler, and others.

Further discussions will follow succeeding Friday evenings on topics particularly pertinent to the primary election of April 12. The historical approach, analyses of local offices to be filled and also of state and national offices, the question of who makes up the slate, and the significance of party labels in local and state tickets, will be presented.

Mrs. John B. Allen, Radio chairman of the Illinois League of Women Voters, has planned the program.

CHARLES H. FRANCIS

LAWYER, WOODSTOCK, ILL.
for State Representative

TO the VOTERS of the EIGHTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

With his previous record of service in the state legislature endorsed by the Legislative Voters League of Illinois, the Lake County Law and Order League, Associated Advertisers, Inc., Farmers League, the Illinois Agricultural Association, the Prairie Farmer and other organizations and institutions, Charles H. Francis, Woodstock attorney, is making an active campaign through the district in his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state representative in the eighth senatorial district (Lake, McHenry and Boone counties) at the primaries on April 12.

Mr. Francis served the people of the district as a state representative for three terms, from 1929 to 1934, during which he made a very creditable record. In urging his nomination for state senator the Woodstock (Ill.) Daily Sentinel said:

"Mr. Francis was particularly active in support of measures for the benefit of the farmer. He was also opposed to useless and wasteful appropriations and supported every measure which would reduce taxes."

In his campaign Mr. Francis is emphasizing that he is a lawyer and that, because of this, he is especially qualified to serve the district in a way that no other Republican candidate for the position can offer.

The most important committee of the house is the judiciary committee, which handles practically all important bills, except appropriations. This committee does about one third of all the house committee work and is composed exclusively of lawyers. Any lawyer elected to the house automatically becomes a member.

This district has not been represented in this vital position during the past two years.

Mr. Francis is taking a firm stand for law enforcement. He believes that the maintenance of law and order is fundamental for the continuance of our republic and, if we want our citizens to respect the law, that it must be intelligently and impartially enforced. He has consistently insisted in enforcement of the law and will aid in any legislation to that end.
