William Mahen Dies Of Heart Attack

A verdict of death due to heart trouble was returned by a coroner's jury into the death of William Mahen, 45, Highwood laborer, who died early Friday morning at the Highland Park hospital.

Mahen was taken to the hospital by ambulance from the John Burke residence in Northbrook at 4 a.m. in a critical condition. Mahen was a world war veteran and lifelong resident of Highwood. He is survived by two brothers, Joseph and James, and a sister, Mrs. Albert Shelton, all of Highwood.

A little girl was introduced to a new baby. Up to this time her interest had been chiefly in dolls. When this real, live baby was put in her arms, the five-year-old surveyed it with a critical eye. "Isn't that a nice baby?" cried the nurse. "Yes," replied the little girl hesitatingly, "it's nice, but its head's loose."

Source of Water Supply The water supply of Taylorville, Christian county, Illinois, which is noted for its purity, is pumped from a natural underground lake that has coal deposits for its base, according to research workers of the Federal Writers' Project, W.P.A.

Mrs. Fritsch in speaking of membership in the organization, said "We find there is still some confusion in people's minds in regard to Y.W.C.A. membership. Perhaps this is because the Y.W.C.A. fill two roles; that of a community agency whose program is open to all girls and women and that of a fellowship committed to the furthering of a Christian purpose."

There is no membership fee. One becomes a member by signing the membership card which can be secured from members of the committee or at the Y.W.C.A. office.

Other features of the program Thursday evening will be group singing led by Mrs. V. C. Musser and vocal numbers by Mary Santi.

Pi Delta Club Hostesses The members of the Pi Delta club will be the hostesses on Thursday evening of this week when Mrs. J. Stannard Baker will give her illustrated lecture "Canoeing Through Europe."

Friendship Club Dinner On Thursday evening the members of the Friendship club will meet at 6:30 for dinner served by the officers of the club. Later in the evening the members will attend Mrs. Baker's lecture.
