Little Chats About Your Health

CONSTIPATION

One authority declares that three quarters of all invalids suffer from constipation and it is estimated that 25,000,000 Americans resort to laxatives for a condition which such things only relieve temporarily.

Cases of constipation which cannot be overcome by proper dieting, regular habits and by exercises which strengthen the abdominal muscles are few and far between.

Your physician will be glad to tell you why this is true. He will also outline a plan which should overcome such a condition.

Take all your health problems to your doctor and bring your prescriptions to us.
