Little Chats About Your Health

HOW SYMPTOMS MAY FOOL YOU.

A physician declares that people should disabuse their minds of the idea that the manifestations of a disease are always exactly the same, so that when once thoroughly observed it could always thereafter be recognized.

In his words "The truth is quite the contrary, as we find diseases of all kinds presenting themselves in degrees of severity. In some cases every symptom and sign of a disease are clearly manifested, while in others almost none is evident and yet the disease is actually present."

That in itself is sufficient reason why you should never attempt to treat your own ills but should call your physician without delay.

We can be of greatest help whenever prescriptions are to be filled. Ask your physician what he thinks of our service?
