

Arrest Two Youths For Burglaries Are Held To Grand Jury

At a preliminary hearing Monday morning before Justice of the Peace Richard Martin, two Highland youths were bound over to the grand jury and bonds set at $5,000. The boys had confessed to the recent burglarizing of the Exmoor Country club and the home of Mrs. George Schumann at 157 Michigan avenue, Highland. The boys are Joseph Feraldo, 18, of 250 Sard place, and James Pasquale, 17, 8 Webster avenue.

Feraldo was arrested Thursday by Highland Park police while Pasquale who was employed last summer in the caddy shop at the Exmoor club, was picked up by Highland police Friday.

Police estimated the loot taken in the burglarizing of the Exmoor club on April 18th about $250. Golf clubs, balls and other equipment were taken.

The value of the theft at the Schumann home was rather indefinite, in as much as it consisted chiefly of household equipment.

The youths were incriminated when they attempted to sell the stolen golf equipment.

Percy A. Robbins Succumbs to Illness

Percy A. Robbins, aged 63, for 17 years a resident of this city, died Sunday at his home, 100 Prospect avenue, following a year's illness.

Mr. Robbins, a well known mining engineer, was a graduate of Cornell university. He was in the mining business in Africa in New York and in northern Ontario before engaging in a similar enterprise in Chicago.

He was president of Arctic Circle Explorations, Inc., a company engaged in mining operations at Candle, Alaska.

Private funeral services were held Monday afternoon at his home.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Sophie; three daughters, Mrs. Helen R. Miller, Ruth and Jane, and two sons, James and Peter.

"Pride & Prejudice" Play of Politeness and Sarcasm, May 20

"Pride and Prejudice," Helen Jerome's dramatized version of Jane Austen's famous novel, the play to be presented by twenty six high school students in the school auditorium May 20, is a picture of a most picturesque period in England's history.

It is a panorama of life a century ago when the Napoleonic wars were throwing all Europe into confusion. It was a time when it was impossible save for the very wealthy to purchase costly clothes. But the women bought such finery just the same—and no doubt their husbands swore an oath or two while paying the bills!

The audience will find Lady Catherine nodding her Paris green ostrich feathers, the maidenly palpitation of the sisters Bennett in their quest for desirable husbands. They will become intimately acquainted with the rakish Mr. Wickham and the austere Mr. Darcy; the ambitious Mrs. Bennet and her amiable spouse.

But although "Pride and Prejudice" is a play of spectacular settings, lavish costuming, and serves well as a pictured review of life in England during the sophisticated days of a century ago, the script is so full of sarcastic compliment, double edged retorts, and spiteful repartee that the audience is not only educated, but is kept in stitches in the bargain.

After two weeks of strenuous rehearsing, the cast at the high school still takes time out to chuckle at lines they have heard over and over again. The very politeness which each character uses to veil his biting sarcasm gives to their conversation an audience appeal that few plays have ever enjoyed.

Deerfield Women Hold Annual Meet

The Deerfield Woman's Club ended the official club year with the annual luncheon Tuesday, April 26, in the Bungalow church. Mrs. F. C. Ritter and her committee arranged this delightful meeting and the ladies of the church prepared and served it.

Mrs. Carl Bates, president of the club, was in charge of the business meeting at which these vacant offices were filled by election: second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Baum; recording secretary, Mrs. Lynn Roberts; a director, Mrs. Charles Turner. Mrs. Bates continues next year as president, as do these other officers: first vice-president, Mrs. Walter Metcalf; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Meyer; treasurer, Mrs. William Cruickshank; directors, Miss Irene Rockenbach, and Mrs. Burr Hindahl.

Officers and chairmen of departments, projects and committees gave reports of the year's activity. New groups were the sewing and study club meetings, which are to continue due to their popularity. Thirty-seven new members were admitted to the club this year. The four newest members, who joined after the year books were published, are: Mrs. B. E. Carlson, Mrs. L. Whittaker, Mrs. Fred Haggie, and Mrs. W. M. Potter.

The date of the annual card party for the benefit of tennis courts in Deerfield, is set for Tuesday, May 24, in the Briarcliff Country club. Committees for the party are to be appointed later.

A question box, by which members expressed their opinions and suggestions for next year's club activities, was very interesting and will be of much help to the department chairmen.

Mrs. Carl Bates was presented with a large bouquet of flowers at the close of the meeting, as an expression of appreciation of her service to the club as president.

Seen About Town

Early this week, the 100 foot flag pole at the intersection of Central avenue and St. Johns avenue underwent a spring cleaning by having a new coat of paint. A stepladder worked industriously for two days, completing the much needed improvement.

House numbers are now appearing along the curbs in various parts of the city, as an aid to motorists and a boon to homeowners whose house numbers just don't show up at night. The work is being done by a Mr. Powell, who makes this a business. A small rectangle in white paint is placed on the curbing and the house number is done in black paint, making them most effective at night.

An amusing incident occurred Wednesday when a newcomer to Highland Park, desirous of being sure that his friends would locate him, was seen placing street signs at an intersection where his home is located, which apparently bears no such means of direction.

The business section of Highland Park seems to be moving north on Second street. If you don't believe it, walk up that way some evening and note the very attractive Neon signs which have recently been placed on business houses. Smitty the Barber has a very attractive display, while the Central Cafe has a very fine sign. The new undertaking parlor just recently established here in the Tipton building also displays an effective sign. The exterior of this building has just been painted and the grounds landscaped. Another improvement to the business district.

Republican Vote In County Is Greater Than Two Years Ago

Official returns from the April 12 primary election in Lake county show that the Republicans cast 2,400 more ballots than they did in April, 1936, while the Democrats registered a loss of 918. The Republican total was 25,392 and the Democratic 12,048. The combined total of votes cast, 37,440, was the largest in any primary ever held in the county. The figures were released by the canvassing board.
