Martinelli, Famed Operatic Tenor to Appear in Festival

Rounding out his twenty-fifth season with the Metropolitan Opera company, Giovanni Martinelli has established a record unequalled in American operatic history. Celebrating his jubilee year this great tenor will come to Evanston to appear in the 25th Music Festival on the evening of Saturday, May 21 in Northwestern university gymnasium.

No stranger of Chicago and the north shore, Martinelli has been known and loved here for years through his previous engagements in other music festivals, Ravinia operas and Chicago Civic operas.

Since 1913 when he joined the New York Opera forces, he has been a commanding figure in the musical world. Not only has he been one of the greatest drawing cards at the Metropolitan but he plays to standing room only in Ravinia, San Francisco and Los Angeles, Chicago and in recital throughout the country.

The famous tenor was born in Montagnana, Italy. He received his vocal training under Professor Mandolini of Milan and made his public debut in 1910 in Rosini's "Stabat Mater." He now has a repertoire of fifty-seven roles and is continually learning new ones. Only recently he learned the extremely difficult role of Otello in Verdi's opera of that name.

Unlike many another opera star, Martinelli's temperament commends him to friends and colleagues. His disposition is as sunny as his native Italy; he laughs easily, heartily and often.

The life story of Martinelli is one that is typically American though he is most essentially and characteristically Italian. Born fifty-two years ago, he was one of fourteen children of a humble cabinet-maker in Montagnana. As soon as he was able to hold a chisel he learned the rudiments of his father's trade and he was expected to carry on in that trade for life. At twelve he became the youngest member of the town band, but it was not until he was serving his military term that he became interested in singing. By chance a visiting music teacher heard Martinelli and a friend singing lustily from a barrack window. Urged to study, the young tenor went to Milan and from there upward and onward to world fame as one of the most outstanding tenors of the age. He is known the world over, wherever operas are sung.

During his forthcoming appearance in Evanston with the Music Festival the great tenor will be heard three times at least. He is scheduled to sing the Aria, "Celeste Aida" from Verdi's "Aida"; a duet with Helen Jepson and Julius Huehn—"Alerte, Alerte" also from Faust.

Arden Shore Holds Annual Homecoming Day, Sunday, May 15

Admiral Hayne Ellis, commandant of the Great Lakes Naval training station, is to be the speaker at Arden Shore's annual Homecoming Day celebration on Sunday, May 15.

The spring reunion for old and new winter camp boys is held each year in May, when the camp, north of Lake Bluff, is at its freshest and loveliest. The festivities start soon after breakfast and last all day, with baseball and other games in the morning, a gala get-together dinner at noon, and a program in the afternoon, to which all friends of Arden Shore are invited. Admiral Ellis will speak at 3 o'clock, and tea will be served afterwards out under the trees.

The Married Men's club, made up of Arden Shore boys now married, are assisting Miss Anna Belle Ferrer, executive head of the summer and winter camps, and her staff, with arrangements for Homecoming Day. In addition to printing the invitations, they will supervise the morning games; set the dinner and tea tables, welcome the afternoon visitors, and help with the parking of cars.

Mrs. Robert B. Gregory is honorary president of the Arden Shore board; Mrs. Herbert S. Nock is president; and the village chairman include: Miss Julianna Holmes, Chicago; Mrs. Henry G. Poucher, Evanston; Mrs. Roy R. Marquardt, Wilmette; Mrs. Julius A. Petersen, Kenilworth; Mrs. Clark L. Keator, Winnetka; Mrs. Reed G. Landis, Glencoe; Mrs. W. Ross Marvin, Ravinia; Mrs. S. H. L. F. College Spring Music Festival to Be Held May 21-28

The second annual spring music festival of Lake Forest college will take place May 21 to 28, it has just been announced. The festival will be conducted by Louis Palmer, director of music at Lake Forest college, and will feature particularly two ultra-modern works, a French opera, "Le Pauvre Matelot" by Darius Milhaud, and Arthur Honegger's dramatic oratorio, "King David."

All concerts are open to the public, but due to limited seating space, admission to the indoor concerts will be by ticket only. Tickets may be obtained without charge by applying to the college.

The festival will open the evening of May 21, Lake Forest's New Student's day, when the Rockford high school choir will present a program of choral music in the Reid Memorial chapel.

On Sunday evening, May 22, Miss Geraldine Anderson of Lake Forest, the campus "swing queen" will reign over the annual inter-fraternity-sorority sing contest, which will be held out of doors on the north campus. Each Greek letter group will present a musical program, and the sorority and fraternity presenting the programs judged the best will be awarded the "sing trophies" presented annually by Pi Alpha Chi, honorary musical organization of the college.

Monday evening will be opera night. Milhaud's one-act opera "Le Pauvre Matelot" will be presented at the Durand auditorium as the high light of a program which will include also various scenes from several other operas. An old-fashioned band concert will be given out of doors on the north campus, Wednesday evening, May 25, by the college band, and on Friday evening, as a climax to the week's activities, the Lake Forest college chorus will present Arthur Honegger's dramatic oratorio, "King David."

When streets are closed for repairs... is business terrible!

15 years without one traffic interruption for repairs... read Granite City's experience with CONCRETE

When streets are rough and unsightly, retail trade suffers—and suffers still more when streets are blocked off for repairs. Concrete stays in good condition without frequent repairs and tinkering.

Take the typical case of Granite City, Illinois. M. E. Kirkpatrick, the mayor, states:

"We favor concrete pavement for our streets because our experience shows it has long life. Once laid, there is no repair cost for the surface for many years. Niedringhaus Avenue, our main business street, was paved with concrete in 1922. This street carries from 3,000 to 5,000 cars a day. There has been no interruption of traffic since the street was completed."

Concrete costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-carrying capacity and costs far less to maintain. It is clean, safe, comfortable, and long lived.

Urge your city officials to pave with concrete and be sure of continuing good business on your street.
