BULLARD-HOLMES' ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Ever since they moved to California three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Sellar Bullard have maintained a strong link with Highland Park, their former home. In November they took a house in Highland Park so their first daughter, Carol, could be feted and married in the town in which she was born. Now there is to be an even stronger tie. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bullard announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Clara Jean, to John Russell Holmes, the son of their long-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Holmes of N. Sheridan road.

The announcement was made at a tea in the Bullards' Santa Barbara home, Far Horizons. Young Mr. Holmes was present at the party, for he now is in business in Santa Barbara, and the young couple will live there after their marriage.

Both Miss Bullard and Mr. Holmes, whose mothers have known each other since childhood, grew up in Highland Park. She attended the Roycemore School, the Santa Barbara School for Girls and then went East for a year at Sarah Lawrence. Since her parents settled permanently in California she has been active in the Santa Barbara Junior League and the Spinners Club.

Both Miss Bullard's sisters are married. Barbara Bullard now is Mrs. Charles A. Storke II and Carol became the bride of Richard Hubbard Howland six months ago in the Highland Park Trinity Episcopal church. The Howlands have been living in Athens, Greece, where Mr. Howland is a fellow of the Agora Excavations, since their marriage. Since both Miss Bullard and her fiancé were in their wedding party the Howlands hope to be back in the United States to attend this year's ceremony. They plan to come in late fall or winter.

One of six children, Mr. Holmes prepared for college at the Lake Forest Academy and then attended the University of Michigan. He is the third of the Holmes' four sons—the oldest one, Samuel Jr., is graduating this June from the University of Chicago Law School.

Because young Mr. Holmes has been in the West only several months he will be too occupied with business to bring his fiancée here for a visit soon. She was here last summer on her return from a trip around the world with her mother and elder sister and then again for a month in November.

Every precaution is taken and every aseptic, sterilizing and preventive measure is employed for the safety of each individual patient, but the Doctor must, in many cases, take a chance on personal safety.

Friends and loved ones may fear and avoid contagion, but the Doctor must carry on - and does as a matter of routine duty.
