

DEERFIELD LOCALS

Dramatics

The July meeting of the Stagers was held Tuesday evening. Arrangements were completed for a new grand border. It was decided that there would be classes in stagecraft, enveloping the following subjects: playwriting, play reading, play construction, old and new forms of dramatizing, dramatic coaching, make-up, construction of scenery, stage lighting, new and old. Classes will commence on Tuesday, August 2, under the general direction of Graeme Young. About 80 people attended the July meeting and witnessed the play, "Stepmother," directed by Geneva Ritter (Mrs. Frederick C. Ritter).

Dramatic Coach

Graeme Young returned last week from the Milwaukee Festival and State Pageant. His services for next year's festival, also that of the fair, are already contracted for. Mr. Young will leave today for the University of Wisconsin at Madison to discuss the installation of modern stage devices for the University's new theatre.

Union Services

The three Protestant churches in Deerfield will hold their fourth annual summer union services. The dates of these three services are the last two Sundays in August, the 21st and the 28th, and the first Sunday in September. Definite schedule of where the services will be held and which minister will occupy the pulpit will be announced later.
