Fox and Grey Squirrel Season
Open in Northern Illinois
September 1st to December 1st
by Jim Mooney

There are other facts to know about squirrels than that they eat acorns and nuts.

The common belief is that we have red squirrels in this region; no red squirrels have been killed or observed in northern Illinois for many years. The true name for the large brown squirrel found in this vicinity is Fox squirrel—it is nearly twice the size of the true red squirrel which is found in Northern Wisconsin.

Occasionally a black squirrel is reported seen. This is unusual but is nothing more than a color phase. Albino squirrels are also to be seen but less often than the black phase. I have seen a black fox squirrel near Ridge road west of Highland Park and have had reports of a black (melanistic) grey squirrel in the vicinity of Vine avenue.

We have reports from early naturalists that the numbers of grey squirrels were so great about 1850 that they would emigrate by hundreds. One such trek is recorded from southern Wisconsin in 1852 by Dr. Hoy. A queer feature of these travels is that the route was most always in a southwestern direction. We have no proof of why this was the way they decided to travel. Swarming the Mississippi was of small detail to these migrating squirrels. Perhaps they do travel now but we have such small numbers that the migration goes on unnoticed.

I am sure many of our North Shore residents do not welcome our present host of squirrels since they have adapted their diet to bulbs and their nests to attics.

Flying squirrels and ground squirrels make four species to be found in our area. We will have to tell about the latter two kinds of squirrels some other time.

Hunters, remember that the daily limit is ten and the possession limit is twenty. If you get out near the Fox river more of the larger Fox squirrels will be found. Most of the Des Plaines river valley woods is posted and you will find it difficult to find a good place to hunt. There are some good tracts of oak woods near McHenry and Woodstock.

The season opens September first and closes the last day of November.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 14.

The Golden Text was, "Hear me speedily, O Lord. . . cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee" (Psalms 143, 7, 8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will bless the Lord at all times; his praise shall continually be in my mouth. My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad. O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Psalms 34: 1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man coexists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image" (p. 120).
